25 MILLION AID IS TURNED DOWN BY RED CROSS

President and Congress Are Divided.

Notice that presidential veto awaits abuse to pay war veterans' bonuses immediately in cash was served on congress yesterday when Secretary Mellon condemned plan at senate hearing and predicted a treasury deficit of 115 millions this fiscal year. Story on page 4.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—The controversy between the administration and congress over direct federal relief became a knock-down and drag out fight today, with the Red Cross refusing to accept the $25,000,000 relief appropriation, even if it is passed, and with Democratic leaders shouting in answer that they will filibuster unless adequate relief is granted.

President Hoover took no part, leaving John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross, to voice the administration's opposition to a grant of public funds to buy food, clothing, and relief supplies for the drought sufferers and the unemployed.

The senators, on the other hand, took an active part, crying their denunciations of the President and the Red Cross on the senate floor, threatening to hold up the supply bills, and to find an agency of their own to distribute relief if the Red Cross will not act.

Ed Needed, Payne Announces.

Mr. Payne made known the attitude of the Red Cross in testifying before a house subcommittee, in which the $25,000,000 senate amendment to the interior department appropriation bill is pending. He followed the announcement with further testimony, later reported by superintendents in the field, all calculated to show that the Red Cross is meeting the present need in the drought area and that no government help will be necessary.

Mr. Payne told the subcommittee that the Red Cross central committee had met yesterday and adopted two resolutions:

One, "That it is the sense of the central committee that the Red Cross is in a position adequately to complete the task it has undertaken in the drought stricken areas, and it hereby assumes the responsibility of completing said task without public appropriations."

The other, "That it is the sense of the central committee that the Red Cross cannot accept the administration of the funds for general relief purposes, as provided for under the terms of the bill which has passed the senate and is now pending in the house."

Backed by President?

That the President was in favor of this action and that his continued opposition to federal relief appropriations was the motive behind it no one seemed to doubt—least of all the senators who rallied in answer as soon as Mr. Payne's pronouncement reached them.

"I ask that senators with a spark of humanity, with sympathy for human suffering, repudiate this policy, that no action whatever shall be taken in this time of national distress," Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], minority leader, shouted. "If the Red Cross refuses to respond to the impulses that move the heart of the ordinary man, then congress will find its own agency to distribute relief. Everybody knows that the $10,000,000 the Red Cross seeks to raise by voluntary subscription is not enough.

"Relief legislation is more important than general appropriation bills. Let the congress measure up to its responsibility and do its duty. It has been said that the existence of the Red Cross is at stake and is dependent on the defeat of this $25,000,000 appropriation. I say that the action of the Red Cross in refusing to distribute this amount has done more to discredit that great organization than any other thing that could happen."

McKellar Talks Open Fight.

Senator Robinson's heels, came Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.]. "Let the congress be damned," he cried belligerently "We are going to relieve the American people. But if we are to succeed we've got to fight. We shall make our fight on the appropriation bills and see that no appropriation bill passes until relief is granted. We'll put relief amendments on all appropriation bills and keep them there until something is done."

Senators T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] and Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] joined

OUST CITY HALL WASTERS, LYLE PLEA TO VOTERS

Judge Opens Fire on Reckless Spending.

City Pay Stopped

The city yesterday stopped payment of its employes for lack of cash. The county, school board, sanitary district and park boards are also facing a new financial crisis unless they can sell 1931 tax anticipation warrants. Details on page 2.

BY PARKE BROWN.

In a mayoralty campaign address last night Judge Lyle warned Chicago that nothing except the wiping out of the present administration and its policies can save the city from a breakdown of the municipal government's functions.

"The situation is desperate," he said, "and it is hopeless unless our citizenship as a whole promptly and efficiently demands an immediate readjustment to make expenditures conform to our lessened income. Waste of resources by political expenditures is nothing short of criminal disregard for the welfare of Chicago's citizens."

The speech was delivered before the South Shore Chamber of Commerce at the Shoreland hotel. It was considered of great political interest because it was considered a beginning on an indictment of the Thompson administration to which other counts will be added during the campaign.

Recalls Financial Dilemma.

"Last year," said Judge Lyle, "the people of Chicago had the humiliating experience of having to go to a group of public spirited private citizens to secure cash and credit sufficient to maintain the public service, pay salaries of police and firemen, pay teachers' salaries, and general educational expenses.

"Instead of public affairs being managed by public officials, the financial management of local government was taken over by a committee of private citizens to prevent a complete breakdown of all local administration.

"The underlying, fundamental basis for this situation was the waste and extravagance of local government. In spite of a constantly mounting burden of taxation, expenditures were allowed to increase at an even faster rate, so that the vicious circle of higher taxes and yet higher pay roll extravagances was permanently established.

The Plea to Springfield.

"Finally the citizens' group which had to pull Chicago and the board of education out of a hopeless financial muddle was forced to go to Springfield for legislation to bring permanent relief, and, with little or no help from local public officials, the needed measures were passed.

"This humiliating experience apparently has brought no wisdom to those responsible for the management of Chicago's affairs. Instead of economy, retrenchment and a parting off of wasteful extravagances, we are treated to the spectacle of the usual padding of pay rolls and the expending of appropriations beyond any necessity, solely to furnish jobs with which to carry primary elections.

"Men by the hundreds, perhaps by the thousands, are being put upon the city pay roll without the smallest need for their services.

"I deliberately warn the people of Chicago that the financial structure of their government is again being so undermined by reckless expenditure and disregard of all requirements of correct financial management that we are rapidly approaching another breakdown."

Brundage Replies to Albert.

Another shot from the Lyle camp against its opposition came from Edward J. Brundage, former attorney general. It was directed at Ald. Arthur F. Albert, who recently charged Brundage with the offense of Thompsonism. Brundage opened by saying that he was for Judge Lyle because of Lyle's ability to clean up both crime and Thompson, and then told why he was not for Albert.

"Less than nine months ago," he said, "I supported Arthur Albert for county commissioner and he expressed himself as being very grateful. I did not support him for president of the board because I felt he was temperamentally unfit for a great executive position. I am not for him for mayor for the same reason.

"He knows perfectly well that I am not a Thompson adherent. There are few voters in Chicago who have not at some time voted for Thompson. The last time I saw him in public was when he was on the same plat-

AVALANCHES KILL 21 SOLDIERS OF ITALIAN COMPANY

[Copyright: 1931: by the New York Times.]

ROME, Jan. 28.—Three officers, two noncommissioned officers, and 16 soldiers were found dead under avalanches in the mountains above Bardonecchia during the winter maneuvers in the worst Alpine tragedy in recent years. They formed part of a group of 30 men of the Fenestrelle battalion of Alpine troops, and were caught by a blizzard on their return from a difficult ascent to the summit of Mount Galambra. Only nine survivors, more dead than alive through hunger and exposure, made their way back to their base in the Rechemmoles valley.

Three companies of the Fenestrelle battalion were to have participated in the ascent. Shortly after their departure, however, a blizzard forced two of the companies to return to the base.

The third company reached the summit and started back. About half way down an avalanche buried several of their number. Soon another avalanche of greater proportions fell upon them. The next day a third avalanche killed all but nine of the survivors of the previous avalanches.

FATHER AND SON SEARED BY ACID; HUNT DAUGHTER

Hulit Herrel, 73 years old, and his son, Columbus, 47 years old, 419 North Peoria street, were taken to the county hospital late last night, their faces seared with acid alleged to have been poured on them while they slept by Mrs. Alice Johnson, 31 years old, daughter of Hulit. The son is expected to lose the sight of both eyes. Mrs. Matilda Herrel, 70 years old, the mother, said her son and daughter quarreled earlier in the evening. After they had gone to bed, according to the mother, Alice threw the acid on her brother and some of it spattered over on the father, who was sleeping with him. Alice fled and the police were hunting her early this morning.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—The cataract operation performed on Booth Tarkington at the Wilmer clinic, Johns Hopkins hospital, was a complete success and the noted author will see normally once mor at least out of his left eye. This was the statement made by Mrs. Tarkington today after she had returned from the hospital and had talked with her husband's physician.

Pair Differ on Mayoralty; Divorce Court to Decide

Politics was blamed yesterday for the break in the marital life of John and Carrie Buds, 5122 South Spaulding avenue. Their wedded life had been happy until dissension over the mayoralty campaign arose. Then, according to a divorce bill filed yesterday, a series of heated disputes resulted in Buds blacking his wife's eyes. Attorney Victor Frohlich filed the divorce plea in the Superior court.

Brokaw and Wife Robbed in N. Y. Home

New York, Jan. 28.—[Special.]—A well dressed youth presented a revolver instead of a calling card to John Darby, a butler in the 5th avenue residence of Howard C. Brokaw, the financier, when he called there last night. He suggested that the butler usher him into Mr. Brokaw's presence without the formality of announcing him.

"I promise that neither you nor Mr. Brokaw will be harmed if you do so," the caller said.

Mr. and Mrs. Brokaw were engaged in a game of backgammon in the library when Darby and the polite visitor appeared.

"All I want is money and I want it badly," the stranger said. "Give it to me and no harm will come to you."

Gets Wallet and Watch.

Mr. Brokaw drew a wallet containing $175 and handed it to the bandit. A valuable watch followed, but the youth paid no attention to the necklace, rings, and bracelets worn by Mrs. Brokaw.

Apologizing for his "intrusion," the stranger directed Mr. and Mrs. Brokaw and the butler to step into a bathroom adjoining the library. Once inside Mr. Brokaw slammed and locked the door and gave warning to servants in the kitchen by means of the house phone.

The servants summoned the police, but the stranger had gone before they arrived.

Caught Robbing Baseball Man.

Two bandits were caught holding up the home of Col. Tillinghast L. Huston, former half owner of the New York Yankees.

They had taken jewelry valued at $5,000 from Mrs. Bernice Leonard, Col. Huston's daughter, when a policeman entered the house.

Anne McDermott, Mrs. Leonard's maid, answered a ring at the basement door, and when she opened the grilled gate three men forced their way into the vestibule. One of the men was assigned to watch the maid and the other two went to the third floor, where they held up Mrs. Leonard.

Gunmen Near Police Station Open Fire on Pedestrian

Around the corner from the East Chicago avenue police station three men in a sedan opened fire with revolvers last night at Michael Ryan, 2 East Pearson street, as he was in front of a furniture store at 819 North Clark street. All the bullets missed him, but shattered a plate glass window of the store. The police heard the shooting and a squad hurried over. The sedan, said to bear a New York license plate, had disappeared.

The police released Ryan after questioning him.

"U" GRADUATE TRIES A HOLDUP AND IS CAUGHT

Edward L. Smeig, 30 years old, who says he is a university educated mechanical engineer, and Lowell Stetler, 26 years old, an unemployed marble setter, were captured last evening after they tried to hold up the Kaufman & Co. hat store at 4 West Van Buren street. Their only weapon was a tear gas gun of the fountain pen type. The robbery was frustrated by Leon Wilson, 6721 Paxton avenue, the store manager, when he pretended there was a policeman on guard on a balcony after Stetler had pointed the gas gun at him.

Smeig, who lives at 2159 Warren boulevard, was seized as he was running from the store. He directed the police to 2146 Warren boulevard, where Stetler was captured as he was driving away from his home.

Smeig said he was a graduate of the University of Detroit and also attended Purdue and the University of Michigan. He pleaded that he was penniless, but this was disputed by his wife, who said that she also was a university graduate. Stetler's wife was found destitute and she was given money for food by policemen.

Sergt. Tom Clancy of the Central police said Smeig was connected with the Winslow Boiler and Engineering company, 844 Rush street.

SPARK IGNITES GIANT POWDER A MILE DOWN

Lone Survivor Tells How Mates Died.

Linton, Ind., Jan. 29., 1 A. M.—[Special.]—Twenty-one men are believed to have been killed in the explosion of 600 pounds of blasting powder late yesterday in the Little Betty mine, four miles from here. Eight bodies have been recovered. Two men were brought out alive, but one succumbed to his injuries a few hours later.

Early this morning volunteer rescue crews, composed of American Legionnaires of Greene and Sullivan counties, were digging their way more than a mile below the surface to the section where the twelve remaining victims are expected to be found. They were imprisoned by debris, and mine officials believe they were either crushed to death or killed by poison gases.

Fully 2,000 persons kept vigil throughout the night around the tipple. Among them were the wives of the victims, all of whom were married and had families.

Many Carry Babies.

Most of the women carried babies in their arms. They stood about in groups, some moaning, some dry eyed and silent. Automobiles blocked the highways for miles.

The death list as compiled by company officials early today follows:

John McPhail, Linton.
Gurthel Jackson, Linton.
William Boswell, Linton.
Herman Brown, Linton.
Charles Center, Linton.
Herbert Butler, Linton.
Jess Templeton, Linton.
Ralph Enochs, Pleasantville.
James Mitchell, Pleasantville.
Homer Robinson, Pleasantville.
Ben Snyder, Pleasantville.
Otis Hale, Pleasantville.
Andy Winterbotham, Sullivan.
Martin Donie, Sullivan.
Julian Wellington, Sullivan.
William Brown, Dugger.
Lee Hoveditch, Dugger.
Hugh Cross, Dugger.
Ernest Bedwell, Dugger.
Joe Wallace, Dugger.
Earl Bedwell, Linton.

The rescuers, working in relays, under the direction of P. L. Donie, mine superintendent and vice president of the Little Betty company, were expected to reach the trapped men by daylight.

A tragic incident occurred when Mr. Donie encountered the body of his brother, Martin.

Ambulances mobilized from nearby towns are waiting at the tipple to transport the bodies to Linton.

Stray Spark Causes Tragedy.

The explosion occurred at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the hour when the day shift of miners quits work. A few had come to the surface, but the majority still were in the galleries preparing to make their way to the shaft. The theory is that a spark from a trolley motor, used to convey the cars of coal, caused the gases from black damp to ignite, and that these in turn exploded 600 pounds of blasting powder.

Don Burris, the lone survivor, told of his experience from his hospital bed:

"I was ahead of the gang, coming out. All of a sudden the lights flickered and then came the explosion. I was knocked down, but I got up, grabbed the trolley wire, and followed it to the shaft. I called to the gang to follow me but nobody answered.

Faints, but Is Saved.

"I walked for miles, it seemed, and then everything went black, and I remembered no more till I woke up in this bed. I guess I was nearer the head of the entry and fresh air than the others. That's why I wasn't killed. I'm afraid the other boys are gone."

Burris, whose job is that of trip rider on a conveyor, was about a mile back from the shaft opening when the explosion occurred. Physicians at the hospital here said he collapsed finally because of being overcome by gas. He and Bedwell were found about two hours after by the rescuers. Bedwell died later.

Lyle H. Dayhoff, president of the Little Betty company, whose home is at 546 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, was in Chicago when news of the disaster reached him. He boarded the Dixie Flyer of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad at 10:30 last night, after making arrangements

Dry Navy Digs Among 40,000 Cod for Liquor

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 28.—[Special.]—The schooner Good Luck and about 40,000 badly frayed codfish were hunting a new master here this afternoon, for Capt. John Bendixen had announced his disgust with a life on the briny deep. Capt. John hoisted a "For Sale" sign and blamed all his troubles on the United States coast guard patrol's assumption that schooners are something to drink out of and that cod hunting is a "rum" business at its best.

Here's what happened to the Good Luck when the little smack came toddling into port after an innocent day of playing tag with a school of cod. First Uncle Sam's coast guard captured her and then the industrious agents searched her for evidences of violation of the noble experiment.

From Stem to Stern.

These days, when the prohibition fellows search a ship they search her. They searched the Good Luck for thirty hours, according to Capt. John, upstairs, downstairs, and in the skipper's cabin. The cargo of cod grew whiskers and still the search continued. The crew were held prisoner on the ship for twenty-four hours, during which all they had to eat was one egg apiece, and finally the searchers began boring. That was when Capt. John began to get mad.

They were searching for liquor, but they did not find any.

There was a hook in a new moon in the sky Monday night when patrol boat CG-213, commanded by Boatswain's Mate O. E. Carlsen, slid alongside the Good Luck and ordered her to stand by for inspection.

They Wallow in Fish.

Two guardsmen came aboard and glared into the stony eyes of thousands of well iced codfish. They poked around in the cargo of fish for a spell and then ordered the Good Luck to Staten island for a proper search.

Capt. John by this time was fed up on the coast guard, and flatly refused to go any place. He only wanted to go to Fulton market and get rid of his codfish, which were beginning to assert themselves. So the coast guard manned the schooner and took the cargo of fish to Staten island.

The crew were notified they were federal prisoners and confined to the ship. Capt. Bendixen said he tried to go ashore and telephone and that the cook tried to go ashore and buy some grub, but that each was waved back by a pistol in the hand of a United States guardsman!

Real Search Starts.

It was at Staten island on Tuesday that the search was begun in earnest. Twelve searchers arrived from the offices of Deputy Surveyor John McGill, who himself has been known to search ships after cryptic dreams and who coined the slogan, "It takes a heap of searching before I'll leave a ship alone."

Parts of the deck were torn up, the skipper said, and the partitions were opened between the hot engine rooms and the ice chambers, with disastrous results to the codfish. Capt. Bendixen says the searchers drilled holes in all sorts of places in their hunt for liquor and greatly damaged his ship.

Mr. McGill denied that his men had bored for liquor. Nevertheless, the holes are there and apparently not for drainage purposes.

The Last Straw.

Yesterday afternoon the searching squad left smelling codfishy but without liquor. Today fresh coast guardsmen appeared, prepared to start boring for booze. Two photographers and a reporter joined them and they left. Then Capt. John hoisted his "for sale" sign.

The sacred codfish of the schooner Good Luck were thawing rapidly tonight and Capt. John had passed the melting point. There was no indication of what the United States government would do about the damage to Capt. John's vessel.

FLU DOUBLES IN REPORTS TO U. S. HEALTH SERVICE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—(AP)—A rapid spread of influenza was reported by the public health service today, with a total of 7,275 cases now as compared with 3,867 a week ago.

The public health service estimates the disease is about five times as prevalent as shown in the report, since several states do not require influenza reporting and others have only the statistics furnished by physicians.

States showing the heaviest increase were: Massachusetts, 114 cases now as compared with 17 a week ago; Connecticut, 140 now and 42 a week ago; Illinois, 263 and 41; Maryland, 1,226 and 113; West Virginia, 139 and 33; North Carolina, 177 and 112; South Carolina, 1,968 and 1,078; Tennessee, 187 and 162; Arkansas, 209 and 101; Texas, 102 and 35.

In New York City the report was 1,140 cases as compared with 1,005 a week ago. New York state does not require reporting.

for a special stop at Sullivan, 25 miles from the mine. He was expected to arrive here about 4 a. m.

Second Big Mine Disaster.

The disaster is one of the most serious in the history of Greene county mining. The number of dead was exceeded in the explosion of the City mine at Sullivan in the county of that name Feb. 20, 1925, when 51 men were killed.

Officials of the Little Betty pointed out that had yesterday's explosion occurred ten minutes earlier 110 men would have been trapped.

3 Killed in Michigan Mine.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Three shaft employés of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company were killed instantly today when struck by a descending elevator at the 5,200 foot level of the copper mine.

The dead are Sylvester Vertin, 25; Alphonse Reiffert, 25, and Roy Piccard, 30. All were employed as timber men.

HUSBAND, WIFE ARE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

James J. Casey, 61 years old, a construction engineer, and his wife, Mary, 54 years old, 216 South 4th avenue, Maywood, were seriously injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding, driven by their daughter, Alice, 20 years old, struck another automobile at Prescott and White avenues in Lyons. Miss Casey and William C. Janke, 35 years old, 4227 North Kildare avenue, driver of the other car, were given first aid at the Oak Park hospital. Casey was said to have suffered a fracture of the skull and his wife a fracture of the right leg. Both are at the Oak Park hospital.

With no deaths reported in Cook county yesterday the county's motor toll for the year remained at 97.

Frank Lawrence, 1648 Merrimac avenue, said to have been the driver of an automobile which crashed into a Chicago, Aurora and Elgin train near Oak Park on Jan. 9, causing the deaths of three passengers in the auto, was recommended held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter by a coroner's jury. Lawrence refused to testify when summoned before the jury, but he was identified as the driver of the car by witnesses of the accident.

REVIEWERS QUIZ BANKS IN PLAN TO RAISE TAXES

Representatives of Cook county's 293 banks appeared before the board of review yesterday in reply to summons that they show cause why the 1929 personal property assessments against the banks should not be increased. After being told to leave their names and addresses the representatives were dismissed without being told what was to be done about the assessments.

Charles V. Barrett, chairman of the board, instructed the representatives to call to the attention of the board in writing and not later than today any special circumstances affecting their assessments.

The reviewers had announced that they believed the bank assessments should be increased because savings accounts and the general banking business had swelled noticeably during the last year. To this, H. C. Hausman, representing the Illinois Bankers' association, replied that the banks are the only institutions in the country that are not making money.

U. S. DRYS RAID 8 DRUG STORES AND ARREST 10

Eight drug stores in different parts of the city were raided late yesterday by prohibition agents who carried search warrants charging illegal sales of whisky and alcohol. Ten prisoners were taken. The names of the prisoners and the localities of the stores are:

Max Forden, 1500 Van Buren street; Thomas Vacalos, 523 South Halsted street; Lillian V. Tulley, 1362 Belmont avenue; Edmund J. Rusicka, 549 Madison street, Oak Park; Miska Leon and Philip Horwitz, 2101 Roosevelt road; Charles Green, 927 Loomis street; Anton Chiaramonte and Anthony Indovina, 2600 West Walton street, and Marco Adrogna, 601 Division street.

Small quantities of whisky or alcohol were found in all the drug stores except two, the raiders said.

Union Depot Employe Gets Probation in Holdup Hoax

Hobart Smith, 24 years old, 513 West 66th street, former ticket agent at the Union station, who confessed faking a holdup during which he took $10,000 from the station vault, was placed on probation yesterday by Judge Frank M. Padden in the Felony court. Restitution was made to the station and no objection was made to probation.

CITY STOPS PAY; NEW FINANCIAL CRISIS SIGHTED

Other Governments Feel Lack of Ready Cash.

A new crisis in the financial affairs of the city, county, school and park boards and the sanitary district loomed yesterday as ready cash reserves with which to meet pay rolls and bills neared depletion. Taking stock of their funds, public officials found that the ability of the local governments to function soon will depend on the sale of 1931 tax anticipation warrants. The 1931 taxes are not due until Oct. 1, 1932.

The city suspended the payment of salaries yesterday. Officials of the other tax expending bodies, with the exception of the school board, said that they would be able to operate only until the middle of February without the sale of warrants. Members of the school board authorized the sale of $12,500,000 in bonds for their working cash fund. This, they said, will carry them into April without borrowing against future tax collections.

Gloomy Outlook for Warrants.

The outlook for the sale of 1931 tax warrants was viewed with pessimism in some circles in view of the inferred warning from the Strawn citizens' committee that the banks might not buy the warrants unless there is a reorganization in the tax assessing machinery. The pessimism was increased by the announcement of some of the members of the board of assessors that they will fight any effort in the legislature to abolish their positions.

Unless the warrants are sold, officials said, the credit troubles of the local governments will be as serious as those of last year, when the citizens' committee raised $75,000,000 with which to buy the 1930 warrants. The only other chance of relief may come late this year when the 1930 taxes, which are due on Dec. 1, begin coming in in sufficient amount to retire the 1930 warrants and permit the reimbursement to the working cash funds of loans made last year.

The working cash funds were established through the legislation obtained by the citizens' committee. They are intended eventually to place the governments on a cash basis by building up reserves through a special tax rate.

City Pay Rolls Held Up.

City Controller Peterson made the announcement that the city can meet no more pay rolls until Feb. 10 or thereabouts. He found cash in the corporate fund had reached a level between $300,000 and $400,000. The largest pay rolls which are thus held up are those of the police and fire departments, totaling $1,000,000 and due on Feb. 1.

In its session yesterday the city council fixed its next meeting for Feb. 9, at which time the tax levy ordinance will be passed and action taken to release $3,341,000 from the working cash fund. By that time collection of miscellaneous license fees will have raised the available cash to $500,000, giving the city approximately $3,800,000 with which to pay employés for the first two weeks in February. After that pay rolls will be met if tax warrants are sold.

Market Poor, Peterson Says.

"The market for city securities, including tax warrants, is very poor at the present time," said Controller Peterson. "If some means could be devised to get during February the $4,000,000 back compensation due from the Illinois Bell Telephone company the city would have another month in which to negotiate the sale of warrants."

Even if the city can find a purchaser for its warrants, its financial troubles will not be over, officials said. A second period of shortage will come, they said, after the city has used all of its borrowing power in 1931 warrants, including the borrowing from the working cash fund, and is waiting for the incoming 1930 taxes, late in the fall, to replenish the working cash fund and permit further borrowing.

The board of education, in order to meet a pay roll of $2,200,000 on Feb. 5 for its teachers and civil service employés, resorted yesterday to an extralegal transfer of that amount from its building fund to the educational account, in which there was only $10,000. For salaries due between Feb. 5 and April the board will rely on the sale of its $12,500,000 working cash fund bonds.

"We can see our way clear until April through the sale of those bonds," said Lewis E. Myers, president of the board. "After that, however, the board will be in chaotic financial straits unless we can sell our tax warrants. We would not be in this embarrassing position had the tax collectors of previous years done their duty in the collection of taxes."

The County Situation.

The county, according to Michael J. O'Connor, assistant chief deputy controller, has been operating since Dec. 1 on money advanced by County Treasurer McDonough. O'Connor said that there still is $3,000,000 in the county's working cash fund and $1,000,000 of undistributed collections with which the county can meet pay rolls until Feb. 12. After that, he said, tax anticipation warrants will have to be sold.

Although the county has been unable to sell $800,000 worth of 1930 highway warrants, O'Connor expressed the belief that there will be no difficulty experienced in the sale of corporate warrants. This inability of the county to dispose of warrants has been experienced by the city also in trying to sell $450,000 of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium warrants for 1930.

County Bills Overdue.

Because of the lack of funds in the highway account, bills totaling more than $125,000 are awaiting payment and contractors have begun to besiege county officials to pay them. Some of the bills date back to Dec. 1.

While the county has been making what are called extra legal loans from the treasurer to meet pay rolls, the forest preserve pay rolls and expenses have been met in the same manner. Proceeds from the sale of forest preserve land acquisition bonds have been borrowed, according to J. L. Jacobs, efficiency engineer, to meet salaries and bills for materials and supplies.

Ross A. Woodhull, chairman of the finance committee of the sanitary district, did not appear as depressed as other officials over the outlook. He said that the district's problem of raising money is not as great as that of the school board and city.

"We have enough to keep us running until Feb. 15," he said. "Then we may have to sell some 1931 warrants. I don't know how well they will sell, but our previous sales have been better than those of the city. We operate on a cash basis and would not have to sell any warrants at all if the tax collectors had done their duty."

Trustee Woodhull reported also that a bill is in preparation for presentation to the legislature which will give the district authority to sell its own tax warrants to its bond fund surpluses as the park boards now do. He said it would mean a saving in the payment of interest on outstanding warrants.

Park Boards Feel Pinch.

The pinch in ready cash is being felt among the park boards also, their officials said. Controller E. L. Mitchell of the Lincoln park board said he is having difficulty in scraping together $75,000 to meet a pay roll due next Tuesday. Efforts to sell tax warrants have failed, he said.

George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the south park board, said that a pay roll of $300,000 due on Feb. 1 will be met, but after that the board may have to rely on the sale of warrants.

An ordinance was delivered to the city council yesterday by Corporation Counsel Ettelson proposing to resubmit to a referendum an act approved by the legislature in 1915 under which the 21 park boards in the city can be consolidated in the city government. The measure was referred to the committee on efficiency, economy and rehabilitation for study.

Mr. Ettelson pointed out that the same measure was defeated on referendum fourteen years ago, and some of the aldermen said they believed that the act would be approved by the voters now in the interest of economy.

The city's 1931 budget, covering all municipal activities, including those of the school board, totaling $276,776,451, became law yesterday at the meeting of the council without the signature of Thompson. He is expected to sign today a few minor amendments adopted at the meeting. The school board budget totaled $101,418,461 and the city budget $175,357,810.

Suit Hits Board of Review.

Charging that the board of review has "given no consideration nor has had no hearing upon complaints filed by owners of real estate in the city except in a few rare cases," a petition for a writ of mandamus was filed in the Circuit court to compel the board to reconvene. The petition was filed by the law firm of Cowen & Becker on behalf of Emmet Balch who was identified as a taxpayer with an objection pending before the county court on his assessments.

Judge Attacks Reckless Spending of Officials.

form with Senator Deneen and Roy O. West.

"Ald. Albert's introduction to politics was in the formation of the Thompson organization of the old 22d ward, the nucleus of which was Albert and Titus Haffa.

"Haffa became the leader and Albert his first assistant. In 1921, with the strength of the Thompson organization behind him, Haffa nominated and elected Albert to the city council. His campaign card at that time bore the portraits of Thompson and Albert, with the printing: 'Are you for Mayor Thompson? Then vote for Arthur Albert.'"

Brundage attached to his statement photographs of both sides of the card. The reverse side contained a long list of terse appeals, the first of which was "FIGHT for America first." Another was "FIGHT for 5c fare!"

"This affiliation with the Thompson organization," went on the Brundage statement, "was continued by Albert down to 1926, when he and Haffa quarreled over who should be alderman. Haffa decided he controlled the organization. Albert's anti-Thompsonism then had its birth."

Albert Assails Ettelson.

Ald. Albert issued a statement during the day attacking Corporation Counsel Ettelson for his former connections with the Chicago Tunnel company. Politicians describe this as a "private fight."

Last night Albert spoke in Judge Lyle's home ward, the Seventeenth. Before an audience in the Odd Fellows hall at 6318 Yale avenue he assailed both Lyle and Thompson.

The principal objective in the present campaign, he said, is to get rid of Thompson and the big tax bills. The tax rate has risen from $1.12 to $1.37, he said, because of the shortcomings of the present administration.

Albert assailed Harding, Barrett, Brundage, Snow, and Robertson as the "hungry five," who deserted Thompson to jump on the Lyle bandwogan in midcampaign. He closed with an attack on Judge Lyle's campaign against public enemies. "It is ridiculous to contend," Albert declared, "that 22 'bums' could influence the election of a mayor."

Weideling Joins Lyle Camp.

George H. Weideling, Deneen candidate for sheriff in 1928, who won the nomination but was defeated in the election, walked into Lyle headquarters and offered his services and those of a number of friends in organizing the German-American vote for Lyle. It is expected he will be a member of the Lyle German-American committee when it is organized.

Another transfer of political affection was seen in a statement by Charles Griffin, former state representative and Negro leader in the Second ward, that he had come out for Lyle and joined the Harding forces. For several years he was president of the Second Ward Deneen club under the late Edward H. Wright.

HEAR 7 PROTESTS OF PETITIONS IN ALDERMANIC RACE

Protests against the nominating petitions of seven candidates in the aldermanic campaign were heard by the board of election commissioners yesterday and taken under advisement.

The candidates against whose petitions the objections were heard are M. W. Rolnick, First ward; Louis Benjamin Anderson and Augustus L. Williams, Second; Victor C. Frankiewicz and Stanley M. Lewandowski, Thirteenth; John Feldman, Twenty-ninth; and George W. Robinson, Thirty-sixth.

Objections were based on charges of irregularities in the petitions, including the use of signatures of nonresident and nonregistered voters, the signing of several names by one person, and either too many or too few signers. In some cases the circulators of the petitions had failed to acknowledge the signatures before a notary public.

In protesting the petition of Louis Benjamin Anderson, George W. Blackwell, appearing for Ald. L. B. Anderson, said that no Louis Benjamin Anderson resided at 3116 South Michigan, the address given as that of the candidate, and that the petition had been filed to embarrass the candidacy of the alderman.

The board will continue its hearings today.

Council Bars Wolfe from Letting Bridge Design Contract

The city council by a unanimous vote yesterday refused to allow Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, to let contracts for the preparation of designs for two new bridges. The aldermen also barred Wolfe from letting out bridge repair work by contract, insisting in both cases that he use city employés and labor.

A distrust of Wolfe arising from the disclosures in the investigation of the contract for the north approach to the Wabash avenue bridge was evidenced by the aldermen. The caisson work on the Wabash avenue job was let by Wolfe for $10 a cubic foot at a certain depth, while the price offered by the low bidder, whose bid was rejected, was $2.

"We shouldn't let the same department head [Wolfe] who made that mistake use discretionary powers in deciding whether the design and repair work should be done by city employés or under contract by an outside firm," shouted Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d].

The specification "by city labor" is set up in the bridge repair bond fund and "to be designed by city forces" is in the bond appropriations for the new State and South Halsted bridges. In the finance committee Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th] succeeded in inserting wording that would let Wolfe hand out contracts, but this was overthrown in the council through the efforts of Ald. Guy Guernsey [45th] and John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the committee.

"The city has always designed its own bridges but, because word came to the committee that there was danger of a change in policy, we had the wording 'by city forces' inserted," said Ald. Clark. "It would be unfair to city employés and throttle competition if contracts were let to outside firms for the designs.

"We have alloted Wolfe ten additional employés in the bridge design division, giving him a total of nearly sixty."

Ald. Charles S. Eaton [5th] called attention to the trouble the city had several years ago when it let all the street repair work on the north side by contract, while Ald. Albert said that bridge designs prepared by contract might preclude all but a few contractors from bidding on the bridge construction.

In the adoption of the Guernsey amendments by roll call those opposed were caught napping and the vote was unanimous, although a motion to prevent Guernsey's amendments from being considered nearly carried when the vote was 19 to 21.

"The moral is," said Ald. Clark, "the council is sleeping, don't wake it up."

The robbery was committed by three men and a girl who gained admittance to the apartment by asking to use the telephone.

A robber entered the offices of the Thomas Seyster company, landscape architects at 644 North Michigan avenue, late yesterday afternoon, robbed Russell B. Johnson, an official, of $10 and all his clothing, then tied him to a chair with wire torn from a telephone. After untying the wire, Johnson telephoned to his wife, who hurried to the office with clothing. The Johnsons live at 244 East Pearson street.

Chief of Police Harry McInnis of La Grange, capturing a robber suspect yesterday by beating him to the draw as he loitered in front of a store, learned after communicating with the Chicago detective bureau that the man was Samuel Orlando, 1115 Milton avenue, who has a long police record.

A gunman yesterday obtained $150 when he held up Fred Burger, clerk in a drug store at 3201 West North avenue.

Albert Sutton, clerk, gave up $10 yesterday when a gunman walked into a Thompson restaurant at 214 South Wabash avenue.

Tom Yee Choy, proprietor, was bound and gagged yesterday by a gunman who robbed the safe of the Mandarin Garden restaurant, 4003 Broadway, of $700.

Karl Axelson, 130 North Lotus avenue, held up yesterday by a pair of motor bandits as he left his home for work, was permitted to keep $1 of the $2 he was carrying when he protested that the money was for his luncheon and car fare.

Two gunmen robbed three gasoline filling stations last night and took $65. Those robbed are Anthony Alberling, 7210 Touhy avenue, robbed of $30; Edwin Garreau, owner of an oil station at 7559 Belmont avenue, robbed of $15, and George Meyer, attendant at an oil station at 4001 Ainslie street, robbed of $20.

Charles J. Rowe, 1461 Catalpa avenue, owner of a drug store at 2961 North Central avenue, was robbed of $185 by two men who threatened him with revolvers last night.

RANDOLPH TELLS OF PROGRESS IN WAR ON CRIME

Lists Other Works of A. of C.

Organization of the "Secret Six" committee for the prevention and punishment of crime and the inauguration of a five year program for investigating and combating the underworld and fighting corruption in public office were submitted yesterday by Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, as the chief accomplishments of his organization during the last year.

Col. Randolph's report was made at the annual meeting of the association at the Hotel La Salle. Business men who will make up Col. Randolph's cabinet during the coming year attended the meeting.

Lists Other Accomplishments.

Among the other accomplishments listed by Col. Randolph was the creation of the Chicago regional port commission to work for the development of proper local port facilities in the metropolitan district and to lay the groundwork for the increased maritime commerce that may be expected with the completion of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf waterway.

Col. Randolph also spoke of the successful culmination of the litigation before the interstate commerce commission assuring Chicago and the central states equitable rates on export and import freight through seaports on the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico; the coöperation with federal authorities in the completion of the decennial census, the restimulation of local consumer confidence through the organization's "buy now" campaign, and the efforts of the association to counteract unfavorable publicity for the city.

E. N. Hurley Is Speaker.

Edward N. Hurley, president of the American Manufacturers' Export association and former head of the United States shipping board, told the association members that jobs for many thousands of American workers could be provided by a slight yearly reduction of the debts of 16 European nations to the United States.

"Until our country takes the initiative by some constructive international move, it is questionable when the world will pull out of its economic rut," Mr. Hurley said. The speaker argued that this plan would stimulate the buying power of the 16 nations and thus aid in bringing back better times. He also suggested that such a plan should be conditional upon a corresponding reduction in armaments.

"If we were to defer the payments of the world war foreign debt for two years," he said, "the immediate psychological effect would be most helpful to our country, the 16 nations and the world at large. At the end of the two years, when the deferred cumulative payments would be due, they could be distributed over the subsequent 10 years and be paid in 10 installments with the regular annual payments."

BATTLE REDS IN GARY; 2 WOMEN, 3 MEN JAILED

Two young women and three men were arrested yesterday when communists tried to stage an unemployment parade in Gary in defiance of police orders. More than 300 Reds congregated at the intersection of 4th street and Broadway with the intention of marching on the city hall and protesting to Mayor R. O. Johnson. After a fight with police, in which nightsticks were used, the crowd was dispersed.

PEDDLE CAMPUS RUM WITH CODE; THREE ARRESTED

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—A code system, through which they are alleged by Sheriff Jacob B. Andres of Washtenaw county to have engaged in an extensive liquor business on the campus of the University of Michigan, led to the arrest early today of three men, two of them university students. They are in jail.

The prisoners are Orie E. Brown of Detroit, freshman law student; Robert W. Custer of Marion, Ind., senior in the school of education, and his roommate, Allen Thompson, also of Marion, who came to Ann Arbor to study, but never enrolled.

According to Sheriff Andres, the arrests followed discovery of a printed set of instructions, apparently intended for customers, directing:

"Call 1227 South University and ask for Bobby. Say you want to make a date with Ethyl. Then ask: 'Can I see you in a minute?' 'Can I see you in a second and a half?' or 'Can I see you in two seconds?'"

"Minute," investigators say, meant a quart of whisky, "second and a half" meant a pint of alcohol, and "two seconds" meant a quart of alcohol.

TELLS OF AIMS TO AID JUSTICE BY "ENEMY BILL"

Lawyer Stresses Need of Curb on Gangs.

The "public enemy bill," which was introduced in the lower house of the legislature on Tuesday by Representative Michael Igoe, Democratic minority leader, is aimed to cover all the present loopholes in the criminal code through which gunmen, hoodlums, and racketeers usually escape justice. Attorney James G. Condon, co-author of the bill with Judge Harry Fisher, yesterday made public a memorandum pointing out the benefit to the courts, the prosecutors, and the police in the contemplated law.

Not only does the bill cover the carrying of concealed weapons, but it is broad enough to include such crimes as jury tampering, efforts to cause a miscarriage of justice by approaching court attachés with suggestions of influencing the course of justice, and bail bond jumpers.

Urges Change in Law.

"Present criminal conditions, especially in the larger cities of this state, have made it almost imperative that there should be enacted some additional legislation in order to cope with the altered and more complicated crime situation, said Attorney Condon.

The attorney pointed out that the banking laws and the corporation laws have been changed to meet the present day conditions, but that the criminal code has not kept pace.

"The modern gangster with his intricate organization of gunmen, spies and uncover men, and having an elaborate system of underground contacts with the political and governmental machinery of the state and cities is, in the true and accepted sense of the term, a 'public enemy,'" said Attorney Condon. "As long ago as 63 B. C. Cicero, in his famous addresses to the Roman senate and the populace, so designated Cataline, who, by an organized association with thieves, cutthroats and lowest elements of the republic, was gravely threatening the peace and orderly government of Rome."

Druggan Freed on Bond.

Terry Druggan, the only public enemy brought into the courts yesterday, was freed on a supersedeas bond of the Appellate court. The beer baron was given his liberty pending a review of the sentence for contempt of court imposed by Judge John H. Lyle in the Felony court.

JAILED, MOTHER WINS A HOME FOR HERSELF AND SON

Mrs. Gloria De Hart, 28 years old, who arranged her own arrest several days ago in order to obtain food and shelter in jail for her 2½ year old son, Gordon, has found what promises to be a permanent home for herself and the baby on a little farm outside the city.

As a result of the newspaper accounts of Mrs. De Hart's plight, a man who said he was Theodore Dixon of Lombard appeared at the Woodlawn police station and arranged with the police and officials of the Chicago Woman's Shelter to take the woman and her child home with him.

"We have only a small farm," Dixon told the police, "but there is a big house on it and Mrs. Dixon and I get lonesome at times. We think we are going to enjoy having little Gordon romping about the place."

Mrs. De Hart said she was deserted by her husband when the child was born and had walked the streets two days without food before she took a cab ride without funds in order to have herself arrested.

Diamond Mine Owner Wills $1,500,000 to Charity

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Nearly $1,500,000 will be given to charity under the will of Sir Otto Beit, South African diamond mine owner, which was filed for probate today. He died Dec. 7. Sir Otto left $18,921,710. The widow will receive an annual income of $250,000. A number of pictures, including works by Jan Steen, Gainsborough, and Reynolds, are given to the National gallery.

MOVIE ACTRESS SHOUTS DENIAL OF LOVE THEFT

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Edwina Booth, blonde screen actress, shouted denials today of an illicit love affair with Duncan Renaldo, film actor.

Answering questions in a deposition, the actress denied charges the actor had spent nights at her Hollywood home or she had made love to him on a liner returning from Africa.

The questions were asked by Paul Shapiro, attorney for Renaldo's wife, Mrs. Susette Renaldo, who has sued the actress for $50,000 damages for alleged alienation of her husband's affections. Mrs. Renaldo charged the love theft occurred while Renaldo and the actress were in Africa filming the picture "Trader Horn."

The blonde actress emphatically denied she ever asked Renaldo to divorce his wife so she could marry him. Instead, Miss Booth testified, she urged Renaldo to return to his wife.

Several times during the questioning Miss Booth became excited, almost screaming her answers.

Free Policeman Charged with Injuring Prisoner

Patrolman Hugh Holahan, 64 years old, lockup keeper at the Lawndale police station, who was accused of gouging out the eye of William Wall, 25 years old, 7648 South Sangamon street, while he was a prisoner in the station, was discharged yesterday on a charge of mayhem by Judge Frank M. Padden in the Felony court. Judge Padden said there was not sufficient evidence to prosecute the criminal case and suggested that Wall take civil action against the policeman for damages.

VETO AWAITS SCHEME TO PAY VETERANS CASH

Mellon Condemns It and Predicts Big Deficit.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Administration opposition stiffened today against the rapidly developing sentiment for immediate cash payment of bonus certificates to world war veterans.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, appearing before the senate finance committee, presented a sweeping denunciation of the proposal. He predicted a deficit of 375 million dollars in the present fiscal year and warned that "this is no time for the reckless and unwarranted abuse of the public credit."

Mr. Mellon and Undersecretary of the Treasury Mills, who accompanied him before the committee, asserted that the proposed bond issue of three billion four hundred million dollars for the retirement of the 20 year bonus certificates would not only disturb government finances, but would prolong the business depression.

Tackles House Today.

Mr. Mellon and Mr. Mills will appear tomorrow before the house ways and means committee, which, like the senate finance committee, has yielded to increasing demands for consideration of proposals to pay war veterans cash as a means of relieving distress due to unemployment.

The Mellon declaration was accepted as notice that the Hoover administration will stand firmly against any scheme of this nature which will involve a large immediate expenditure. President Hoover, it is understood, is prepared to veto such a bill, just as President Coolidge vetoed the original soldiers' bonus bill, also on Secretary Mellon's recommendation.

House Follows Mellon.

Representative John Q. Tillson [Rep., Conn.], majority leader of the house, expressed his agreement with the view of Secretary Mellon. The expectation is that the house ways and means committee will stand by the administration and if it reports any bill at all it will merely liberalize present provisions under which veterans may borrow money on their bonus certificates.

Such a bill could be put through the house under a suspension of the rules, which means without opportunity for amendment, but in the senate amendments objectionable to the administration almost certainly would be added.

With the radicals holding the balance of power on the senate finance committee, that body is likely to report a bill in line with the demands of the veterans. Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], a member of the committee, told the senate today that a majority of the committee would favor immediate cash payment of the the full value of the bonus certificates. His statement was made after Secretary Mellon had given his testimony.

Mellon Opposition Emphatic.

Secretary Mellon's opposition to immediate payment of the bonus was emphatic on numerous counts.

"There is no economic merit in the proposal," he said. "From the point of view of stimulating business, it is a plan for unmitigated inflation, with the disastrous results of which the world is only too familiar.

"On the investment side it means the exhaustion of the security markets and the creation of a serious impediment to business recovery, both here and abroad. To the unemployed it spells further retardation of the day when normal employment will be available.

"From the point of view of the United States treasury it represents complete disorganization of an orderly program for the refunding and retirement of our war debt and a tremendous increase in interest charges.

Foresees a Tax Increase.

"To the taxpayer it means the destruction of all hope of the lightening of the load of taxation for years to come and a probable increase in taxes in the very near future.

"How the veterans and their families, who after all are an inseparable part of the American people, and whose prosperity and welfare are inextricably bound up with the prosperity and welfare of all, can hope to find relief and improvement in their condition from the universal and destructive consequences which these measures would entail is beyond comprehension."

In predicting a deficit of 375 million dollars in the current fiscal year ending June 30, next, Secretary Mellon said he was apprehensive that income tax receipts in March and June might not come up to present estimates. He said that the net reduction in the public debt during the fiscal year might not exceed $65,000,000. He implied by this that the issuance of short term securities to absorb the deficit would offset the statutory sinking fund retirements, which are in excess of 400 millions.

"Three billion four hundred million dollars is an immense sum," said Mr. Mellon. "It is almost one-fourth of our outstanding interest bearing debt.

"I can say without qualification that the treasury department could not sell three billion 400 million dollars' worth of bonds at the present time except on terms which it would be very hard to justify, and without complete disorganization of the government and other security markets, with the most serious consequences, not only to the public credit, but to our entire economic structure."

Secretary Mellon said that the sale of this amount of bonds would immediately depreciate materially the price of all United States bonds and that the effect would be equivalent to a capital levy on holders of these securities.

LEGION GROUP ASKS FULL PAYMENT THIS YEAR OF VETS' BONUS

A resolution adopted by the Seventh district, American Legion, urging legislation in favor of full payment in 1931 of the adjusted compensation certificates issued to veterans of the World war on Jan. 1, 1925, has been mailed to all Illinois members of congress.

Announcement of the action was made yesterday by Harry A. Sewell, adjutant of the district, which consists of fourteen Illinois posts along the north shore. Its action is similar to that recently taken by the Illinois department of the Legion. So far responses have been received from twelve congressmen, all of whom have expressed themselves in favor of full payment.

"You may rest assured that I am in favor of the legislation mentioned," Congressman Richard Yates [Rep.] replied. "I shall do everything within my power to support it."

Congressman Oscar De Priest [Rep.] expressed himself in favor of any legislation bringing good to the veterans. "This subject is having the wide attention of every member of congress," he said, "and it is planned to adopt some measure in the interest of all concerned."

Congressman Henry T. Rainey [Dem.] supported the resolution and pointed out that when the adjusted compensation was first considered it was referred to his committee. At that time, he said, he had stood in favor of full cash payment.

Other congressmen heard from, all of whom are reported to have expressed themselves as favoring full cash payment, are: A. J. Sabath [Dem.], James T. Igoe [Dem.], Leonard W. Schuetz [Dem.], Carl R. Chindblom [Rep.], John T. Buckbee [Rep.], B. M. Chiperfield [Rep.] William E. Hull [Rep.], and William W. Arnold [Dem.].

25 MILLION FUND IS TURNED DOWN BY RED CROSS

Blame Hoover; Threat of Filibuster.

leaped to their usual places with the avenging column.

"Mr. Payne's statement," said Senator Caraway, "is proof of what many realized—that the Red Cross is no longer an independent instrumentality and has become only a political screen behind which the President is hiding in order to shirk responsibility. It would be so much more manly of him if, when he wants to be oppressive to humanity, to do it in his own name instead of dragging the Red Cross down."

Denounced by Copeland.

"If the Red Cross fails to accept the administration of this fund it commits a crime against humanity," interjected Senator Copeland.

"The Red Cross ought to rid itself of this control by men willing to create an alibi for the President of the United States," Senator Caraway said.

Senator Robinson recalled "Citizen Hoover's" appeal for 120 millions for the relief of European sufferers as just and proper because private resources had been depleted by the war and a relief fund could not be raised by voluntary subscription.

"Yet," said Senator Robinson, "the country was much better prepared to contribute than it is now, with the resources of local communities almost exhausted. The attitude of the President, formerly considered the world's greatest leader in relief movements, is incomprehensible even to his most intimate friends. He was willing to take money from the public treasury for the benefit of foreigners, but stands against relief for his own people."

Payne Reports to House.

Before the house subcommittee Mr. Payne presented a picture of the work the Red Cross is doing. He stated that up to yesterday, in addition to donations of seed during the fall, assistance had been given to 659,000 individuals in 658 counties of nineteen states. He explained that relief was being directly administered through local chapters under trained workers from headquarters and that the local chapter determines the amount of relief necessary.

Through Jan. 27, said Mr. Payne, the Red Cross had expended $328,162 for the seed program and $2,531,832 for food and other items, including donated supplies, or a total of $2,860,994. Of this, local organizations had contributed $602,569; the remaining $2,258,424 had come from national funds. With local resources all but exhausted, he said, an even larger percentage of relief must come from the national organization.

Of $5,000,000 set aside for drought relief, he said, $2,741,575 remains, and he declared this amount, with the $10,000,000 fund now being raised, would meet future needs. Contributions toward the $10,000,000 fund now total $3,874,996.

Blames Talk of U. S. Relief.

Mr. Payne blamed the public's natural reaction to talk of government relief for the slowness of contributions. The normal rate for such a drive, he said, would be $1,000,000 a day. But workers would no longer volunteer, now demanding pay, and this increases the overhead. He declared that the Red Cross could not efficiently distribute relief in the cities, as the relief measure contemplates. Hundreds of agencies, he explained, would have to be created.

"The Red Cross is a voluntary organization," Mr. Payne declared. "In fifty years it has never asked or received anything directly from the government. The nearest was when we were given war department and navy supplies during the 1927 floods and once when we received an appropriation to meet a deficiency. All I ask is that we be let alone to do this job. If we don't, then kick us."

Arkansas Assistant Explains.

Albert Evans, relief assistant in Arkansas, declared that no authenticated case of starvation exists, although there had been many hungry. He said Red Cross relief consisted of between 108 and 128 pounds of food per month per family of four at a monthly cost of about $2 per person. Such a ration, he claimed, equaled or surpassed the rations given by landlords to tenant farmers.

"Then at least," remarked Representative Frank Murphy [Rep., O.], "this agitation will expose the standard of living maintained by the planters."

SENATE FOOD PRICE INVESTIGATION WILL ALSO INCLUDE MEAT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—(AP)—The senate today broadened the scope of its food price inquiry to include meat as well as bread and sugar.

It also received a proposal from Senator Steiwer [Rep., Ore.] for appointment of a separate commission to investigate causes and remedies of fluctuations of all commodity and securities values.

The resolution of Senator Carey [Rep., Wyo.], directing inquiry into the meat and meat products prices was approved without opposition.

GANG VENGEANCE SEEN IN KILLING OF RACKETEER

Police last night were working on a theory of gangland vengeance in their investigation of the killing early yesterday of Morris Berkowitz, 28 years old, hoodlum and petty racketeer, who lived in attic rooms at 1013 South Ashland avenue with Anna Polaski, 22 years old, a taxi dancer.

Berkowitz, arrested many times on minor charges, was shot to death by gunmen in a passing car as he stood at the corner of Roosevelt road and Ashland avenue. The Polaski woman said he had not been home for two nights and that she knew of no reason for the killing.

Berkowitz's brother, Herman, was murdered in much the same fashion some years ago after he and Morris had fought a revolver battle with one Pudgy Stamm, a silk thief.

KING ZOG FOUND SUFFERING FROM STOMACH ILLNESS

VIENNA, Jan. 28.—(AP)—An affection of the throat and stomach was said today to be the ailment which brought King Zog of Albania here for consultation with Viennese specialists.

The king, traveling incognito on a special train loaned him by the Italian government, arrived here this morning and was seen by Dr. Julius Richard Bauer, stomach specialist. X-ray photographs are to be taken.

Dr. Bauer and Dr. Guido Holzknecht, noted radiologist, both of whom have treated the royal patient at Tirana, were understood to be planning a consultation with other specialists to determine the most efficacious treatment to be used.

ENDS LIFE WITH GAS.

Fred Sackrider, 74 years old, 3021 Wilson avenue, retired, committed suicide with gas yesterday.

ALBANIAN QUAKE KILLS 4; WRECKS 200 BUILDINGS

KORITZA, Albania, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Four persons were known to have been killed and others were injured in the area surrounding this city by a series of earth shocks which began at 7 o'clock this morning and continued for several minutes. Two hundred buildings, including churches, were destroyed, and communications were disrupted.

Relief work began immediately, with troops and civil authorities aiding the homeless villagers. Many were forced to sleep without shelter, however. Two airplanes were dispatched from here to survey the stricken territory.

Felt in Upper Silesia.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—A violent earthquake shock was felt this morning at Hindenburg, in Upper Silesia, and through the Kattowitz district.

EVEN THE GREAT HERMANN NEVER WROUGHT SUCH MAGIC!

"Hermann the Great"—the magician who entertained the crowned heads of Europe—who astounded East Indian and Chinese masters of legerdemain—never performed the simple feat of exchanging old pleasures for new—something that you can do easily!

Old pleasures—a set of books you've read—a collection of rare stamps—a comfortable chair, for which you no longer have room—a motor boat you've docked long ago—clothing you've outgrown—anything from which the most enjoyment for you has been taken.

New pleasures—things you'd like to have now—a motion picture camera—an automobile—a radio—redecorated rooms—dental services—an airplane, anything else that would satisfy your craving for some new pleasure, or fill a need.

You can exchange your old pleasures for the new ones, just as hundreds of other persons have done, through the Barter & Exchange column in the Tribune! Try it!

DICTATORSHIP IN SPAIN MUST END, KING IS NOTIFIED

Statesmen Tell Him It's Either That or Revolt.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Jan. 28.—The resignation of Premier Damaso Berenguer, foiled in his mission to restore the old sham parliamentary rule to Spain, tonight seemed inevitable. A year to a day after he threw Primo de Rivera overboard to save himself, King Alfonso was informed by Spain's elder statesmen that his year's maneuvering through Gen. Berenguer has been fruitless and that his project to hold what is termed here a crooked election to restore a cynical semblance to a constitutional government is unthinkable; in other words, that he is no longer master in Spain.

KING ALFONSO.

Refuse to Recognize Election.

The king was informed by a man who has become in recent years his personal nemesis, while still not a republican. This man is former Premier Sanchez Guerra, once head of the Conservative party, and a group of powerful allies, including Miltiades Alvarez, speaker of the cortes until it was dissolved in 1923; Francisco Bergamin, Burgos Mazo, former Conservative leader, and Miguel Villanueva, former Liberal, all men who have preserved some semblance of integrity during the dictatorship.

After a final conference today they announced that they would not participate in the elections Gen. Berenguer has been planning for March 1. To make sure the king would not misunderstand their meaning, they threatened him with a revolution if he persists in shunning what they consider to be the only possible solution—a constituent assembly honestly elected, in which the people of Spain will decide what form of government they want, while his Bourbon majesty, shorn of his prerogative, takes a vacation.

Text of Note.

Their note, drafted with great care during three days of parleys, reads as follows:

"A notorious aggravation in the political situation brings us together again. We maintain our demands for a constituent cortes, as expressed in a previous note.

"We add thereto today that we consider this to be the only solution, and that if it is not accepted, we cannot consider ourselves liable for the maintenance of law and order. If a constituent cortes is convoked now, order will be maintained during its sitting, no matter what circumstances arise, and the evil hovering over Spain and the menace of revolution will be averted.

"Such an assembly will have sufficient merit and prestige to restore peace and assure order, liberty and justice without violence. Circumstances being what they are, it is our duty to abstain from the elections as announced, since with the republicans and socialists not represented, we would form a left wing in parliament, and since we are conservatives, this would be a false and dangerous situation."

It is not improbable that the government will fall on Feb. 8, when the decree calling for the elections is to be presented to the king. Alfonso is expected to refuse to sign it, thus forcing the government to resign.

MYRTLE AND ED HINT PEACE IN FARO SWINDLE

Believe Suit Will Not Be Filed.

While the controversy between Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, former collector of internal revenue, and Edward R. Litsinger, victims in the $50,000 faro swindle at Springfield last week, remained dormant yesterday, it was indicated that no legal redress will ever be sought.

Mrs. Blackidge, according to friends, has stated that she intends to seek peace and quiet and, at least for the present, will authorize no lawsuit against Litsinger, her former friend, who accused her of complicity in the swindle plot and who threatened various forms of prosecution. This phase of the incident also quieted down.

Attorney David D. Stansbury, who was retained by Mrs. Blackidge last Sunday, said he had been informed of a desire on Mrs. Blackidge's part to let the case stand for a while, but he said there was still a possibility of filing suit in the future. Litsinger declined to comment on the case.

State's Attorneys Swanson of Cook county and Fullenwider of Sangamon county will confer Saturday on the question of venue with respect to prosecuting the three card sharps, one of whom has been named as Roy Burgess, alias Browder, if they are ever apprehended.

CLARA AND DAISY BOTH NAMED IN SUIT OVER CHECK

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Clara Bow, "It" girl of the screen, and Daisy De Boe, her blonde erstwhile secretary, were named joint defendants today in a $400 suit filed by the Beverly Hills National bank.

Miss De Boe is in the county jail awaiting sentence next Monday on one count of grand theft from Miss Bow.

Cash and jewels valued at $3,000, which Miss De Boe proved were her own during her trial, were attached when the suit was filed.

The bank alleged Miss De Boe wrote a check for $400 on Miss Bow's special account before she left the actress' employ, and that payment on the check was stopped.

Income Tax Liens Placed Against 4 Movie Stars

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Federal income tax liens were imposed today against the property of four motion picture stars covering the following sums of alleged unpaid taxes: Lupe Velez, $952; Gary Cooper, $590; Jack Mulhall, $290; Bert Woolsey, $44.

Talk to Heroes

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 28.—(AP)—After a busy day of golf and receptions ashore, the prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, were cheered on their "salesman's trip" to South America tonight by a crowd which saw them leave on the steamer Oropesa for Havana where they are due on Saturday. Their next stop will be Jamaica.

Arriving at this British possession for a fleeting stay this morning, the heir to the British throne played a game of golf on the Mid-Ocean links at Tuckerstown. Later he attended a reception at which he shook hands with 600 other guests and inspected the Guard of Honor of world war veterans. The princes spoke to many of the men who were wearing decorations for valor.

The Oropesa reached the island from Spain this morning and anchored off the naval dockyard. The princes had risen early after a somewhat stormy voyage and were greeted by a smiling crowd as they landed at the Tuckerstown dock. Both of the brothers wore light gray flannel suits, blue shirts, sport shoes and gray hats.

At the golf links the prince of Wales played against E. H. Trimmingham. In the exercise of royal prerogative no score was announced, but Trimmingham said they were evenly matched and the prince enjoyed himself greatly.

THE YELLOW KID TALKS FAST AND SO WALKS FREE

Joseph [Yellow Kid] Weil, con man, turned on his best oratory yesterday before Judge Frank M. Padden of the Felony court and the spectators, who had crowded into the room to see the man who has been credited with using his persuasive powers of speech to talk wealthy persons out of fortunes.

Weil's speech was effective. The judge ruled that he and his pal, Fred Buckminister, should be turned loose because no one appeared to prosecute.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast asked that Weil and Buckminster be kept in jail and the cases continued so that a suspected victim from New York might come to Chicago and view the two prisoners to see whether they were the men who talked him out of $140,000 in Reno, Nev. The Yellow Kid, however, outtalked the prosecutor.

"If organized hypocrisy can exist in this republic then justice has reverted to insanity," said Weil as he pounded the table to emphasize his words.

"Let any man in this country come forth and accuse me. No man can say I have done wrong since I left Leavenworth March 1 of last year. I want to go straight. I am not a hypocrite."

SLAYER OF RUM SKIPPER DRUNK, WITNESS SAYS

Accuses Coast Guard Bos'n at Inquiry.

New York, Jan. 28.—[Special.]—The entire crew of the captured Canadian rum runner Josephine K testified today before the coast guard board of inquiry investigating the killing of her master, Capt. William P. Cluett. One swore that Carl Schmidt, the chief boatswain's mate commanding the C. G. 145 was drunk when he came aboard.

Two others averred that while Schmidt seemed sober when he boarded their vessel after firing eight 1 pound shells, one of which tore through the pilot house of the Josephine, killing the skipper at the wheel, he did not remain so long. They declared that he spent two hours in the forecastle helping himself freely to the ship's supply of ale and rye whisky.

Skipper's Kin Accuser.

Lewis Selig, an able seaman of the Canadian vessel and a brother-in-law of Capt. Cluett, was the one witness who said that Schmidt was drunk when he boarded the Josephine from the C. G. 143 at the end of the chase. The coast guardsman had "red eyes and a red face" and he was "good and intoxicated," Selig asserted. Afterwards, the witness, who admitted he was ill disposed toward his captor, asserted he saw Schmidt "drink six bottles of ale and two drinks of rye." He was drinking himself before and after the shooting, he said.

Schmidt, recalled later in the day, denied all these accusations.

Others Contradict Mate.

Three members of the crew of the Josephine K, including Frank Tibbo, a seaman; Merlin Conrad, engineer, and George Randall, cook, admitted that they had observed nothing in the coast guardsman's behavior to indicate that he was intoxicated. Nor had they seen him imbibe in the forecastle, they said.

The Josephine K was loaded today with pig iron equal in weight to the cargo of liquor she was carrying when overhauled. She will make a test run tomorrow to determine her real speed. The C. G. 145 probably will put to sea at the same time as the Josephine to take part in a reenactment of the chase, so that members of the board can determine what chance Schmidt would have had of overtaking her if he had not brought her up short with the shot that killed Capt. Cluett.

New Shelter for Men Opened; Loesch Is Speaker

A new emergency shelter for men, accommodating 500, was opened yesterday at 222 West Monroe street by the Chicago Christian Industrial league. The dedicatory address was made by Frank J. Loesch, a director, and president of the Chicago Crime commission. The inspection of the shelter, which will be in operation until May 1, was made by the officers of the league, of which D. S. McWilliams is president, and the board of directors. The new shelter is being operated in coöperation with Gov. Emerson's commission on unemployment and relief.

AL SMITH GIVES HIS SYMPATHIES TO PRESIDENT

Says Liquor Report Means Nothing.

New York, Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Ex-Gov. Alfred E. Smith gave the Advertising club a talk at luncheon today. It had the advertising men shouting and smacking their hands together before it was half over.

Al, in tip top form, touched on the Wickeraham report, the current depression, the woes of the Republican party, and the plight [as he saw it] of President Hoover.

About the business depression, Mr. Smith said he couldn't see anything to drive people to despair, and no matter how trying conditions have been and still are, the American people have in their pockets a patent recipe for prosperity—the cash. If they will cheer up and get to buying what they need once more depression won't last long.

"I think I can see the sunlight of American prosperity dawning just ahead," he said. "This depression is partly psychological, as we all know; a good deal of it, as a matter of fact. Once we throw off the frame of mind we are in depression will disappear. Some people talk and act as if we had never had anything like it before. We have had a good deal worse. Bread lines are nothing new in New York, though they seem more depressing nowadays than before."

The Wickersham Report.

Mr. Smith took up the Wickersham report, analyzed it, and offered his opinion that every single member of the commission had indicated that something should be done. His analysis showed that seven members of the commission were ready to do something now and that four, who were willing to give prohibition a further trial, clearly suggested that it hadn't worked.

"I never heard of eleven men agreeing on anything," he said, "but the eleven members of the Wickersham commission certainly agreed that prohibition was a mess and that something would have to be done. They differed principally on when and how it should be done.

"I don't know why there had to be a commission, anyway. There are plenty of facts in the archives to permit anybody to draw correct conclusions; to prove that prohibition doesn't work. They might have taken the evidence about the waiter in the senate restaurant who dropped a bottle of whisky out of his pocket and who was fired for carelessness."

"President Holding the Bag."

Mr. Smith wondered what had happened in the commission to produce the marvelous conflict between the conclusions of the body and the individual statements of so many members. He thought it must have been the desire on "somebody's" part to please everybody.

"And now," said the former governor, "the President is sitting in the White House holding the bag."

BELIEVE MISSING CHILD DROWNED.

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Authorities were convinced today that 4 year old Johnny Inskeep, who disappeared from his home yesterday, had drowned in the Olentangy river following the discovery of the child's black leather helmet floating in the water.

DROP $3,000,000 SCHOOL BUREAU, PLAN OF MYERS

Proposes Corporation to Handle Building.

A plan to eliminate from the school system the department of architecture, which is maintained at an annual cost of more than $3,000,000, and to establish in its stead a corporation controlled by the city, was presented at a meeting of the school board yesterday by President Lewis E. Myers.

LEWIS E. MYERS.

The plan, which Mr. Myers admitted was in embryo form, calls for the creation of a board of trustees—one architect, one banker, one representative of union labor, one engineer, and one business man whose salaries would be $10,000 a year each. According to the plan, the corporation would be capitalized at approximately $25,000,000 and the capital would be owned by the city.

Mayor to Pick Directors.

The mayor would have the final word as to appointments, which would be for life, to the board of the corporation. His selections would be made from a list of fifteen names, each of the following organizations contributing three: The Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Architecture, the Western Society of Engineers, the Chicago Clearing house, the Chicago building trades, and the Commercial club of Chicago.

It was explained that the corporation would act independently of the board of education in the letting of contracts and the approval of finished work. It would undertake construction and repairs upon assignment from the board which would, in turn, reimburse the corporation by monthly payments with interest after the completion of the assigned work.

In presenting his plan, Mr. Myers said, "From my experience as a member of the board of education, I see as the greatest advantage to the adoption of the plan here suggested, the complete elimination of the present architectural department, which will result in an annual saving which can be measured by the cost of this one department, which was set up in the 1931 budget as $3,040,047.

Would Issue Serial Bonds.

"To provide the funds necessary for its operation, the corporation shall have the power to issue serial bonds," Mr. Myers continued. "The payment of the principal and interest on these bonds shall be met out of payments made by the board of education. These bonds shall be tax exempt. Payments by the board to the corporation for work accomplished shall be made out of that portion of taxes collected for school buildings.

"I assume," Mr. Myers said, "that it will be said that the board of education is without authority to negotiate such an arrangement and that to do so special legislation must be enacted. But so will any measure looking to relief from the present situation which to my mind is to the largest degree due to the antiquated and no longer practicable charter of the city of Chicago."

BIG NEWSPAPERS CLASSED AS WET BY DRYS' SURVEY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—(AP)—A survey of 1,346 daily newspapers with an aggregate circulation of 32,994,609—of which 520 with a circulation of more than 21,000,000 were classed as against prohibition—was made public today by the Methodist board of temperance.

The poll classed 809 papers as for prohibition, but said their circulation aggregated only 10,488,553, or 32 per cent.

At the same time, the Methodist board made available the figures of another survey, covering 1,438 daily papers, of which 37 per cent were placed under the heading "Prohibition' not given an even break."

Board officials said not all of these were by any means "wet" papers. About 35 per cent of the total were said to be "biased" in handling prohibition news.

These same figures disclosed, also, that only 26 per cent by number of the 1,438 journals had anti-prohibition editorial policies, while 56 per cent were "dry," 5 per cent neutral, and 2 per cent carried no editorials.

CHICAGO'S BANK DEPOSITS 99½% INTACT IN 1930

Loss Set at Less Than $10,000,000.

Despite the slump of business in 1930 and the widespread rumors of failure circulated concerning banks in Chicago, bank deposits here came through the last year more than 99½ per cent intact. This statement was made yesterday in a report made public by E. N. Baty, executive secretary of the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association.

"In spite of many doleful predictions and a superfluity of rumors as to what was going to happen to the banks of Chicago, banking in the city was 99½ per cent safe," Mr. Baty reported. "A loss of less than one-half of 1 per cent, 47-100ths, to be exact, was the fire at the source of the great smoke of rumors.

"It is regretted that there was any loss, but in view of the fact that 1930 will go down in history as a year of staggering losses, we think the local banking record should be a source of general satisfaction.

Bank Deposits Increase.

"Chicago banks had intrusted to them at the beginning of 1930 the stupendous sum of $2,087,000,000," Mr. Baty stated. "Twelve months later they had $169,000,000 more. Banks with total deposits of $11,890,000 were closed during the year. Liquidating dividends were paid to depositors of these banks totaling $1,892,000, reducing the deposit liability to slightly less than $10,000,000.

"It is certain that other liquidating dividends will be paid, but without taking credit for subsequent dividends Chicagoans' bank balance came through the year 99½ per cent intact. That is a record," Mr. Baty asserted, "that bankers are grateful for, particularly so when one considers that owners of stocks, bonds, real estate, jewels, commodities, in fact virtually every other form of wealth suffered much greater losses."

Tells of Many Rumors.

Reviewing the difficulties of bankers during the last year, Mr. Baty declared that the rumor epidemic affected almost every bank in Chicago. He pointed out, however, that this activity was not confined to Chicago, but was prevalent throughout the country.

"Seldom, if ever," the secretary reported, "has banking had to contend with such a volume of half truths, untruths, and distorted statements."

Various methods were used in combating the false rumors, Mr. Baty said. Some bankers followed a policy of silence while others offered rewards for information leading to the arrest of those originating and repeating the rumors. He pointed out that an Illinois statute makes the circulation of malicious bank rumors a crime and provides both a fine and jail sentence for those found guilty.

BUTLER REPORTS TO ADAMS ON DUCE ATTACK

Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. Linked with Speech.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Officially all was quiet today on the Washington battle front in the private war between Premier Mussolini of Italy and Maj. Gen. Smedley Darlington Butler, the "fighting Quaker" of the marine corps.

But unofficially it became known that the colorful marine officer has advised Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams that it is true, as charged by the Italian ambassador, that in a recent speech he quoted a friend as saying that the duce had ordered his chauffeur to drive on without stopping after running down and killing a child.

It was his speech, reported in a Philadelphia newspaper on Jan. 20, that led to the issuance of a peremptory denial by Premier Mussolini and the filing of a protest with the state department by Nobile de Martino, the Italian ambassador. The Butler reply, delivered to the navy department today, was asked for by Secretary Adams at the request of the state department.

Vanderbilt Jr. Linked with Speech.

Another development of the day was the disclosure that Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. of New York is said to be the friend quoted by Maj. Gen. Butler as stating Premier Mussolini was a "hit and run driver." According to Butler's story, his friend had taken a two weeks' automobile trip with Premier Mussolini. It was during this tour that, according to the Butler account, the duce directed his chauffeur to drive on after a child had been run down and killed.

Secretary Adams is expected to take the Butler explanatory statement to the state department tomorrow and confer with Secretary of State Stimson on what should be done next. It is understood the state department is prepared to express regret that the speech had been made in a communication to the Italian government if satisfied that the Butler statement establishes that the marine officer criticized Premier Mussolini.

It is expected that Secretary Adams, marine corps officials, and Maj. Gen. Butler will talk over the general's Philadelphia speech within the near future. Just what steps would be taken in Maj. Gen. Butler's case is problematical.

Gen. Butler Refuses to Comment.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler concluded a talk at a banquet tonight with the remark:

"I would like to tell you more, but I have so much to answer for now."

The nhe strode rapidly from the banquet hall while his auditors were still applauding, jumped into an automobile and left.

Earlier when Gen. Butler was questioned on the address last week in which he was reported to have criticised Premier Mussolini of Italy he replied:

"I haven't a word to say. I have no comment to make whatever."

CLAIM ANOTHER MARRIAGE OF LONGLEY WIFE

Records revealing a prior marriage of Mrs. Alice Hall Longley, first wife of the late Albert W. Longley, Chicago hat manufacturer, were introduced yesterday at the hearing of the suit of George Adair Greene Longley, 54 years old, of Janesville, Wis., to share in the million dollar estate of the manufacturer. The suit is being tried before Circuit Judge Feinberg.

George Longley bases his claim on his contention that he is the son of Albert Longley and his first wife. Depositions taken from witnesses in California have stated that Longley often introduced a boy, named George, as his son. George Longley claims that he was born eighteen months prior to the marriage of his father and mother.

The records introduced yesterday by attorneys for the third wife show that Alice Hall and Charles W. Ives were married in January of 1878 and were divorced in June of the same year. A few days later Alice Hall married Albert Longley, the records show.

At 68 One Will Philosophize

David Lloyd George, who celebrated his sixty-eighth birthday on Jan. 17, was photographed while strolling about his estate at Surrey, England. The former British prime minister spent the day receiving congratulations, sampling his own apples, and philosophizing. He declared that if Germany had a real leader when the war ended she could have made far better peace terms. He said the war was won by democracy because the German autocracy failed to develop the leadership which was needed in a great crisis.

TSK! TSK! DIGNITY TAKES A SETBACK IN OLD COMMONS

MacDonald Is Called "Boneless Wonder."

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 28.—After a hectic three days' debate, in which excitement reached tense heights, the Labor government's trade disputes bill, which restores to the trade unions, among other things, the right to call general strikes, which was taken away by legislation after the 1926 general strike, passed its second reading in the house of commons tonight. The government's majority was 27, the vote being 277 to 250.

Winston Churchill, Conservative leader, treated the packed house to gorgeous entertainment in a brilliant display of wit while denouncing the bill. The house rocked with laughter as he taunted and baited the ministers unmercifully and poked fun at the Liberals for keeping in power "a government of unmatched incapacity."

Prime Minister MacDonald came in for scathing buffetings. Mr. Churchill caricatured the prime minister as the "boneless wonder of Barnum's circus." Mr. Churchill related how, as a boy, he had not been allowed to see this "boneless wonder" because his parents considered it too revolting and demoralizing a spectacle for the eye of a youth.

"I have waited nearly 50 years to see it, and now he is sitting opposite me," Mr. Churchill declared.

The house went into hysterics and Mr. MacDonald joined heartily in the uproar. The house has not laughed so much in years, and had to pull itself together in order to listen with proper decorum to more serious speakers.

NEVER TRIED ANY CASES, SANITARY LAWYERS ADMIT

Two More Tell Duties in Crowe Regime.

Two more lawyers employed by the sanitary district during the whoopee days told yesterday what they did to earn their salaries as the investigation of fifty-five of the district's former lawyers entered its third week before Circuit Judge Thomas Taylor. Judge Taylor is sitting as commissioner of the Illinois Supreme court to hear the charges of the Chicago Bar association that the lawyers accepted money without rendering maximum service.

One of the respondents questioned yesterday was Arthur Donoghue, a practicing attorney since 1897, a former assistant corporation counsel and assistant city attorney. Donoghue said that he was employed by the district from March 15, 1928, to Dec. 1, 1928, for which he was paid $3,125.

Told to Await Work.

"I received my appointment to the district's legal staff after being introduced to Timothy J. Crowe, then president of the district, by Frank Lyman, Forty-eighth ward committeeman," Donoghue said. "I was sent to Col. A. L. Brodie, chief clerk of the department, who told me there would be a lot of trial work later and in the meantime to just keep quiet."

"I looked up a couple of law matters and then read up on some information on the lake levels controversy. I spent an hour or two in the library every day for about three months and after that I went there about three times a week."

"Did you ever try any case?" the witness was asked by Attorney Willard Matheny, representing the bar association.

"No, I didn't," Donoghue replied. "But I had been given to understand that there would be work for me to do. I was willing and anxious to do it."

Ask About His Pay.

"Do you think that your pay was reasonable?" Matheny asked.

"That is for the Supreme court to decide," was the reply. "However, in view of what has happened, I think I should have asked for more money."

The other lawyer examined yesterday was Attorney Frank J. Brewbaker, who said that he was employed by the district from Sept. 15, 1927, to Nov. 15, 1928, at a salary of $4,200. Brewbaker said he obtained his job through a former alderman. His testimony follows:

"I was given a few cases to read at first. Then I was told that they would expect me to try some cases so I made a careful study of the statutes and organization of the district. I read acts of the legislature, maps, and engineering data."

"How much time did you spend on this work?" Matheny asked.

"I don't know," Brewbaker replied. "For several months I did nothing but study cases. After that I made a few investigations throughout the district. I never tried any cases, though."

Indict Maddox for Assault on McBride; High Bond Set

The grand jury yesterday went in for high bonds when it set $50,000 as the amount to be required for the release of Claude Maddox, leader of the so-called Circus gang, who was named in an indictment for assault to murder Sergt. James McBride of the Bellwood police department. Maddox is charged with trying to kill the policeman to prevent him from being one of the main witnesses against William J. [Three Fingered Jack] White in a murder case.

CLAUDE MADDOX.

In fixing the high bond on a charge which usually carries with it a bond of not more than $5,000 the grand jury supported Police Magistrate George Fitzgerald Lee of Maywood, who kept raising Maddox's bond as fast as Judge Joseph B. David of the Criminal court reduced it.

The bond of Maddox developed a controversy between the police magistrate, who at the time announced that he was going to follow the high bond policy set by Judge John H. Lyle of the felony court, and Judge David, who had issued habeas corpus proceedings.

At the time of Maddox's arrest he was taken before Magistrate Lee, who promptly set a $100,000 bond. Judge David reduced the bond, and when the case came up again the magistrate, disregarding Judge David's ruling, raised the bond back to its original figure. Judge David later reduced it again to $10,000.

Grand jury action had to be delayed for several months because of Sergt. McBride's condition. His face was nearly shot off and he has only recently been allowed to leave the hospital to appear before the grand jury.

The names of other state witnesses against White were kept secret by Assistant State's Attorney Harry Ditchburne and James Brown. They fear further attempts of assassination, they said.

"If we disclosed the names of our witnesses we would be compelled to have them live surrounded by armed guards such as now protect Sergt. McBride," said the prosecutors.

White is to be tried next month for the murder of Policeman Edward Pfalume of Forest Park. The murder occurred five years ago and White was once convicted, but the Supreme court reversed the decision.

HEFLIN WILL CONTEST VOTE THAT BEAT HIM

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Formal notice of a contest against the seating of Senator-Elect John H. Bankhead of Alabama was given in the senate today by Senator Heflin, who was defeated by Bankhead in the last election.

Heflin, who ran as an independent after being forced off the Democratic ticket because he bolted the candidacy of Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 election, said his petition would charge fraud, intimidation, coercion, bribery, and illegal expenditure of funds in the election. Bankhead was the regular Democratic candidate.

N. SHORE ELOPEMENT AT PARTY ENDS IN ANNULMENT PLEA

A bill to annul the marriage of Peggy Boynton, 16 years old, of Highland Park and Thomas E. Russell Jr., 18 years old, also of Highland Park, was filed yesterday on behalf of young Russell by his father, Thomas E. Russell Sr., a North Shore line conductor.

PEGGY BOYNTON.

The girl is the daughter of Donald S. Boynton, vice president of Pickands-Brown company, and a grandchild of the late Charles T. Boynton, multi-millionaire. She and Russell eloped and were married on Jan. 10 by a justice of the peace at Waukegan.

The bill sets forth as grounds for the annulment that on the marriage license Miss Boynton's age was given as 18 and Russell's as 21, and on the marriage register they signed the names of Beverly Boynton and Gerald Russell. The marriage was made on a dare following a party, the bill says, and the couple never lived together.

VOTE ON REPEAL OF DRY LAW SET FOR FEBRUARY 10

State Assembly Debates for Six Hours.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—After six solid hours of debate and oratory over prohibition the house late today advanced the O'Grady bill to repeal the Illinois prohibition act to third reading and set Tuesday, Feb. 10, as the time to put it to a vote on passage.

Liberals tonight figure that 95 votes are lined up for the repealer and others are in prospect; 77 is a majority.

The chief question of the day was how binding upon legislators is a direct mandate of the people. Liberal speakers set forth that the Democrats were for a repealer in their state platform, which binds them, while the Republicans are bound by the mandate of the two to one popular referendum, which was prompted by the Republican state convention.

They set forth that the mandate was made all the louder by the Democratic landslide, which gave James Hamilton Lewis a plurality of 744,000 on a wet platform.

Drys Question Mandate.

Speakers for the drys held that the wet and dry referendum was not binding. They said it did not get a majority of all the votes cast for President two years before, although it went through two to one wet. This was labeled by the liberals as "the same old alibi of the Anti-Saloon league."

As to what the passage of the repealer means, liberals among the Republican and Democratic lawmakers set forth that it is the employment of the same method to get prohibition off the books as was followed by the Anti-Saloon league in getting the eighteenth amendment into the constitution.

Modificationists set it down that the way to get action in congress and by the federal government is to start by states and to demonstrate sentiment of the commonwealths by expunging state enforcement laws.

Reeves Tells of Evils.

Probably the most impressive utterance came from Col. Ira L. Reeves of the Crusaders. He was prohibition director of New Jersey in 1926-'27.

"I am a Republican," he said. "I am as personally dry as any one. I belong to the same church as Bishop Jim Cannon. I have a map of Washington in my office showing the location of speakeasies. Do you realize there are 2,000 speakeasies in the capital city, head of the noble experiment, head of the army, navy, marines, and enforcement agencies? Today Washington is as wet as at any time before prohibition.

"Chicago, which had 5,000 saloons, now has 20,000 speakeasies. It is time to throw this law overboard as the colonists threw the tea into Boston harbor. We should repeal the search and seizure act because it is not being enforced. Three times the people have voted on referenda, and 90 per cent of the Republicans who voted for James Hamilton Lewis in November did so on the liquor question."

Minister Joins Debate.

The closing half hour was enlivened by a debate between the Rev. A. M. Pennewell, pastor of the Ravenswood Methodist church and Michael L. Igoe, minority leader. Dr. Pennewell, after advancing the idea that the wet and dry referendum of 1930 was no mandate because it did not poll a majority of the votes cast for President in 1928, went on to say that the reports of drinking among college students are exaggerated. He quoted friends of his on college faculties to the effect that liquor was not one of their problems.

"Don't you know about drinking among the young?" asked Mr. Igoe.

"I'd say it's not true," said Dr. Pennewell.

"Well," said Mr. Igoe, "I live in the shadows of the University of Chicago and I know there's more drinking around that university than ten years ago. Every drug store in Hyde Park is a speakeasy. And you say there is no drinking at Northwestern. Well, the day of one great game at Soldiers' field, six students from Evanston were taken drunk to one of our police stations."

Never Saw Hip Flask Drinking.

"Did you ever see a football game at the Evanston stadium, Doctor?" asked Mr. O'Grady, "and did you never see a lady or gentleman take one off the hip?"

"I never saw one," said Dr. Pennewell.

"Well, you ought to get another pair of glasses," said Mr. O'Grady. "I've see them chasing the chill on a cold football afternoon."

Swinging his arm in a semicircle, Ralph Shaw said every man in the seats of the lawmakers and every gallery spectator was a potential felon in the sight of the prohibition law. He represented the Illinois Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

"If the law were enforced every man in this room in sound of my voice would be a felon," said Mr. Shaw. "Carrying a flask across the street, intoxicating or not, makes you a felon under the five and ten law. Any other citizen who fails to report it is subject to the same penalty.

"The law cannot be enforced. It is breaking down our civilization. Unless it is repealed our present civilization will be repealed.

Doctrine of Shotgun.

"Prohibition is destroying the influence of the church, because it has discontinued teaching the doctrine of Christ and is teaching the doctrine of the shotgun."

"Don't you believe in enforcing the constitution?" asked Ralph Church of Evanston.

"Then try to enforce it," said Mr. Shaw. "Prohibition is nonenforceable because the people regard is as an unreasonable infringement upon personal matters of eating and drinking."

"Did you ever take a drink, Mr. Church?" asked Mr. O'Grady.

"No, sir, I did not," replied Mr. Church.

"Well, you ought to take one or two," rejoined O'Grady. "You'd have a better understanding of this personal liberty issue."

When E. Thiele of the Association Opposed to Prohibition read the Republican state platform plank on the wet and dry referendum, Representative A. D. Sparks of Shelbyville raised a point that the platform bound only members of congress.

Says Republicans Are Bound.

"What nonsense," said Mr. Igoe. "How could congress repeal a law in Illinois? The Republicans prompted the referendum and were bound by it, and one of their referendum suggestions dealt with the Illinois prohibition law. Doesn't that bind Republican representatives?"

Anton J. Cermak, Democratic candidate for mayor of Chicago, presented an array of figures dealing with the fruits of prohibition. Judge John H. Lyle sent a letter inclosing his recent statement on the liquor question. Mr. Cermak quoted the Wickersham report, which in fact was referred to by both wets and drys, both of whom extracted data for their argumentation. Mr. Cermak said:

"When the voters voted 2 to 1 that the Illinois prohibition law should be repealed, they issued a mandate.

"You must, as legislators, under that mandate start the wheels grinding that will bring back to our great state and the metropolis of Chicago the respect of the world and must as far as possible eliminate the germ that inoculates men and makes of them bootleggers, rum runners, bribetakers, law violators, and which breaks down respect for the laws of our state and nation.

"Strange as it may seem—and perhaps it is not so strange—a $50 bill seems to be the outstanding 'germ' that has made gangdom affluent.

"To make the situation more clear, so that even the schoolboy can understand it, a barrel of beer before prohibition cost about $5. A barrel of beer delivered by the so-called 'beer barons and gangsters' costs $55.

Meaning of $50 a Barrel.

"Take that extra $50 out of the barrel of beer and you have removed the incentive of the gangster and the law violator, and the solution of the increase in crime, poverty, insanity, murder, alcoholic deaths, and so forth has been arrived at.

"On the $50 'germ' basis this means two billion five hundred and sixty-three million two hundred thousand dollars is dangled in front of gangsters, rum runners, beer barons, and law violators as the profits that may accrue by means of violation of the prohibition laws."

Rep. Gordon W. Childers of Bloomington roused the ire of Martin B. Lohmann of Pekin by speaking of "Democrats staggering to the polls on election day."

Staggered Into Vote Dry.

"Do you know," cried Mr. Lohmann, "that when the search and seizure act was passed a Republican member staggered to his seat, supported by four men, and voted for this search and seizure law?"

"Yes," remarked Rep. John. M. Lee, "And last fall they staggered to the polls and voted for Hoover. And now we get the Lickersham report."

Mrs. George E. Brennan, on the liberal side, and Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, on the dry, represented women's organizations in the debate.

Edward T. Lee, dean of the John Marshall Law school, in his dry presentation, spoke of Omar Khayyam and Bobbie Burns, citations that brought laughter from members who remarked to themselves that Omar was hardly a dry, nor was Burns. Questioned by O'Grady, he said: "Next to newspaper men, I think lawyers were the biggest boozers."

After saying the referendum was "not a mandate, but a straw vote," Mr. Lee dragged in Abraham Lincoln, whereupon Rep. Richard J. Lyons hopped up with a protest.

"I resent the name of Abraham Lincoln being used," said Mr. Lyons, "Lincoln on his memorable trip from Springfield to Washington said: 'If the majority should not rule, who would be the judge? We should all be bound by the majority of the people; if not the minority must control. Would that be right?'"

DO-X Hops Saturday

LISBON, Portugal, Jan. 22.—(AP)—The start of the giant German flying boat DO-X on its south Atlantic flight to Brazil was postponed until 7 o'clock Saturday morning a few hours before the air liner was scheduled to take off.

Postponement of the flight, planned for tomorrow morning, was decided upon tonight at a meeting of delegates of the German ministry of transportation. Officials said they were not quite satisfied with the behavior of the twelve American motors in today's test flight, although they asserted a record had been established for heavier than air machines by carrying for the first time a weight of 55 tons.

SIX POINT RUM REFERENDUM IN INDIANA SENATE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—A proposal for a state-wide prohibition referendum was introduced in the Indiana senate this afternoon by Senator John Niblack, Indianapolis attorney. Six specific questions would be placed on the ballot as follows:

Are you in favor of retaining the present state and national laws regulating use of intoxicating liquor?

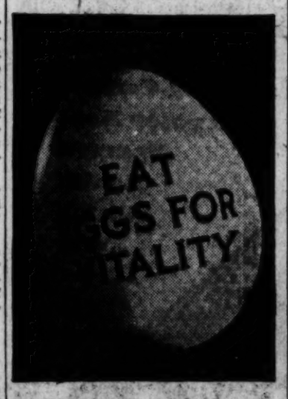
Are you in favor of modification of the present laws so that liquor may be legally purchased for drinking purposes?

Are you in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment?

Should the Indiana laws be repealed prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor?

Are you in favor of the legal return of licensed saloons?

Are you in favor of federal control of the manufacture of beer, wines, whisky, and other alcoholic drinks, and a federal government system to permit liquor dispensing?



REAPPORTIONING INQUIRY IS VOTED IN STATE SENATE

Chicago Opposition Is Beaten, 31 to 12.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—The senate had another field day on reapportionment today, passing the Barr resolution for a joint commission to study the matter, by a vote of 31 to 12, but not before some Cook county members had badgered downstaters who seek to limit Chicago's representation.

By its action the senate authorized the appointment of nine members—three from the upper chamber, three from the house, and three to be named by Gov. Emmerson—who will be allotted $10,000 to work with and who must report back by April 15.

Introduced yesterday, the measure had just been called for discussion this morning when the fireworks began. A first termer, Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago], rose to announce his astonishment that senators who took an oath not three weeks ago to support the constitution are not ready to support the mandate that the state be reapportioned and Cook county given proper representation.

"To say that we [the new senators] are amazed is putting it mildly," said Ward.

Barr Brings In Dry Law.

Senator Richard J. Barr [Rep., Joliet] rose. "I'm interested," he said, "in knowing how the gentlemen will vote on supporting the 18th amendment to the constitution."

"I'll ask you a fair question," interjected Senator Tom Courtney, the minority leader from Chicago. "What right has the governor to substitute his personal opinion for the laws of the state? He told the people of Chicago, 'I will do all in my power to bring about reapportionment.' You senators who vote against reapportionment are saying, 'We pay no attention to the constitution.' How can you expect school children to obey it?"

Senator Martin R. Carlson [Rep., Moline] attempted to justify limitation. "Every student of government," he said, "has decided that it is bad to have the center of population in control, where state reapportionment is concerned. Philadelphia, Detroit, New York, Los Angeles—all are limited."

Downstate Man Deserts.

A new downstate Democrat, Senator James O. Monroe of Collinsville, astonished the downstaters by declaring in debate that he stood for exact and lawful reapportionment.

"Are you willing to vote to give Cook county a majority?" Senator Barr asked him.

"Yes, I am," replied Senator Monroe, and when his name was called he voted against the resolution.

ON PAROLE BOARD

ALBERT B. GEORGE.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Albert B. George, Negro, Chicago, and A. V. Essington, Rockford, today were appointed to the board of pardons and paroles by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson.

George, who has served for six years as associate judge in Municipal court, Chicago, will take the place left vacant by the recent dismissal of William H. Harrison, Negro, Chicago, charged with accepting a bribe.

Essington will take the seat left vacant by the recent death of Ward E. Thompson, also of Rockford.

In 1924 Judge George, then practicing attorney in Chicago, was elected for a six year term on the Municipal bench. He was a candidate for reelection in November. A resident of Chicago for thirty-four years, he was born in Washington, D. C. He was graduated from Northwestern university law school in 1897.

Mr. Essington was indorsed by many prominent men, including Judge Edward D. Shurtleff, Winnebago county Circuit court; A. W. Carlson, chairman of the county Republican central committee, and Congressman John T. Buckbee.

SOLVE LAND ILLS, MEXICO IS TOLD BY ECONOMISTS

Move to End Radical Agrarian Laws.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28.—Mexico will never get on its feet again until the agrarian question is settled, was the decision reached by a majority of the members attending the national economic congress. This flat footed assertion was welcomed enthusiastically by 80 per cent of the members, the only objectors being standpatters sent to the congress to represent the extreme radical revolutionary element extreme radical revolutionary element.

This statement of the congress, which may be called a semi-official disowning of the chief plank of the national revolutionary party since 1917, when the agrarian legislation came into being, is the most significant political move in Mexico during the last 20 years. Little by little, the policy advocated by former Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow that guarantees be given all sections of the Mexican people, especially the landowners, if Mexico is to become stabilized is rapidly moving to the fore.

The economic congress came out flat footed also for the earliest possible wiping of the whole agrarian question off the political slate, the cessation of confiscation of lands for agrarian purposes and the payment in cash for lands taken by the government for any purpose whatever.

Those urging and voting for the winding up of the agrarian question are members of the national party organization which is backing the government and which controls 90 per cent of all the political organizations in Mexico. The economic congress declared that there is no hope for national progress without the reëstablishment of rural credit, since not a cent could be borrowed from banks today on rural property because of the danger of confiscation of land for agrarian uses.

As a means of reëstablishing rural credit and recreating agriculture, the congress recommended giving homesteads in place of community lands to peasants, and confirming all titles and lands held by planters and owners of haciendas.

It was said today that the government is willing to accept the recommendations of the economic congress.

HOW TO ESCAPE
FLU

1 Avoid so far as possible the places where flu germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.

2 Be careful of close contact with others, and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.

3 Get lots of rest. Eat plenty of citrus fruits. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precautions to keep in sound physical condition, so your system will have high resistance against germs.

4 Above all, avoid catching colds. They lower your resistance to the flu germ. Ward them off. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin and remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin dissolved in water at the first indication of sore throat, as this will relieve the soreness and reduce the inflammation.

5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

PRAISES DOCTOR AS INDIGESTION PAINS VANISH

"For seven years I kept trying medicines, hoping to get relief from indigestion," says Mrs. Grace Wheeler, 153 Church St., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan. "Nothing really helped me. I got so I never felt quite right; was tired and weak. I would bloat and have awful sick headaches after every meal.

"Now it's a different story. I got back most of my lost weight in a few months and feel fine. Nearly everything agrees with me. When anything starts to disagree, a tablet of Diapepsin has me comfortable in a minute.

"My doctor ordered me to take these wonderful tablets and I sure thank him for his advice. They're just like candy to eat; but they work better than any medicine I could find."

For years, leading physicians have endorsed Pape's Diapepsin. All drug stores sell the handy boxes. Get one and the next time heartburn, headache or nausea appears, soothe your stomach and make digestion complete with one or two of the pleasant, candy-like tablets. If you would like a personal demonstration of their merit before buying, write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a FREE trial box.

Acidity
Gives You Those Dread Nights of Sleeplessness!

When every night is a sleepless night for you—when counting sheep is as futile as taking long walks before retiring—when morning after morning finds you looking as if you spent the night in dissipation instead of in your bed, it's time to do something! The chances are acidity has laid hold of you!

When, as a result of our unnatural living habits, the stomach secretes too much acid, it does many things to us. It causes acid-indigestion, with sour, gassy bloat, painful stomach distension, heartburn and nausea—a condition which in time may result in an attack of acute indigestion. The acid also sets up fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines. This breeds poisons which permeate the whole system. The poisons sap strength and vitality, make us feel tired all the time, and mentally depressed and they rag our nerves to the point where we can't sleep at night, exhausted as we may be. The modern and true way to correct acidity is by the release of active oxygen within the intestinal tract. This is now accomplished by an amazing and harmless white tablet developed in Germany by the world's foremost pharmaceutical house, Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the gastric juices, generate nascent or active oxygen. The live oxygen does the three things necessary to correct acidity in the right way. It stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, which keeps the acid in check. It corrects fermentation and putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal. It stimulates peristalsis or the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity and only Magnesia Oxoids supply them, because it is the only Magnesia product known to science that, when taken internally, releases oxygen to the system.

Make This Acidity Test!

To see just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen Drug Stores, Economical Drug Stores, or any other good druggist. Take two after each meal and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If, after taking the contents of one bottle, the results don't more than amaze you, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money promptly and in full.

REVIVAL UNDER WAY IN TRADE, SLOAN ASSERTS

Auto Executive Predicts Better Conditions.

BY HAL FOUST.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors, told an audience of 1,700 distributors, dealers, and salesmen last night at the Palmer house that evidence of an upturn in business is here. The national automobile show, in progress this week at the Coliseum, is selling more motor cars than last year and reports of resumed buying are being received from all parts of the country.

"It would take a prophet to foretell the return of another boom," said the automobile executive, "but all of us who are close to the motor car industry are aware of the improvement in our business during the last few weeks.

Turn Backs on Past.

"We can turn our backs upon the year of 1930, forgetting its disappointments but remembering its lessons. We are in a new business year.

"General Motors learned its lesson during the lean year. As a consequence we are better off today than we were a year ago. We have improved operations and merchandising methods so that we are able to deliver a better product at less cost. The automobile buyer gets more for his dollar than ever before.

"We enter 1931 fit for work. Our experience of the last few weeks shows that there are rewards for the workers.

U. S. Loses No Wealth.

"America lost none of its wealth during 1930. We have all of the resources necessary for normal prosperity.

"The history of American business has been a history of progress. The future of American business is progress."

The address was before the Chevrolet sales organization, meeting here in connection with the national automobile show. Dealers, distributors, and salesmen were there from a territory stretching from Michigan to Texas and from Indiana to Wyoming. Earlier in the evening, Mr. Sloan talked before an Oldsmobile gathering.

Others on the program besides Mr. Sloan included R. H. Grant, vice president of General Motors; W. S. Knudsen, president of Chevrolet, and H. J. Klingler, vice president and general sales manager of Chevrolet.

AUTO SHOW NOTES

The business lull of 1930 brought about a closer coördination between the branches of the auto industry effecting an economy in production and merchandising methods that has been reflected in greater value per retail dollar. As part of this trend toward better coördination, J. T. Collins, general sales manager of the Olds Motor works, has written a book entitled "Dollars and Senses" that is being distributed to dealers as a guide to business efficiency among the agents of the Olds Motor works. The book is attracting attention among members of the trade who are attending the show.

All past attendance records have been broken at the Chrysler, Dodge, De Soto, and Plymouth exhibits at the Congress hotel. In the balloon room, where Chrysler cars are on exhibit, more than 20,000 visitors were clocked up to noon yesterday.

J. E. Williams, vice president in charge of sales for the Franklin Automobile company, reports that more orders for cars have been received so far during this year's automobile show than during the shows of 1929 and 1930.

The engine in the 1931 Willys-Knight is the most powerful ever developed by the company. It develops 87 horsepower and drives the car from 78 to 80 miles an hour in high and up to 50 miles an hour in second.

A. van der Zee, general sales manager of the Dodge Brothers, in an address yesterday said that the buying sentiment was growing throughout the country. Every territory in the country, according to Mr. Van Der Zee, reports an increase in sales with an average of about 20 per cent.

EX-GOV. WALTON, RICHARD ENRIGHT INDICTED BY U. S.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Jack Walton, ousted Oklahoma governor; Richard Enright, former police commissioner of New York, and S. E. J. Cox, former associate of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, were among nineteen persons indicted for mail fraud by a federal grand jury here late today.

Walton's indictment came one day after the filing of his candidacy for mayor of Oklahoma City. He served as mayor here thirteen years ago, and in 1922 was elected governor. Impeachment and ouster followed in the fall of the same year after turbulent days of martial law, declared over much of the state in the wake of Ku Klux Klan disturbances.

Enright previously had been questioned concerning "membership advertisements" of the company's preorganization syndicate, said by officers to have included a letter bearing his alleged signature and saying "I will feel proud of my association with the men who compose your board of directors."

HUDSON CHIEF SAYS WORK IS ECONOMIC CURE

Tells Dealers That Auto Trade Is Gaining.

William J. McAneeny, president and general manager of the Hudson Motor Car company, who this year is attending and addressing dealer gatherings all over the middle west in order that he can demonstrate the hard work that he believes is necessary for the restoration of prosperity, told 350 Hudson and Essex dealers at a luncheon yesterday that they could not afford to wait for the return of prosperity but must work to bring it about.

W. H. Butler, Chicago Hudson-Essex distributor, presided at the gathering and Chester G. Abbott, merchandising director for Hudson, also stressed the necessity for work, courage, and confidence.

Pleased with Activity.

"Beyond Depression Lies Prosperity" was the slogan offered by Hudson's chief.

"Distributors, dealers, and salesmen have come to the Chicago show from all sections of the country, and optimistic messages are being sent back to their many communities to the effect that the automobile industry is on the move," said Mr. McAneeny. "It is certainly stimulating to see the activity at the Chicago show, and the enterprise of Chicago distributors, dealers, and salesmen.

"The restoration of American prosperity is largely in the hands of the men in the retail sales departments of the automobile industry.

Reports Sales on Gain.

"The manufacturer was called upon to build products that would have an immediate appeal to the prospective buyer, thus lessening any resistance the retail salesman might have had to overcome. Because we were able to do this, sales have been made, production has increased, employment has increased, and capital has come back into circulation.

"The public is now investing, not speculating. The high standard of living that is the envy of the world has not been lowered, but buyers are determined to maintain that standard by getting the maximum quality for their money. They are buying automobiles on a value basis."

LEA BORROWED STATE'S FUNDS, PROBERS TOLD

Attorney General Tells Details.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Legislative investigators probing Tennessee affairs were told by Assistant Attorney General Nat Tipton that the Tennessee Publishing company, of which Col. Luke Lea, Nashville publisher, is president, borrowed $25,000 of $250,000 Tennessee bridge funds deposited in the Holston Trust company of Knoxville.

Lea owns stock in the Holston-Union National bank. Holston Trust company is a subsidiary, with the same officers and directors. The institutions were known as Lea-Caldwell banks, as the publisher, with Rogers Caldwell, reorganized the Holston Union and both were prominent in its affairs.

Tipton was positive that Lea's company borrowed this identical money. He said the attorney for the trust company, in resisting a receivership suit filed by the state to recover its money, had offered the publishing company note to the state in lieu of cash.

Tipton said that along with the Lea paper, the trust company asked the state to take over $75,000 worth of debentures of the Central Bank and Trust company of Asheville, which it alleged were bought with a portion of the state's money. Tipton said he understood the Asheville bank holds more than $800,000 worth of paper in which Lea is interested as signer or guarantor through some of his companies.

The attorney general contended that the $250,000 of bridge money was illegally deposited in the Holston Trust company.

Quizzed concerning the bonds the Holston Union bank had given to secure state deposits, Tipton said that Rogers Caldwell and J. Basil Ramsey were on $4,375,000 of these surety bonds.

The deposits of the state in this bank will be repaid to the extent of about 75 per cent, he thought. They amount to about $2,000,000.

FIND METHOD TO ADD LONG TIME TO BOILER LIFE

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Saving of millions of dollars annually to industries and inestimable benefit to the welfare of Illinois as well as the nation has and will result from the solving of another research problem conducted at the University of Illinois, it was announced here today.

A water treatment process, which has been carried on for more than six years under the direction of Prof. Fred G. Straub of the department of chemistry, has been found to prolong the life of high pressure steam boilers and which will prevent frequent explosions from boiler embrittlement. Success of the process has already resulted in the saving of $10,000,000 in the Chicago area alone and will result in an annual saving of from $3,000,000 to $20,000,000 in the state.

Because of alkaline waters high pressure steam boilers have had to be replaced frequently, sometimes every three or four years, whereas a boiler should last from twenty to thirty years; when a boiler fails it often means the loss of life, in addition to the great replacement expense.

REPORT HUBBY GOT A DIVORCE ANGERS ACTRESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Rose Perfect, former star with George White's Scandals, who has just returned from winter sports at Chamonix, was indignant today over reports published in New York that Edmond A. Reider had obtained a divorce from her in Mexico. The actress, who is going to England at the end of this week to fill another engagement in London, gave out the following statement:

"I obtained a divorce from Mr. Reider on Nov. 5 in a Chicago Heights court. My attorney was John J. McMahon. I then returned to New York and sailed for Europe on Nov. 11. I obtained a divorce of grounds of misconduct by my husband with Baroness Bianca Alissi, to whom, I learned, he paid much attention while I was on the road. I ceased living with my husband last November."

Miss Perfect appeared in London at the Palladium and Empire theaters before Christmas in a Paris revue.

TWO CHILDREN, NURSE DIE IN FIRE; MOTHER INJURED

Woonsocket, R. I., Jan. 28.—(AP)—The bodies of Paul Gendron, 2, and his nursemaid, Isabell Arsenaut, about 40, were discovered in the ruins of a $100,000 fire here tonight.

Paul's 11 months old brother, William, was killed when his mother, Mrs. Blanche Gendron, jumped from a second floor window with the child in her arms.

The mother is in the hospital suffering from burns and other injuries.

LEGGE FINDS U. S. DOOMED AS WORLD FACTOR IN WHEAT

The American wheat grower has just as much chance "as a snowball in that other place" to produce wheat for the world market and make money at it, according to Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board. His remark was made in an address yesterday to members of the Traffic club of Chicago following a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman.

This is true, Mr. Legge said, because land, labor and transportation are cheaper in other lands which produce for the world's consuming markets. Russia, he asserted, has a peculiar method of accounting that begins to figure the cost of wheat with transportation.

"They take it from the grower as a tax," he continued. "The labor, by our standards, is forced. Russia is a menace in the world wheat market. They told us they would export only twenty million bushels last year, and they have exported eighty million. They lied to us once and they may do it again."

The farm board chairman held out no hope for relief being made effective if the American wheat grower failed to get his production down to a domestic basis.

"We are trying to carry a part of the burden for him," he said. "We can't deal with a continuing surplus year after year growing larger. If the correction in volume of production is made, we can gradually get rid of the accumulation we now have, and others that come occasionally."

Scalded when he upset a teakettle at his home, 3529 Wolfram street, two year old Leonard Kasprzyk died yesterday on his way to a hospital.

BUSINESS DATA FOR 1930 SHOW BIG INCREASE

The last six months of 1930 showed an increase in every line of business endeavor over the first six months, according to an announcement yesterday by officials of the special service department of the R. L. Polk company, directory publishers. The report shows 2,462 new businesses opened in the last half of the year, an increase of 430 over the first half; 479 chain store branches opened, an increase of 125 over the first six months; 1,174 changes of location, a decrease of 306 in the last six months; 287 changes of ownership, an increase of 56, and 219 expansion programs involving additional space, an increase of 46 for the last half of the year.

Boy of 15 Confesses Sending Extortion Notes

Fifteen year old Walter Shultz, 1108 Cornell street, who peddles doughnuts in Evanston for a Chicago concern, yesterday confessed he was author of several extortion notes recently received by his women customers. "If you don't leave $100 by your door between 8 and 9 p. m. your life will be endangered," all the notes read. "Don't notify the police. The King Gang."

Bullet Wound Received in Row Over Debt Fatal

Joseph Tomisello, 50 years old, of 907 South Fairfield avenue died early this morning in the county hospital of wounds received Jan. 18, when he was shot during an altercation over a $20 debt. The police are hunting Peter Sansilitto, 50 years old, 921 South California avenue, said to have been a lifelong friend of Tomisello, who is alleged to have done the shooting.

$100,000 LOST BY CITY IN TRAFFIC VIOLATION CASES

A loss of more than $100,000 was suffered last year by the Municipal court clerk's office through the failure of citizens arrested for traffic violations to respond to summonses in the form of tickets issued by the police, Joseph L. Gill, chief clerk, estimated yesterday. He said that already 2,400 letters have been mailed to those who have ignored a second warning. If they fail to appear capiases will be issued for them, Mr. Gill said.

What! GRAPEFRUIT Curb Colds?

By Ask your doctor!

WHY do you get more colds in winter than summer? Because you lack the sunshine and the garden vegetables and fruits of the warmer months.

Your system contains too much acid (acidosis)—your resistance is lowered—you fall an easier victim to germs.

Grapefruit corrects acidosis, for it is alkaline in its effect. Grapefruit gives you—in generous measure—the mineral salts and vitamins, so sadly needed this time of year.

Be a modern—prevent and combat colds with grapefruit—luscious "Seald-Sweet" Grapefruit—the choicest of the crop. Eat this luscious fruit or drink the health-giving juice, two or three times a day. Each fruit wears the name "Seald-Sweet" on its skin.

Don't be a "Skinny," Washed-Out, Unattractive

Photos of two different girls show how "skinny" girls are unattractive because of lack of alluring curves.

New Combination of Yeast and Iron Changes Hollows to Curves in 3 Weeks—or pay nothing

"I gained 5 lbs. while taking IRONIZED YEAST. That means quite a bit, as my folks are both thin. What I prize most is the difference in the way I feel and the pep I have. Before I took IRONIZED YEAST I had to hire a girl to help me with any hard work. But now I do all my housecleaning alone and help my mother with hers too.

I went through taking care of two cases of whooping-cough in which I lost one of my little girls. I am sure I would have been down sick in bed if I had not been taking IRONIZED YEAST at that time, as I was caring for the baby I lost almost night and day for 3 weeks. IRONIZED YEAST I am sure helped me to be here to write this now." Mrs. Marie Bunker

How "Skinny" Lifeless Girls Gain Weight

People who had tried everything else in vain and who did not believe that IRONIZED YEAST could help them either, write how they gained 5 to 15 pounds in a few weeks. Think of skinny limbs quickly rounded into graceful, chubby curves. Sallow, pimply skin becoming pink and pretty smooth. Tired feeling vanishing. Loads of new pep that makes you popular and sought after.

Only when Yeast is ironized is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. That's why IRONIZED YEAST makes a new person of you so quickly. Get these pleasant little tablets in the handy form today. No yeasty taste. Never upset stomach or cause gas or bloating.

Try it on "Money-Back" Offer

Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST. Take it regularly as directed. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with weight and health benefits gained, your money promptly refunded by druggist or manufacturer.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been positively demonstrated in cases of lack of nourishment, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and generally run-down condition IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to gaining weight. Take it regularly if you want the full benefits. And take it long enough so you not only gain but HOLD what you gain.—©I.Y.Co.

WARNS BROTHERS DEFENSE TO DROP 'SPEECH MAKING'

Court Tells Attorneys to Follow Trial Rules.

Four attorneys representing Leo Brothers, charged with the murder of Alfred Lingle, were instructed yesterday by Judge John Prystalski in the criminal court to present all of their requests in legal petitions and to refrain from introducing extraneous matters and speech making not pertinent to the case.

The ruling of the judge came in the midst of the reading of a petition by Attorney Robert E. Cantwell asking that special prosecutors be prevented from conducting the case against Brothers.

Attorneys Tyrell Krum and Robert Ward opened the session by asking that the state be compelled to supply the defense with the addresses of the twenty persons named as prosecution witnesses. The attorneys declared that due to the similarity of names of the many residents of Chicago it is impossible to find and interview the witnesses.

Defense to Get Addresses.

Judge Prystalski upheld the defense on this point and ordered that the witnesses be furnished by Friday. Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks objected to the ruling.

Attorney Cantwell, after a short conference with Attorney Louis Piquett, then asked permission to read a petition in the form of a motion. The court granted the request and Attorney Cantwell read from the petition which opened with the statement that the "defendant, Brothers, objects to any private persons taking part in the prosecution of this case."

"This defendant has the right to expect the same fairness and impartiality from the public prosecutor as he has from the presiding judge who tried his cause," continued the attorney.

Refers to "Trial by Ordeal."

"A trial by ordeal and trial by battle have taken place in the legal attic with the spinning wheel, the stage coach and the spit curl. The language of the statute was, 'The benefit of the clergy, appeals of felony, and trial by battle are forever abolished.' The benefit of clergy has been abolished. Has this benefit of clergy another name, and have we a right of trial by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and its adherents."

Judge Prystalski sharply ordered the attorney to stop reading and listen to him.

"If you have a motion to make as to private counsel you may make it in a proper petition and I will listen to you," said the judge. "It does not appear from the record that there is any private counsel, but if you have some such charge to make and do it in the proper manner I will hear arguments on Friday afternoon.

Trial Is "Serious Matter."

"This court will not listen to matters which have nothing to do with the case. Leave out all this stuff, which you have just been reading. The court is not concerned with trail by battle or anything else. Another thing, I do not want any more references such as has been made by defense counsel to 'this so-called board of strategy.' This is a serious matter, which the state's attorney is handling, and I will not allow it to develop into anything but a trial."

Prosecutor Brooks ended the session by saying that the state is ready to go to trial at once and that he takes exception to the tactics of the defense attorneys.

700 Reds, Put on 'Rock Pile,' End Hunger Strike

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Jan. 28.—Protesting against the government's rigorous law compelling political prisoners to work, 700 communists held in Lithuanian jails ended a 10 day hunger strike today upon the government's promise to reconsider the measure. During their protest the strikers subsisted on sugar, water, and cigarets.

DIVORCED WIFE OF VANDERBILT RECOVERS FROM AUTO CRASH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Emily Davies Vanderbilt Thayer of New York, divorced wife of William H. Vanderbilt; Arthur Richman, playwright and president of the Authors' League of America, and Charles Stuart, also an American, arrived in Paris today after having been released from an obscure hospital in the small town of Saulieu, department of Cote d'Or, where they had been confined since an automobile accident late the night of Jan. 14.

MRS. EMILY THAYER. [International Newsreel Photo.]

A party, including the three Americans, had just left Saulieu at a fairly high speed when their automobile skidded on the slippery road and crashed into a tree, completely wrecking the car.

Mrs. Thayer was divorced from Vanderbilt in 1928 and she was divorced from Sigourney Thayer of Boston last year.

SOVIET PENALTY FOR DRUNKARDS HITS RUM PROFITS

Workers Fear Forced Labor Sentences.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Jan. 28.—Six month sentences to forced labor in the northern timber camps for absentee workers convicted of drunkenness by factory court martials are having a serious effect on the profits of the Russia vodka monopoly, according to a soviet report, which blames the decrease in sales upon the severe discipline enforced in soviet industries.

This monopoly formerly furnished the largest revenue of any single industry in Russia. A further decrease in sales is foreseen in Dictator Stalin's policy of liquidating individual farms and compelling the peasants to join communal economies, in which holidays are infrequent and drunkenness is punishable by six months at forced labor.

Admitting that the loss in revenue is serious, the soviet people's commissariat proposes to issue large internal loans, to which the peasants will be forced to subscribe.

Another interesting development is a growing opposition to the government's trusts and syndicates as a result of the latest decree of the commissariat of labor ordering all former railroad employés to return to their former posts. The decree was issued in an effort to improve the efficiency of transportation. The technical men of the railroads are the poorest paid specialists in Russia.

A recent survey by the cheka revealed that the railroads were operating with less than 12 per cent of the required personnel and that the technicians had accepted higher posts in other branches of industry.

Out of 400 former railroad men employed in the Moscow district, 260 have refused to return to their old jobs. This decree also provides terms in forced labor camps for those who disobey the order.

TREASURY CHIEF OPPOSES BAR ON SOVIET IMPORTS

Lowman Testifies Before House Committee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of coast guard and customs, told the house ways and means committee today that the state department has advised the treasury against sending investigators into Russia to investigate charges that certain exports were manufactured by convict labor.

The state department, according to Lowman, stated that in case such investigators were caught they might be lined against a wall and shot, thus causing an international crisis.

Discuss Russian Trade.

Mr. Lowman, together with Hugh L. Cooper of New York City, president of the Russian-American chamber of commerce, appeared before the house committee to testify regarding the advisability of passing the Kendall bill excluding convict made goods. Mr. Lowman did not consider the Kendall bill necessary, while Mr. Cooper opposed the measure.

Secretary Lowman said exports to Russia from this country for the 1930 calendar year were valued at 150 million dollars. Imports from Russia, he said, were valued at $30,000,000 over the same period.

"What would be the effect of an embargo on Russian goods?" Mr. Lowman was asked by Representative John N. Garner [Dem., Tex.]

Would Mean Trade Loss.

"It would mean the loss of about 120 million a year in our trade with Russia," the assistant secretary replied. "They are human in spite of all the stories you hear to the contrary and they will certainly not buy from a country that does not buy from them."

Mr. Cooper told the committee that he believed an annual trade amounting to one billion dollars could be built up with soviet Russia. While stating he did not favor diplomatic recognition of Russia, Mr. Cooper urged the establishment of what he termed "fair trade relationship" with the soviet. He asserted that Russia would pay her entire war debt to this country if such a trade relationship was established.

IOWA'S ROAD PLANS FOR 100 MILLIONS BONDS ARE INVALID

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Plans for a one hundred million dollar Iowa state bond issue for the purpose of paying for paved roads were given a setback here today when John Fletcher, attorney general, gave as his opinion that the project was unconstitutional.

Fletcher delivered his opinion a day after the Iowa senate had for the second time approved a constitutional amendment which would provide for the issuance of 100 million dollars' worth of state bonds to pay for paving and to retire county bonds already voted and used for that purpose.

Modern Way to Treat

CATARRH

Avoid Head Colds and Sore Throats This Winter

Insists His New Discovery Opens Up Catarrh Stuffed Nostrils In Three Minutes

Advises All Catarrh Victims to Treat Nasal Catarrh with Opex and Clean Out Unpleasant Mucus Quick

30 Days' Free Trial Say ALL WALGREEN-ECONOMICAL Stores

You get up in the morning with nostrils stuffed with mucus—you feel lazy, depressed.

Spray for a few seconds with refreshing, soothing, invigorating Opex and in three minutes your head is clear and clean—every bit of mucus is out—you can breathe Nature's pure air thru nostrils free from irritation.

There is nothing in Opex that can harm you—so use it freely night and morning and as many times thru the day as you wish.

Opex is so helpful in Catarrh of long standing—the stubborn kind—that by using Opex faithfully for a month the worst symptoms of this humiliating disease are successfully treated.

Singing and buzzing in ears when caused by Catarrh is lessened—what a blessing.

And here's something that will delight millions of men—after you spray refreshing Opex in nostrils and throat for 3 weeks you won't have that lump of mucus to hawk up in the morning—men have died from the terrible straining.

When you spray Opex you can send the healing, purifying vapor from one nostril through the other (see picture) or from either nostril to the bottom of the lungs and out through the mouth—you can actually see this steam-like smoke coming from nostrils or mouth.

You can always get Opex at any Walgreen-Economical store—a bottle that will last about two months costs but $1.00—if you aren't joyfully satisfied after using it for 30 days—get your money back.

Note: In New York many singers and speakers spray the throat with Opex to subdue irritation and prevent hoarseness.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT . . . BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

This is "open season" for THINKERS

THIS message is addressed to the thinker! These are times when mature thought is given to important expenditures—times when genuine value receives its just recognition.

Hence Buick is winning 60 fine car sales out of every 100 in its price range, with 14 other companies competing. The thinker has come to know that Buick gives more value, that Buick builds better motor cars, year after year.

"One-time" sales are common, but to win and hold friends for a decade, or a quarter century, is an achievement. More than 88 per cent of all Buick owners buy Buicks again and again. Thousands have purchased as many as five, ten or even twenty Buick motor cars.

Many will ponder these basic facts. Many will make the same decision more than 2,500,000 others have made: namely, that Buick is a better automobile . . . that Buick is a sounder motor car investment. Think it over!

Effective January 1, every Buick built—including Buick's Series 50, priced from $1025 to $1095, f. o. b. Flint, Mich.—has the famous safe and silent Syncro-Mesh Transmission and Torque Tube Drive.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values

A SURPLUS OF FUNDS AND A DEFICIT OF ROADS.

Estimates of the surplus in the state's highway fund by the end of next year run as high as $60,000,000. The money comes from motorists in the form of license fees and gasoline taxes. The accumulation may be the result in part of an increase in actual receipts from the tax over estimates, but more especially it results from delay in spending money appropriated for construction.

That delay, in turn, is attributable to a number of causes, most important of which, apparently, is a rule of the state highway department. Before the state will build a road or grade separation the county in which the improvement lies must provide the right of way. This rule dates at least from the Lowden administration and is not without a certain justification. When the state's bond issue road program was in its infancy the roads were thought of primarily in their rural setting. They connected the farm and the nearby trading and railroad center. The farmer could well afford to dedicate to the county the right of way required for building a hard road. The strip he was required to cede formed an inconsequential part of his total holdings and in return he received the priceless gift of an all-weather highway to town.

Meanwhile the original highway system has been brought nearly to completion and the great need is for road building, road widening and grade separations in the more heavily congested areas. It is for these purposes that much of the money available but not spent is earmarked. The delay has come about because the counties in the metropolitan area have not found it as easy to acquire right of way as did the rural counties. For one thing, land in the more congested areas is more valuable and the sacrifice demanded is heavier. For another, the holdings, instead of being measured in 40 acre units, are measured as town lots. The owner of a subdivision lot 120 feet deep cannot afford to give the county the front 50 feet of his property without sacrificing 40 per cent of his whole area and an even larger proportion of the value of his lot for residential purposes. If the owner will not give his land to the county, the county, of course, might buy or condemn it, but here delays are frequent and the cost is often prohibitive.

The moment has come to abandon the present rule and permit the state highway department to use its revenues to purchase rights of way where required. The right of way is as legitimate a part of the cost of road building as the cost of grading and cement. Fortunately, in less congested regions the expense of purchasing land has been generally avoided, but it cannot be avoided in the suburban zones. Therefore, a change in policy is justified.

THE HALF HOLIDAY FOR POSTAL SERVICE.

A bill providing for a four hour working day on Saturdays for postal employés has been passed by the house and is now pending in the senate. The measure will give the postal service the half holiday which other federal civil service employés already enjoy, and ought to be enacted. There is no reason why the postal service should be discriminated against. No body of men in government employ is more deserving of consideration and of favorable conditions of work. The carriers, especially, have an arduous and responsible task.

The bill safeguards the half holiday and permits adjustment to the conditions of postal service by providing for compensatory time for Sunday and other overtime work, such time off to be given within five days, a necessary provision, we think, to preserve the physical benefits which are one of the objects sought by holiday rest periods. The postmaster general is authorized to allow payment for overtime when the exigencies of the service require it.

It is to be hoped this bill will not be thrust aside in the senate in the press of its other activities. Business organizations which are concerned with the efficiency of the postal service should support the measure, which we understand has the approval of the postal authorities.

THE PUBLIC ENEMY BILL.

The bill framed by Attorney Condon and Judge Harry Fisher defining a new criminal category—the public enemy—and giving the police and courts enlarged powers to deal with such offenders, is an interesting and highly desirable attempt to make the public defense more effective. Judge Fisher is a jealous guardian of civil liberties, and the measure seems to have been drawn with proper consideration of the rights of the individual. Efforts to extend summary police action, under pressure of the deplorable conditions from which the community is now suffering tend to ignore civil guaranties and thus fall upon review in the courts. This the framers of the present bill evidently kept in mind and avoided.

The public need for such an aid as they have devised for prompt and effective action against the new type of habitual criminal has been conspicuous in our recent experience. The gangster with his organization and formidable system of operation, both for the successful perpetration of crimes and his elaborate defense, constitutes an entirely new problem. He cannot be efficiently checked by procedure directed at the old criminal order and limited by present restraints. The agencies of the law must be given power to deal with the problem he represents, and this, we are confident, can be done with all due regard to the rights of law abiding citizens and without weakening the guaranties from abuse of power which all individuals charged with crime, whether innocent or guilty, are entitled to under our system of liberty.

It is to be hoped the legislature will not postpone the consideration and adoption of this much needed strengthening of our defenses against organized crime. We assume that the representatives of the cities will support it. But even representatives of rural districts must by this time realize that the gang type of crime is extending to the country and that they, too, will need the more efficient procedure which the bill authorizes.

HAS ILLINOIS DISCARDED REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT?

An arrangement in representative government which gives the same number of legislators to 43,000 people that it gives to 560,000 is ridiculous. It has ceased to be what it is called. Representative Ralph Church obtained the census figures on the Cook county districts and such are the disparities shown. In the First district 44,000 people have the same legislative rights as 372,000 in the Nineteenth. And so on. There are worse inequities in the relation of Cook county votes to downstate votes.

Nullification of the constitution by the Illinois squirearchy for the maintenance of rural control has destroyed representative government in the state. Its first requirement is ignored and its first principle is violated. In this respect the state is not a democracy. It is an autocracy. It has a class legislature based upon a system obnoxious to American ideas of government. It is just as offensive as if the discrimination were against a religious belief, against tenants, against a race or against certain occupations. It is just as unlawful.

FALSE IMPRESSIONS OF THE PROHIBITION REPORT.

Eastern newspapers, including leading Republican organs like the New York Herald-Tribune and the Evening Post, are protesting against the manner in which the report on prohibition was put forth. The protest is, in our opinion, justified. Both the first summaries to appear and the effect of the President's accompanying statement gave the impression that the report opposed modification or repeal and was, in effect, a victory for the dry cause.

This is not an assumption, but was emphatically demonstrated by the expressions of approval and gratification from leading prohibitionists. It was not until the following day, when the full report became available, that prohibition applause abruptly ceased.

Unfortunately this correction of the first erroneous interpretation of the report cannot be expected to reach as far as the error, for the simple reason that the report with its staggering demonstration of conditions is too voluminous to be published by smaller newspapers. Thus a large part of our people and many districts where a better understanding of conditions is most needed are and for some time, at least, will be left with the first impression created by the brief and deceptive statements preceding the publication of the full report and the recommendations of the various members of the commission.

We do not blame any one in particular for this mishandling of the report, but it is certainly a most unfortunate occurrence. All the American people have a right to know what the report was, to know not only all the conclusions and suggestions of the members of the commission but also the observations and conclusions of fact upon which they are founded. It is impracticable that the full report should be brought to all citizens, but the fairest and fullest summary should have been given them. Instead, an entirely misleading impression of the report went abroad, which is favorable to dry prejudices and propaganda, but not to the enlightenment of public opinion.

Editorial of the Day

THE OMNIUM GATHERUM.

[New York Times.]

It is a pleasure to report the progress of our beloved contemporary, that incomparable magasine of medley, the Congressional Record. Fortunate in its publisher, hard times do not touch it. It doesn't have to become more valuable to be more costly. Mr. Underhill of Massachusetts, chairman of the house committee on accounts, tells us of expenditure and distribution:

"The largest printing bill of the government is the printing of the Congressional Record, and last year the cost was $758,693.94. This was an increase over the previous year of more than $175,000. There are only 28,000 copies of the Record printed and they are distributed in this way: 85 copies to each member of the senate, 60 copies to each member of the house, and there are only 530 paid subscriptions, showing how much interest the public has in the Congressional Record."

Once it was what it purports to be, a record of the proceedings of congress. Long ago it ceased to be that and became a dumping ground for all sorts of irrelevant, trivial, and tedious matter. The intrusion of alien stuff is so enormous as to be, as Mr. Underhill says, "a scandal and burden upon the taxpayers which is unjustified." As usual, the senate is the chief offender. Not content with its own interminable tide of words, it is always borrowing currents from a thousand sources. A senator would be false to the holiest traditions of the senate if he ventured to object to the swelling of the Record with infinite exterior impertinences of speech and writing.

The zeal of senators to gratify their constituents, their friends, their pet opinions and prejudices is not likely to moderate. The sole hope of Record relief may lie in the mounting cost of the present monstrosity. Representative Garner takes the curious view that the larger space tenanted by the senate, with less than a fourth of the membership of the house, "is giving the other statesmen an advantage over the gentlemen who occupy this chamber." May it not be just the other way? Does not the repute of the senate suffer by the shameless padding which it practices? Does anybody but humorists, sociologists, philosophers of ennui, and perhaps a few forced laborers in newspaper offices even glance at those dreary acres of miscellany?

GALLSTONES.

MRS. A. W. S. writes: Will you please write an article on gallstones, their cause, symptoms?

REPLY: Gallstones is one of man's most frequent disorders and, at the same time, one of his most infrequent complaints. Many have them but few know about it, although the man who knows lets others know. A bunch of enigmatic statements now to be explained.

A great many people have gallstones. In most instances where gallstones are present there are no symptoms. When symptoms are present the man who has them can be depended on to talk about them whenever he can find a listener. And now for the explanations.

The gallbladder is made to stagnate bile. The bile is a mixed fluid with a great tendency to thicken and to have some of its substance precipitate. Stagnation of any fluid promotes precipitation of its solids. If we hold drinking water in reservoirs that the solids may precipitate we should expect the same happening in the bile in the gallbladder. If the bile solids stick together the result is a gallstone.

A great many people 40 years old and beyond have them. Fat people who are physically inactive are especially prone to them. If typhoid fever is on the personal history sheet the probability is greatly increased.

The best known symptom of gallstones is colic, a very painful disorder due to tearing and to the violent contraction of the muscles as they push the stone along. But this kind of pain may be absent so long as the stone lies quiet in the gallbladder. Persons with one large gallstone seldom have pain and autopsies show thousands with gallstones that were unsuspected during life. Many reputed cures of gallstones are merely instances of stones having come to rest in the gallbladder. On the other hand, when a man has an attack of gallstone colic his pain is too violent to be hidden.

Much of the old style dyspepsia is an indirect effect of gallstones, the stomach playing second fiddle in the performance. This is the present day explanation of belching, sour stomach, water brash, spitting up food. And the man who has this group of symptoms is fond of telling other people of them.

THE UNDERSLUNG JAW.

M. I. writes: Will you explain what makes the underjaw protrude, and does this affect the health?

REPLY.

While we are at it, why not explain why some have a normal bite, some have rabbit teeth, some have "no chin" or receding chin, and some are "jimber-jawed."

Something in the building plan of the individual is responsible. The normal building plan calls for an underjaw developing from several centers and growing just enough to make the lower teeth strike the upper. Let us say this is the divine plan for man. That plan results in a mouth that is best for chewing and speaking. Perhaps it survives because it is fittest. Inheritance is a factor also.

But sometimes a person is built on different architectural specifications. He gets too much or too little underjaw. In other words, he is "jimber-jawed," or underhung, or rabbit-mouthed, or has "no chin." Sometimes this is due to inheritance. Sometimes it results from disease.

Beyond these there may be reasons about which we know nothing.

HOT FLASHES.

Mrs. G. M. writes: Will you explain hot flashes and give the cause and treatment?

REPLY.

Hot flashes develop in women who have less ovarian secretion than they have been accustomed to. They are noted particularly by women at the change of life and after operations.

They are relieved by the proper use of ovarian extract.

Write us for our booklet on "Personal Hygiene for Women," sending a stamped and addressed envelope.

IT IS QUITE SERIOUS.

S. D. R. writes: Just how serious is the condition of a young girl of 17 who is tubercular with a report of "one plus, many rales"?

REPLY.

It is quite serious. She needs sanitarium bed care.

STORAGE BILL.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I put my furniture in storage on the 18th of September at a rental of $7 per month, the cartage charge being $25. Have been ill and unable to work and therefore have not made payments. Have a contract from the storage firm which states: "After six months, if not paid for, the goods will be sold, including cartage." The time does not expire until the 18th of next month. I am now threatened with the sale of my furniture unless I pay up immediately. Can they do this before the time limit? E. C.

No. We suggest that you notify him that if he sells before the stipulated time you will hold him liable for the full value.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ENGLEWOOD "L" EXTENSION.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—[Friend of the People.]—Please advise me when and how far the Englewood elevated will be extended. J. A. M.

The unification ordinance provides that the Englewood branch of the Rapid Transit lines would be extended westward to connect with the proposed Mid-City trunk line to be built in or near Ashland avenue.

H. M. LYTLE, Vice President,
Chicago Rapid Transit company.

JUDGMENT NOTE.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Will you please tell me what a judgment note is? 2. For how many years is it good? C. J. S.

1. It is an ordinary note with the addition of a clause authorizing the holder to have judgment entered without serving a summons on the defendant.

2. Ten years. The same as any other written contract.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DOG SHY.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Would appreciate your advice how to stop a certain vicious dog from being a public nuisance in our street. Like many other dogs, it does not wear a muzzle and frequently annoys me and other residents when walking down the street. H. L.

Ask the police to see that it is muzzled.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

PRETTY SMART OF EROS.

Little Eros, a star that is only 20 miles in diameter and comes from away over the other side of Mars, is paying the earth a visit Friday night. That is, Eros is traveling to within sixteen million miles of the earth, which is as close as it will come. This shows wonderful judgment on the part of Eros. If it came the rest of the way it might bump into Chicago, and what we would do to that cute little baby star would be plenty, and then some.

The dry sleuths would kick its walls in and raid for likker. They'd tear out all the linings of the poor little planet and then pull the Jones act on it and stick it into the hoosegow for ten years. After the dry sleuths got through with it the holdup men and bandits would dash out of the loop yelling, "Hold up yer hands!" Little Eros would be terribly frightened. Eros doesn't live in Chicago and is not accustomed to stickups as we are. We are so used to these things that we're likely to raise our hands over our heads if somebody asks us for a match. But Eros wouldn't know and the bandits would bat him over the head and slam him in the slats before he could find out what it was all about.

Then the racketeers would grab him and shake him around for awhile. A couple of dozen autos would crash into him and break him up something awful while the auto drivers yelled, "Ya poor simp, why don't you learn how to drive?" Somebody would lure Eros into a faro game and win his diameter and then a couple of gangsters would take him for a ride.

Eros, tiny, smiling little star, you don't know how clever it is of you not to approach us closer than sixteen million miles. And on Friday night we mortals who live in the midst of all these things, right under the guns, as it were, will look up at the sky and see you twinkling there, sixteen million miles away, and we'll say:

"Eros, you are certainly foolish like a fox!"

SONGS FOR LYNN.

Shadows of birds
Fly over my little kitten's dream,
Her awarement is only seen
In the very faint tremble of a whisker,
The slightest possible
Ripple of movement of muscle under fur.

Thoughts of you
Fly over my dreams
And by what seems
Lightning and thunder,
Pulsing awe and throbbing wonder
Is my flesh betrayed!

LYNNETTE.

THESE be hard times, indeed, mates. Even the wags are making over their old jokes instead of getting themselves new ones. Only the other day we read where all the Ford jokes have been turned into Austins, and at a party the other night we heard a man telling about a conversation he overheard between two bandits at a recent theatrical first night. "Where," one of the bandits was credited with saying to the other, "where do dese stores get all dis money we have to take away from dem, anyway?"

THA DUKE PONDERS DOMESTIC PROBLEMS.

R. H. L.: Yesterday I finally serve myself with a relief sigh on account I paid tha last bill fer Xmas junk what tha B. and C. bought fer her relations. Lass night, as we're sittin aroun our ole fashioned fireplace (à la gas) tha Mama tells me that we better start saving all over again 'cause tha Bakrak family census is gonna be enlarged along "St. Valentine's Massacre Day." Seems 6 or 7 kids (whichever it is we got now) aint enuff fer 1 family. Bout tha only break I'm gonna get is that tha milk market dropped a point a quart recently. Ennyway, I asks her if her aunt is gonna come over again this year an do tha chores an she tells me it wood look ritzyer to hire a maid, that's oke with me providin tha girl can use buttons instead of dough, an even then I don't know where tha hell we'd get tha buttons, there aint been any on my B. V. D's. since early summer 1921. The next pleasantry indulged in (see dictionary) is to tha effect that he aint gonna be born ta home as all tha girl frens take from tha maternity hospital, whatever that is, tha only one I know ennything about is tha County. When I asks her howthahell she knows its gonna be a boy she tells me she asked Blimp's sister Anna who in between dishes an cleanin windows goes in fer spiritulizm, so now I'm bettin 3 to 1 it'll be a girl. Tha big laff I get out of tha deal is that tha Mama has already decided to call him Napoleon. This morning tha Mama phones me that she's got a swell idea which is to tha effect that after tha baptizing she's gonna throw a party 'cause Madelyn had a friend who had a friend that threw one of these shindigs an everybody brought a present an when they figgerred it up there was over eight dollars worth of stuff. On inquiring how much I'd get set back for eats, etc., tha B. and C. claims she cood do it easy on 12 bucks, so it looks like another 4 fron men are shot to hell. Ya know, Dick, wimmen now days think money grows on trees, a 5 spot is gotta be put aside fer printed birth notices with ribbons, of course this is true economy cause you can get it in tha newspaper birth notice column fer nuthin. Yesterday a guy I know drops in and wants to sell me his 50 dollar overcoat fer 20 bucks cash. I tole him I didn' have tha jack but that if he still had it next week I wood take it off'n his hands. Believe me he's lucky I dont hit him on tha head.

LAGNIAPPE.

A CRIME EXPERT in New York says the number of women in crime has increased 100 per cent in ten years and that the ladies excel in small stuff, like shoplifting, but bungle the big jobs. That's it! When the time for the getaway comes a woman always stops to powder her nose.

A PHILOSOPHER can find some good in everything. We are given to complaining here in Chicago of the frequency and annoyance of the gruff command, "Hands up!" Suppose the bandits should say, "Feet up!" How awkward it would be if one had to stick up his feet instead of his hands. And would it not indeed! E. H. L.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 29, 1915.

LONDON.—Twenty thousand, and possibly more, German soldiers were killed, wounded or captured during the fighting of three days east of Ypres, at La Bassee, at Craonne, in the Argonne, in the Woevre and in the Vosges. This information was included in the official French war statement, which told of successes from Belgium to Alsace, and says that 6,000 Germans were lost in the region of Craonne alone on Jan. 25 and 26.

PETROGRAD.—The Germans lost heavily in vain attempts to pierce the Russian lines before Warsaw. In a stubborn battle in the vicinity of Souchaczew on the Bzura river the Germans broke through into the Russian trenches and were driven out only after bayonet charges. In Galicia engagements are developing on a large scale. The front extends from Mount Dukla to Mount Wyszkow.

MEXICO CITY.—Alvaro Obregon, the Carranza leader, entered Mexico City at the head of his troops shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. At first he met with little or no resistance, but when the national palace was reached shots from the cathedral roof and other buildings near caused his soldiers to open a fusillade. The rear guard of the Zapatistas left the city as Gen. Obregon entered.

CHICAGO.—The Rev. Paul Rader will become the new pastor of Moody church, Chicago avenue and La Salle street. The church will formally vote on the call on Feb. 3 and the Rev. Mr. Rader admitted it would be accepted.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 29, 1901.

CHICAGO.—The will of Philip D. Armour was offered for probate. It divided an estate of $15,000,000 equally between the widow, Malvina Belle Armour, and the son, J. Ogden Armour. The two sons of Philip D. Armour Jr., who died a year ago, Philip Danforth Armour and Lester Armour, are to be paid $1,000,000 when they reach the age of 25 and another million when they are 30 years old. The estate is the largest ever probated in Cook county. Not a charity or a friend was mentioned in the will, but Mr. Armour had given away during his lifetime something like $35,000,000. Of this large sum probably $8,000,000 went to educational and charitable institutions. The remainder had been given to members of his family, relatives and faithful employés.

TOPEKA, KAS.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, the saloon wrecker, today invaded the office of Gov. Stanley in the capitol and for an hour harangued the executive for his failure to close the saloons of Kansas. By turns she gave him a tongue lashing and begged him to aid her crusade. Mrs. Nation said she hoped in the near future to visit Chicago.

CHICAGO.—Northwestern university celebrated the semi-centennial anniversary of its founding. It was on Jan. 28, 1851, that the charter of the university was signed by the governor of Illinois.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 29, 1881.

LONDON.—Mr. Gladstone assured the house of commons that the Irish coercion bill would be judiciously and reasonably used. He asserted that as the number of Land league meetings increased, agrarian outrages increased. The Irish solicitor general declared that Land league law had superseded the law of the land. Mr. Gladstone urged the house to end the debate, but Parnell refused to permit this course.

CHICAGO.—Young ladies composing the senior class of Dearborn seminary and some of their gentlemen friends were tended a reception at the home of Miss Lucy Stiles, a member of the class, 2326 Michigan avenue. Among those present were Z. Grover, principal of the seminary, and the Misses Anna Philpot, Gracie Storrs, Julia Merrie, Cora Parker, Bertie Scovil, Katie Vance, Emily Kinsley, Lucy Claup, Ella Wood, Evileen Seavey, Aggie Crouch, Mamie Hervey, Minnie Conkling, Minnie Spruance, Annie Bentley, Lou Meeker, Carrie Waughop, Carrie Dent, Minnie Seaverns, Mattie Rand, Nannie Humphrey, and Della Wheeler.

THE WEST HALF OF THE LOOP.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—It will no doubt take years before Chicagoans can expect to use the proposed subway and I therefore believe that we should make every possible effort to immediately improve our present deficient street car service. There is one exit from the loop to the north, the La Salle street tunnel, which is hardly used, while Wabash avenue, State street, Dearborn street, and Clark street are all crowded to the limit and street cars therefore move rather slowly.

I have observed that the north side streets are all blocked by parking cars. If from 7:30 to 9:30 a. m. and 4 to 6 p. m. no parking of any kind would be permitted on streets where street cars are running it would certainly greatly facilitate the service.

Citizens living in the Lincoln park district cannot all be taken care of by the bus line, and those who are forced to use the street car and do not wish to go over to State street, but, for instance, wish to reach the city hall or La Salle street, are compelled to transfer at Division street, which, of course, is a nuisance and always takes time and hinders traffic. In former years the street car companies used to run Broadway cars down La Salle street, but State street succeeded in getting the Broadway line, claiming that by a vote taken among the passengers it had been shown that about 40 per cent wanted the line reaching the city hall and therefore the 40 per cent received nothing and the State street interest received 100 per cent. Various efforts to reinstate the former Broadway-La Salle line have been without results. I do not intend to take anything away from State street and shall be happy if State street prospers, but, on the other hand, we certainly have a right to demand that the interests of the people doing business along Wells street, La Salle street, Clark street, etc., should be considered fairly.

The great influence of State street has certainly become very evident in the selection of the location for a subway, which, as many people believe, has been placed too far east. State street and the east part of the loop get all the transportation facilities and improvements, while the west part of the loop gets the bills and no transportation.

There would be a wonderful opportunity to run buses down La Salle street, which has now been widened and could greatly reduce the time required for reaching downtown for those living in the eastern Lincoln park district, but it seems that the street car companies fear the competition of the buses, while on the other hand they are not inclined to give us any relief.

Would it be possible to widen Wells street and Clark street before important and expensive improvements are erected and design an express car service by a third track in the widened street to take care of express service going south in the morning and north in the evening, with stops, possible every mile or two, and at the same time solve the problem of the bottle neck at Center street? The much neglected La Salle street tunnel might come in handy for some such solution. KARL EITEL,
Vice President, New Bismarck Hotel.

LESS THAN NOTHING.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—There is little idealism, not even reality, in your statement that the league of nations "offers less than nothing" to America.

It is admitted that our entrance into the league would work for better feeling everywhere in the world. The strongest nation on earth, by our unselfish help and counsel we would no doubt exercise a healthy and salutary influence, as the pouring of oil on troubled waters. We should we shrink from such a task merely because it might "offer us less than nothing"? That is not our way.

It is an obvious fact that the nations of the world are today closely bound by commerce, by communications of all kinds. More understanding of one another is needed. The old bromide that warns us to keep out of European affairs is not only a misnomer; it suggests an impossible situation, something that does not fit into the present scheme of things. The advice of our fathers could well have been heeded in 1776. But the world is not the same today; and today's problems must be met with today's vision.

We seek world trade and its benefits, of which peace and prosperity are the most prized. Is it not extremely selfish to seek these benefits and not to willingly lend a hand in the responsibilities that must be a part of modern world intercourse? WILLIAM PIERCE.

THE NEGLECT OF HOME INDUSTRIES.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—The plans and specifications for the new skating rink at Illinois university and the remodeling of the Broadway armory in Chicago call for several thousand dollars' worth of mechanical apparatus made in Wisconsin when there are a score of tax paying Illinois firms manufacturing the same apparatus of as good or better grade at, in some cases, lower prices. UNEMPLOYED.

EXTENDING AN IDEA.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—All the large concerns gave their employés an "opportunity" to subscribe to the governor's relief fund and also thoughtfully offered the services of their cashiers in collecting the subscriptions. Why not prevail upon the same concerns to give their stockholders and bondholders a chance to contribute? The treasurers could conveniently collect by deductions from the dividend and interest checks. WORKER.

THE WOMAN PAYS.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Litsinger has driven the woman from public life and made her a political outcast. It is the usual case of a woman bearing the entire burden of any indiscretion. Litsinger, having driven Mrs. Blackledge out of her public employment, ought to have the decency to resign his. Retire from their own stories, is worthy of holding public office. Because Mrs. Blackledge was appointed she was forced out. Litsinger, being elected, can hold on, if he has the brazenness to do so, until his term expires. In the meantime he is the laughing stock of Chicago. FLORENCE PEARSON.

Mrs. Gladys H. Bevans Tells Daily How to Guide Children

THE LONG LOOP

BY B. M. BOWER

SYNOPSIS.

Miss Lorrabee, head of Whistling Creek ranch, was swindled in an oil well frameup by Tom Gray, neighboring rancher and banker. Everything he owned, except the home ranch, was mortgaged. Dix, an orphan, keeps from his grandmother and his young brother, Gram, the true state of affairs. Gram has her heart set on seeing Chuck a doctor. Chuck has expensive tastes and his indulgent elder brother has a hard task paying for his college luxuries and material demands.

Mart McGuire tempts Dix with the idea of changing the brand of the cattle from Gray's O T ranch to a coffeepot, symbol of Dix's own.

Tad, an Indian helper, discovers a lost valley with a geyser on the Coffeepot ranch. A narrow passage leads to it, through what seems to be a blank cliff wall. It is an ideal hiding spot for cattle.

His vague misgivings Dix begins rustling from Gray's herd, hiding the stolen cattle in the Lost Valley. A blizzard obliterates all traces of the crime.

INSTALLMENT X.
A SECOND FORAY.

Four days after the storm, while the snow still lay banked against the trail which masked the narrow way to the Lost Valley, the foreman of the O T ranch came riding alone and going slowly, looking this way and that as he rode across the basin to the house. Dix met him at the door, heard almost much preliminary conversation that the foreman—one Clancy Brown—was looking for stolen cattle. He wanted to know if any suspicious riders had been seen over this way. Dix said he hadn't seen any, but Brown had better ask the boys about it. So he saddled a horse and rode with Brown to Whistling Spring, where Mart and Tom were supposed to be clearing away the sand and slush snow away from a headgate.

Brown's eyes missed nothing, and Dix was careful not to make too much progress up the trail, but held his horse down to a walk and even detoured aside to ride through bunches of grazing Coffeepot cattle, talking casually as he went. They arrived at the spring to find Mart and old Tom Hall at work and only mildly curious at the arrival of the boss with the O T foreman.

"It sure does beat hell four ways," complained Brown after Dix had explained his errand. "Them cattle never got across the railroad, and they ain't over on this side—we've combed every foot of the range since the storm. The snow piled up in the hollows and the range stock is all drifting on the ridges since the weather warmed up, so it's dead easy to ride every bunch."

"Well, we pushed our cattle in toward the hills, like I planned on doing," Dix responded. "There was some O T's among 'em, but nothing to speak of as many as you say you lost."

"They sure picked a good time for it," Mart remarked.

"I mean that bunch," Brown brushed them aside with a gesture. "No, it's a bunch of beef cattle that hung out in Buffalo Wash; they're gone. All the mixed stock that was running over between Antelope and Cattle Creek. About two hundred head, near as I can make a guess. Coupla the boys was range ridin' after the storm and they reported it. I naturally figured they'd drifted down the Wash, but there ain't a sign of 'em down that way."

"They was on the range, all right, the day I drove over after that bunch," Dix told him. "I sure remember that bunch of steers that hangs out in Buffalo Wash. They hogged the trail for over a mile."

"That was the day before the blizzard," the foreman said, gloomily. "Over ten days ago. Ja happen to notice any O T's ranging along Antelope when you road home?"

"Yeah, I saw a few scattered bunches in there, kinda crowding over toward Cattle creek, looked like. Some of 'em did get across the creek on the ice, for next day when I sent the boys out to push the Coffeepots in close to the ranch there was some O T's mixed in with our stuff."

"Yeah, but there's a bigger bunch than them gone," Brown reiterated, profanely. "Rustled, by the looks of things. Drove clear outa the country, I guess. It must have been just about the beginning of the blizzard."

"They sure picked a good time for it," Mart remarked, and the O T waddy profanely agreed with him and presently rode back down the pass with Dix, plainly baffled and not particularly careful to hide his disappointment.

"The son-of-a-gun sure gave us the once-over," Dix commented to Mart with forced cheerfulness that evening in the bunk house. "I felt in my bones that he came over here expecting to find something. One way or another he managed to get a look at every critter on the ranch."

"I kinda thought he didn't ride all the way over here just to ask if we'd seen any strangers," Mart replied. "He knows damn well we ought to be rustlin' off the O T, even if we ain't."

"I was kinda worried about tracks going in behind that rock," Dix said, after a pause. If Clancy Brown had ever spotted any sign—but you never could see in the crevice at all, as luck would have it. That's all that saved our bacon today, Mart."

"O, yeah?" Mart's tone was eloquent of scorn. "It might s'prise yuh, if I know we was over in Lost Valley and took a look at the cattle. They got themselves located over across by that geyser and they never pay no attention to it blowin' off. It warms things up enough to make a garden with them O T's, and the grass is green all along the creek—no snow at all."

"Well, how in thunder'd you get in there? Fly?"

"Ain't you big sap, we didn't fly. We walked. If you and Clancy Brown went behind that big sharp boulder that sticks up about ten feet above the snowbank piled along the cliff you'd have saw the slickest snow tunnel you ever stuck a shovel into. What d'yuh reckon I was doin' that year I went up in the Yukon? The good Lord shore sent that blizzard right in when it sick uh time, Dix. I knowed the snow'd be banked high along that trail—it always is when the wind's like it was all through the blizzard. Me and Tom had everything all figured out befo' we went to bed las' night."

"Well, you was darn careful not to say a word to me about what you aimed to do," Dix flung back at him. "Course, I'm only the boss, and I ain't supposed to know what's being done around here. You'd think, by rights, that you and Tom own this outfit and I'm just the little boy you took to raise!"

"Yeah? Well, we shore aim to raise yuh so t' keep a roof over your head and not land in the poorhouse!" Mart grinned shamelessly in Dix's face and continued:

"Say, Dix, why don't you build a shed uh some kind up ag'inst that cliff and throw a corral around it?"

"Well, that's once where I beat you to it. I've been planning that out ever since." Dix absently figured the cards he held in his hand. "It sure does get a fellow to figuring and scheming the minute he starts going crooked."

"Crooked, hell!" Mart snorted. "You're just beginnin' to get some sense knocked into your head, what I mean."

"Well, call it sense or call it sorrow, we got to keep the right hand from knowing where the left hand drives them O T's after they hit the pasture," Dix retored, frowning. "I thought we better tear down that shed by the creek and move it up there by the spring. We better do it before anybody else comes snooping around here. That'll account for the tracks we're a mind to make up there. It's a good location for a holding corral, or for the hospital bunch, when we've got one, or—well, anyway we can tell 'em it's none of their business what we aim to use it for. It's Larrabee land and we can do as we please with it."

"That's right," Mart approved. "Me an' Tom'll start right in t'morra mornin' and start rustlin' down that shed and haulin' it up there."

So they moved the shed and built a large, stout corral around it for their calves in the fall, and they hid the entrance to the crevice so well that no one could possibly suspect the head of the basin was not a solid wall. They made another foray one gusty night when old Tom said a norther was coming next day and got a bunch of O T cattle that was drifting along the lower banks of Cattle creek.

That particular bunch of cattle had been planted there had an idea that this particular bunch of cattle had been planted there had an idea that this particular bunch of cattle had been planted there for rustler bait, but that did not dull his enthusiasm in getting them into the shale ridge and on into Whistling creek basin, and so on into the Lost Valley corral and through the crevice behind it.

That night they prayed earnestly for the rain to fall and got a copious downpour for two days which washed out any possible trail they might have left behind them.

His eyes they were blue
And they twink-led with glee, dear
His smile it would charm
All the birds off a tree, dear.
The shoul-ders which wore
The mu-ni-ci-pal, O
Were broad as this
Irish-man's heart it was true, O.
Yes, plen-ty of cops might
Have been the bo-log-ney
But all of the crooks
Feared the name of Ma-hon-ey.
"The Cos-tel-lo Case" sings
Of sin-ners and sin;
Of mur-der with-out
And of rob'-b'ry with-in
Of gangs-sters who o-pen-ly
Dare to guf-faw
At what is K. O., in the Name of the law. (You'll HAVE to stand it.)
Of a boy and a girl on
The skids for a fall
Who're saved by Ma-hon-ey—
But that is-n't ALL the
Dought-y po-lice-man
Ac-com-plish-es, NO!
He de-tects, and cap-tures
And works the wires so
That mur-d'rer and mo-ney
Turn up just as he
Had planned they would do,
His plots work to a "T."
Ah, Sher-lock, you were
A sle-uth ver-y to-ny
But not to be com-pared
With Mis-ter Ma-hon-ey!
Tom Moore as Ma-hon-ey's the Joy of the piece. The Folks who sup-port him
Do it ve-ry nice-ly.
The film has some laughs
And pret-ty good di-rec-tion
The sto-ry is a
Ve-ry na-ive con-fec-tion.
You feel it AIN'T LIFE as lived a la Ca-po-ne.
Ma-honey? Ah, IS there a cop
LIKE Ma-hon-ey?!!
See you tomorrow!

Even Some Bakers Are Tempted by Things They Bake

The public is to be admitted today to gaze at row upon row of cream puffs, English spice cakes, walnut strudle, gooseberry delights, Danish layer cake, strawberry pie, French pastries, and so on, all of which has been exhibited the last three days to tempt bakers alone. The bakers, members of the Association of Bakers of America, in convention in the Hotel Sherman, have not been tempted; however.

Despite the lavish outlay of tortes and buns and cakes, the ravishing icing made into edible hearts, doves, violets, roses, lilies of the valley, and bows, not a cookie has been consumed, not a cake bitten.

"Don't they ever eat anything they bake?" two bakers' wives were asked.

"O, yes," replied Mrs. Helen Popp, wife of George of 436 West 43d street. "I've forgotten how to bake since I've been married. Mr. Popp likes a pie or cake he's baked for supper."

"And does my husband eat what he bakes? He certainly does," said Mrs. M. S. Pickam, 5806 South Racine avenue. "Why, we have cake three times a day. My sister has a fit. She says I shouldn't eat cake for breakfast. But it's that good I can't resist it."

"Well, George is eating at the bakery all day, and then he comes home with a cake under his arm and eats a big dinner. I don't see how he does it. And he's a small man, thin, I mean. Seems all bakers are thin," Mrs. Popp said.

TO WED IN JUNE

MISS GENEVIEVE ULVESTAD.
[Murillo Photo.]

Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Ulvestad of River Forest announce the engagement of their daughter, Genevieve, to Theodore Kuchel of Anaheim, Cal. Miss Ulvestad was graduated last June from the University of California. She is teaching at present in Anaheim, and is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha. The wedding will take place in June in Chicago.

Paris Audience Goes Wild Over Jap Girl from U. S.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Miss Yoshiko Miyakawa, 19 years old, of Sacramento, Cal., earned a great ovation tonight as she made her debut in the title rôle of "Madame Butterfly" at the Opera Comique.

Even the musicians in the orchestra rose to their feet during the dozen curtain calls.

Critics said that Miss Miyakawa sang the rôle with a charm and freshness of voice rarely if ever known before, proving herself a faultless musician and an astonishingly convincing actress.

"My parents are Japanese, but I am an American," said the young star proudly after the performance.

Italian Stage Gets National Censorship

Mussolini Is Chief of the Controlling Board.

ROME, Jan. 28.—(AP)—A national censorship of the theater has gone into effect in Italy with the passage of a bill presented by Mussolini as minister of the interior.

The bill consolidates into the hands of the ministry at Rome the censoring powers hitherto confined to the prefects of the various provinces. It names a special board of censors, headed by Mussolini himself and consisting of the advocate general of the Court of Appeals, a representative of the Fascist party, the head of the police, and a representative of the National Syndicate of Authors and Playwrights.

The bill probably will be welcomed by producers, even though it places considerable power in the hands of a few persons, because it relieves them of the necessity of presenting scripts of their plays to each provincial prefect before the work can be produced in that province. From now on, approval by the central board of censors is sufficient for the whole kingdom.

Plays approved by prefects under the existing law still may have five years to run without other examination. Plays, though approved by the central board, which would be injudicious in certain localities may be prohibited in those districts. The Rome police administrative head is made responsible for the carrying out of the law. Play scripts are presented to him and passed by him to the board of censors.

That Mussolini believes in censorship of the stage is evident from his report with which he presented the bill to the chamber of deputies. He said, "Censorship of the theater is necessary to preserve the morals of our people."

The national board of censors will not be called upon to repress any decided trend toward loose morals. The Italian stage's naughtiest ventures are diluted translations of French bedroom farces. Now and then an American or English play, like Somerset Maugham's "The Sacred Flame," will draw a little protest from the Vatican. But the Italian newspapers never have to record instances of the police arresting the whole cast and the producer of a play or musical comedy.

Roxy May Conduct All Amusements in John D. Jr.'s Project

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Roxy, who signs his letters "S. L. Rothafel," is leaving Broadway.

He and his "gang" and Mme. Ernestine Schuman-Heink are going on a two months' tour of the United States and when they return Roxy's resignation as manager of the theater that bears his nickname will have become effective. His contract ends March 29. The directors announced his resignation yesterday.

Just what he is going to do upon his return he has not yet said, but it is believed along Broadway that he is to be entertainment director of the radio and amusement center, "Rockefeller City," planned by John D. Rockefeller Jr. and the Radio Corporation of America on a large Fifth avenue site.

Rockefeller Changes Plans.

Bar Harbor, Me., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller Jr. has asked the director of national parks to release him from an offer made last June to construct in part through lands in Acadia National park and in greater part through lands which he personally owns more than twenty miles of motor and horse roads which Mr. Rockefeller's engineers had estimated to cost in excess of four millions of dollars. The Rockefeller offer was accepted by the government on Sept. 11, since which time there has been criticism, at times bitter, of the Rockefeller program by Mr. Rockefeller's neighbors in the fashionable summer colonies of Bar Harbor, Seal Harbor, and other resorts bordering upon the national park.

Negro Farmer Buys Old House; Sells Antiques

Gatesville, N. C., Jan. 28.—(AP)—C. E. Smith, Negro farmer, has found a "gold mine," not in the ground but in an "old house."

The "old house" standing on Smith's farm happened to have been built and furnished back in 1775. It once was known as "Buckland."

Shortly after the Negro bought the "old place" antique seekers began fairly swarming down on him and the ramshackled old house. He already has sold enough antique furnishings—mantels, locks, doors, windows, window blinds, staircases, and what not—to pay off the mortgage on the farm.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

"REBOUND" is an excellent title for this play by Donald Ogden Stewart. He seems to have picked it up on the second bounce from Philip Barry's "Holiday." Maybe these two bright boys of letters are really one and the same person. Or perhaps they live in each other's pockets. Anyway, "Rebound" and "Holiday" are philopenas.

Well, here it is, at the Goodman, played with the necessary jauntiness by the competent repertorians. It deals with a group of gay young Americans who are trying to be "modern" in the Harvard-Princeton-Yale style. They are casual, cynical and irrelevant; and they are so fertile in wisecracks that they sound like a meeting of the editorial board of The New Yorker. But underneath it all, deep down below their jazzy, flippant surfaces, they have hearts that throb and ache—ah, yes. They suffer from unrequited love like the blighted beings in Scott Fitzgerald's woozy short stories.

Sara can't land Johnnie, and Evie has just broken her engagement to Bill. So Sara and Bill pair off to console each other. This happens after breakfast at a week-end somewhere in Westchester.

Bill and Sara are honeymooning gloriously at the Ritz in Paris, when Evie turns up. Bill falls for the old love, and Sara smashes her champagne glass in bitter jealousy.

Then the good old gang adjourns to Westchester again. Heart-strings are torn all along the line. Bill and Evie are still having their little affair, and Sara is wondering what to do—to give Bill the air and team up with faithful little Johnnie or to forgive Bill and live with him unhappily forever afterward.

They finally get the insignificant muddle of their unimportant little lives straightened out without making a story for the tabloids; and another comedy of the futile, feckless young moderns of the American scene ends its course.

Plays of this type are supposed to represent the "new touch" in the American comedy of manners. The method is a flow of waggish dialogue that sounds like the "he and she" lines under caricatures in the comic weeklies; a constant straining for topical witticisms; a continual joshing and kidding among the characters, each using exactly the same idiom of speech and thought. A few words now and then that hint at the existence of a plot. A general behavior as of cut-ups at a gin-stricken party. An occasional working of the sob-pump to prove that these merry puppets have emotions.

Mr. Stewart is a bright wag in verbal humor. His dialogue has frequent sparkles. But as a play, this "Rebound" is thin, artificial and trivial. Its appeal is only for young pseudo-sophisticates who are trying desperately to be smartly "modern."

Mr. Osborne has staged the piece attractively; the two settings have atmosphere and ornamental detail. Ellen Root, as Sara the distressed bride, is as effective as she was in a similar rôle in "Holiday." Earl McDonald is persuasive as the pretentious and philandering Bill. Others who have important assignments which they handle skillfully are William Brenton, as the yearning Johnnie; Katherine Krug, as the man-hunting Evie; Harry Mervis, Kent Smith, and Carl Kroenke.

If "Rebound" represents the most advanced tendency in American comedy, I intend to pray for a reaction.

Smoke Called Health Peril, Industry's Foe

Soot Laden Fogs Topic of Engineers.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Engineers were told today that smoke is Time's chief ally in leveling man and his creations to dust.

To smoke, they were told, may be laid fogs that rob humanity of the sun's health giving ultra-violet rays, the acids that persistently gnaw at structures of iron and steel and the wood and fabrics within, the acrid compounds and minute particles that damage the delicate tissues of the body, inducing devitalism, sickness, and even untimely death.

The indictment was presented to the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers in a paper by H. B. Meller, chief of Pittsburgh's bureau of smoke regulation and head of an investigation of air pollution by the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research here. It gave the immediate solution as proper use of so-called "smokeless" fuels, and the ultimate end the "white city" of an electrical age to come.

"When it is remembered," the paper said, "that the average adult breathes about 30 cubic inches of air in each inhalation—equivalent to approximately 37½ pounds of air per day, or about seven times the weight of food and water consumed—it does not seem an exaggeration to say that more persons are devitalized, diseased and poisoned by the impurities contained in smoke polluted air than by the noxious ingredients in food and water. Not only do these air-borne impurities irritate the sensitive membranes of the eyes, nose, throat, and lungs, and thus aggravate or cause diseases of these organs, or produce collapse of their sensitive tissues, or increase their susceptibility to acute respiratory diseases, but poisonous compounds also enter the gastro-intestinal tract and may cause nausea, vomiting, diarrhea and systemic poisoning.

"It is likewise presumptively possible that irritating, acrid soot particles and poisonous smoke compounds may, by slow, insidious action, become factors in depleting potential reserve, leaving open the way for sickness, or even premature decay and untimely death."

Oddly enough, soot, the engineers were told, has bactericidal properties through the acids and phenols it carries with it, and yet at the same time helps promulgate and prolong the fogs that shield bacteria in the air from the sun's ultra-violet radiations so fatal to them.

Similarly, soot alone was described as an effective, though unsightly, protective covering. But almost invariably soot carries with it corrosive acids, and with them tarry substances that, almost cementing soot to walls and girders, allow the biting acids to hasten disintegration undisturbed unless removed by scouring or sand blasting that only lay bare new surfaces to act upon.

The effect of concrete was described as even more damaging. Working upon the aluminate of the cement, Meller's paper said, the acids cause chemical action resulting in "crystals of appreciable size which, acting like millions of tiny jacks, produce a tremendous pressure in the aggregate."

Stenos Hear Plans for Speeding Work by Wage Incentive

The "wage incentive plan," by which stenographers are paid according to the amount of work they do, their accuracy and speed, is the coming system, said Miss Florence Dauphin, chairman of a joint meeting of the Stenographic Supervisors' and the Office Managers' clubs of Chicago. They met in the Palmer house last night. She asked for a vote of those who favored that plan; only three women voted for it.

"One company has a wage incentive plan in which a girl gets $25 a week for 4,800 keystrokes," Miss Dauphin said. "For every 640 keystrokes over that amount she gets 3 cents, and after a certain number, 4 cents. It was possible to make $44 a week. That's too much."

Every one agreed. A corset company office manager said his company had adopted the wage incentive plan. For the first 1,500 points, with 240 keystrokes to the point, a girl made $25. When it started some girls making the biggest salaries lost their jobs, as they were proved inefficient; one girl rose from $20 to $24, and two girls made $37 a week. Each of these two, he said, hit such a pace as to be dangerous to her health, striking five typewriter keys a second.

Southwest, Dunes, France, in Art Show

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

THERE opened yesterday at the Chicago Galleries, 220 North Michigan avenue, an exhibition of paintings by Frank V. Dudley, Carl Hoerman, and Albert Worcester. Dudley shows us the dunes, Hoerman the marvels of the southwest, and Mr. Worcester intrigues us with a charming display of water colors whose source is Normandy. The show will continue to Feb. 18.

The first of the two rooms has been given over to the water colors and they strike a fresh and vivid note. Mr. Worcester has a delightful feeling for composition and color and a keen perception of the picturesque possibilities of a place or event so that his exhibit, as one would expect, is full of interesting episodes to do with ships and shore and little towns.

Mr. Hoerman is not as familiar a name as it might be. Scattered paintings of his have been seen before. Gathered together, however, these excellently handled and richly brilliant canvases give us an exact picture of his very able talent as well as taking us a long way into the strange wonderland of New Mexico and Arizona. I know of no better painting of canyons than we find here. There are, besides, several paintings of desert and cactus, the desert shading off into violet horizons, and one or two dramatic paintings of winter.

Chief among these exhibitors, however, must be placed Mr. Dudley. Mr. Dudley has been painting the dune country of Illinois and Indiana for a full twenty years, but its charm in his pictures has never grown less. He himself during this service to the sand hills with their curious shadings and shifting formations, its trees and glorious flowers, has grown immeasurably. The present exhibit marks his progress. The paintings are superb. They are beautiful and real. They delight and astonish you again and again. The umbrella open on the sand; the little cottage nestled under a protecting slope; shadows in the afternoon; flowers in the spring; the lake in its blue rhythm of ripples; the still life; turn as you will the conviction grows that here is shown the work of a man who ranks as a leader in contemporary art.

Boys and Piano Practice Aren't Always Congenial

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Short reading references on child management will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The advisability of children who dislike practicing on a musical instrument continuing to do so comes up so often that I feel it may be helpful to print the following letter, which states one form of the difficulty:

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: I am writing you asking you to kindly give me your candid advice on the following situation:

"I have a boy, going to junior high school, age 13, who has been taking piano lessons for three years. His teacher, as well as every one who hears him, says he is talented and will make a real piano player.

"Now the troubling situation is, he constantly refuses to practice and four times out of five he has to be forced to go and practice, and unless I stay right with him, runs over the lesson in a regular boy's 'I don't care' way. His remarks are that he hates practicing to such an extent that he knows he never will learn to play. His dad suggests that we let him quit the piano and I feel the opposite, as my hopes are that when he gets two or three years older he will appreciate our having made him stay at it.

"Am thinking seriously of deciding one way or the other upon receiving an expression from you as to what you would do if it were your boy."

A reply upon which some one else's decision rests must be carefully, even cautiously, made. My opinion in situations like this is, first make some constructive attempt to solve the problem of his practicing so that he doesn't consider it such a punishment. Try a short practice period for instance, even if his progress is slower. And fit it to the time of day that he prefers and when he works best.

If these or other plans fail entirely to reconcile the boy to his music, then I should permit him to stop. Even if he thanks you later, that may not compensate for days and months of uncongenial, boring labor. Instead, try to find out what other talent he has and let him develop that and enjoy the exercise of it.

Food Talk.

Yorkshire pudding is an excellent accompaniment of roast beef. It is an English favorite and a food for which we Americans ought to cultivate a liking more than we have.

The English cook bakes the pudding in the pan in which the meat is roasted. The pudding takes up all the drippings itself and it is good, but there is no chance for gravy when this method is used. There is another way, however, that will provide for both gravy and pudding.

Purchase some extra suet with the roast, if it is not a fat one from which you can cut what is needed. Fry or render the suet and pour it into a hot pan. Be sure there is enough fat to have some standing in the bottom of the pan.

Pour in the pudding which has been prepared in this way: Measure 1 cup of sifted flour and mix with ¼ teaspoon of salt and resift. Then add 1 cup of milk gradually and stir well so that the batter will be smooth. Beat two eggs until they are light—at least three or four minutes of beating will be necessary. Then add the eggs to the batter and beat another minute or two. This batter should be full of bubbles. Place the pudding in a hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit). It should bake in about 20 minutes. After the pudding has raised well baste it with drippings from the roast, but remember to save enough for gravy.

Serve the pudding in slices or squares, a portion with each helping of roast beef. Notice that the recipe is much like one for popovers in the method of mixing and in the ingredients. No leavening agent is used.

IRISH STEW WITH DUMPLINGS.

3 pounds breast of lamb cut in pieces.
½ cup carrots, cut in cubes.
½ cup turnips, cut in cubes.
1 onion, sliced.
4 cups potatoes in ¼ inch slices.
¼ cup flour.
Salt and pepper.
Dumplings.

Put meat in kettle, cover with boiling water and cook slowly for 2 hours or until tender. After cooking for one hour add carrot, turnip, and onion. Half an hour before serving add the potatoes. Thicken with flour, mixed with ¼ cup cold water. Season with salt and pepper. Serve with dumplings.

Yield: 8 servings. One serving: Total, 460 calories; protein, 159 calories; fat, 228 calories; carbohydrates, 73 calories.

APPLE TARTS.

Plain pastry.
6 to 8 sour apples.
½ to ⅔ cup sugar.
¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg or cinnamon.
¼ teaspoon salt.
2 teaspoons lemon juice.
Few gratings lemon rind.
½ tablespoon butter.

Line tart tins with plain pastry. Pare, core and cut apples in sixteenths and put into pastry shells. Mix sugar, nutmeg, salt, lemon juice, and grated rind and sprinkle over apples. Dot over with butter. Wet the edges of the under crust, cover with the upper crust and press the edges together. Set the pie in the bottom of a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes. Then move to the middle shelf, reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees Fahrenheit) and bake 40 to 45 minutes.

Yield: 6 tarts. One tart: Total, 290 calories; protein, 10 calories; fat, 79 calories; carbohydrates, 201 calories.

Largely About Debutantes of Recent Days

BY THALIA ——.

Where, O where do the little buds go
When they've blossomed and made their bow?
They've been partied and dated
And merrily feted—
Alas! Is it all over now?

Of course it isn't, and fortunately there's no need for a debutante's lament, because they're getting along quite nicely, thank you, even if they're not as much in the spotlight now as they were during their own particular season of pretty privetics.

There doesn't seem to be as many of them going east to proms this year as usual, Constance Hasler and Helen Stanley being about the only ones. They leave tomorrow for New Haven. There they are to attend the midseason festivities as guests, respectively, of Gaylord Donnelley and Jimmie Heyworth. Miss Hasler is to stay in New York for a week or two, and later on she and her mother, Mrs. Edward L. Hasler, are going to California.

Fayette Smith and her mother, Mrs. Alex Smith, departed on Tuesday to sail for a European trip, and Virginia Waller and Winifred Wheeler will be down at Palm Beach for the remainder of the season. Betty Offield and her mother, Mrs. James R. Offield, are leaving tomorrow for Palm Beach to be at the Everglades club for a month.

Elsa Armour, Beatrice Kirk, and Gita Watson are staying at home for the present. The Kirks and the Armours will probably go away for a trip about Eastertime. The Huntington Henrys are planning to go to Phoenix, Ariz., in March, and Hortense will accompany them.

Lucy Stone is returning on Sunday to Vassar to resume her studies for the second semester, and the Harry Streets and their Jeanne and Katherine are moving back out to Winnetka next week, after spending a few months in town. The girls will go to St. Louis for a visit with relatives some time next month. Ruth Crossett is in California.

Wherein Debutantes Are Objects of Serious Study.

Still speaking of debutantes—my dear, can you wait for the next number of the Tatler and American Hostess? It's to have an All-American team of debs, 33 of them, from various cities in the United States. Last edition was the "debutante number" and included articles on "Are Parents Deb Conscious?" and "Are Debs Parent Conscious?"—also photographs of Florence Otis and Geraldine Swift.

Imagine the patrician Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine as "Diamond Lil," wearing a duplicate of Mae West's famous scarlet, rhinestone studded gown and blonde wig! That was her costume for the "Patriarch's ball" that she and Mrs. Charles Garfield King gave last night at the Casino. The party was one of the very gayest of the season.

Fifty-four of the town's handsomest and most distinguished grandfathers were there [a couple of dozen regrets were received at the last minute because of the flu], all dressed in the costumes of their youth. Old fashioned decorations of carnations, smilax and festoons or ribbon were used to make the Casino a perfect background for the hour glass figures and pompadours of the ladies who waltzed gayly with the mustached, high collared gentlemen.

WINNETKA BRIDE

MRS. WILLIAM WYNES NICHOLAS II.
[Carlos Photo.]

The marriage of Miss Frances Elizabeth Weld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitmore Weld of Winnetka, to William Wynes Nicholas II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsley Vincent Nicholas, took place on Jan. 10.

Some Additional Words on Foujita; He Likes Chicago.

Foujita likes Chicago and thinks the people he has met are very nice. Alice Roullier gave a luncheon for him at the Casino yesterday, with the other guests including the John Alden Carpenters, Frederic C. Bartlett, the Walter Brewsters, Mr. and Mrs. John Storrs, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Arthur Heun, and Mrs. Russell Matthias. The artist was to start a portrait of Mr. Goodspeed yesterday afternoon, and next week he is to do a painting of the Storrs' daughter, Monica. There's to be a gray cat in the picture and there was quite a lot of bother getting it, because it had to be just exactly the right kind.

The Little Room used to meet every Friday afternoon, and entertained the great and interesting people of the world when they went through Chicago, but of recent years, so many of the writer, artist, and musician members of the group have moved away that the meetings have dwindled to two or three a year. The first one of 1931 is to be held this Friday afternoon at Ralph Clarkson's studio in the Fine Arts building, and Maude Radford Warren, who has been at the Fortnightly for a Chicago visit, is to be the guest of honor.

Another interesting socio-artistic party is the one Jerome Uhl is to give at his studio in the Italian court, also on Friday afternoon. He's asked Mrs. Hayden Harris, Mrs. Marshall Blair, Mrs. Andrew Sherriff, Mrs. Jacob Baur, and Mrs. Townsend McKeever to be hostesses. Gigli is to be the special guest, and while nobody will have the bad taste to ask him to sing, all of the 75 guests will be pinching their thumbs that maybe he will be moved to do so.

Some Santa Barbara News About Chicagoans There.

From Santa Barbara [posted last week-end]—Dorothy Wilson, the Milton Wilsons' daughter, gave a dinner party for her house guests, Miss Ruth and Miss Virginia Boardman, who were here for the Junior league conference, and later the guests went to the Biltmore for dancing. . . . Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Robinson will give a dinner for Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman on Tuesday at Ty-Gwyn, their residence in Pepper lane, Montecito, and Mrs. Alfred E. Dieterich gives a luncheon today [Saturday] for her at Casa Bienvenida, also in Montecito. . . . Mrs. Agnes P. Wilder has returned from Palm Springs on the desert. . . . Mrs. Stanley R. McCormick gave a theater party last evening at Lobero. . . . Other theater parties for the opening of "Once in a Lifetime" included the Harry Lee Tafts, who had dinner at Croydon, their house in Middle road, before the play; the August Magnuses and Oren Taft III. . . . Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor and Mrs. Milton Wilson have been elected directors of the Little Town club.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Mrs. Hoover attended the concert at the Mayflower when Gigli and Doninelli, tenor and soprano stars of the Metropolitan opera, gave the program. Mrs. Hoover had with her Mrs. French Strother, Mrs. Stark McMullin, and Miss Sue Dyer of California.

Mrs. Frank J. Loesch of Chicago, who is at the Mayflower for the winter, gave a luncheon today for Mrs. Owen J. Roberts, wife of an associate justice of the United States Supreme court, and had among other guests Mrs. Clifford Roberts, mother of the justice; Mrs. Frederick A. Delano, Mrs. Joseph E. Washington and her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Blagden of Philadelphia and Greenwich, Conn.; Mrs. Lucy Wilder Morris of Minnesota, Mrs. William P. MacCracken Jr., Mrs. Robert McClay of New York, Mrs. Herbert Hadley, widow of the former governor of Missouri, and Mrs. Henry Dawes of Chicago.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement of Miss Marjorie Straus, daughter of Arthur W. Straus, who recently retired from the vice presidency of S. W. Straus & Co., to Jack Cummings, film production executive, was announced yesterday in Hollywood. Miss Straus is 23 years old. Cummings is the son of Mrs. Ida Cummings, sister of Louis B. Mayer, film magnate, and is one of his uncle's assistants in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Film corporation. He is 26 years old.

Horowitz Plays for Benefit of Crippled Kids

BY EDWARD MOORE.

PATRONS crowded Orchestra hall and surged up over the stage as well last night to hear Vladimir Horowitz give a piano recital. So, while financial figures are lacking, there is reason to believe that the Dorothy Kahn Club for Crippled Children, which sponsored the affair, ought to feel pleased with the result.

Announcements went out that Mr. Horowitz will return for another recital March 15, this time playing a Chopin program. Few have as good a right to give that sort of a program as he, as he proved last night with the Chopin B minor sonata.

He has a fabulous technical development, one of the kind that he and his hearers can afford to forget all about, confining their attention to just the music as it comes from his fingers. Yet with this stupendous ability he goes in little for the ornate in interpretation. Essentially everything he does is trimmed down to the most serene simplicity. A case in point was the third movement of the sonata, where he used about one-third the amount of tone of any other pianist who ever tried it, yet kept it all logical, balanced, and unfailingly interesting.

So while he can bank around with the best of them in Bach as rewritten by Busoni—the organ prelude and fugue in D—and while his Liszt flashes and glistens in a way no mechanical device could better, an all-Chopin program by him deserves to be listed among the important futures.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

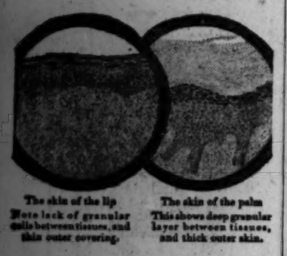
Does it hurt you to smile?

Do your lips begin to chap as soon as cold weather starts? Cracked lips, split lips take the joy out of life. They're most unattractive to look at—and most unpleasant to have. Dangerous, too, with open places where germs can gain entry.

Nature, for reasons of her own, made your lip skin thinner than on the rest of your body. Only a gossamer-like membrane covers the tissues. Cold, wind, heat or light quickly dries it—and breaks follow.



The skin of the lip Note lack of granular cells between tissues and thin outer covering.

The skin of the palm This shows deep granular layer between tissues, and thick outer skin.

Roger & Gallet Lip Pomade gives just the protection you need. For 43 years thousands of men, women and children have used it for lip-comfort. Physicians order it for chapped or fevered lips, or during sun-ray treatment.

Bland, colorless, pure, it is safe enough to eat. It makes a perfect foundation under colored lipsticks. Get one at your druggist today—25 cents—and smile comfortably through the winter.

New Fashions in Coiffures Call for Beautiful Locks

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I got on the subject of hair this week and seem not to be able to get off it. But why should we? Is there anything at the current moment more important? For the time being, the silhouette seems to have lost first place in woman's devotion and hair is the substitute interest. Perhaps that may be because the silhouette is well under control and it can be forgotten for a while, since there are other things to do.

Anyway, hair is an outstanding interest, right now, both conversationally and pictorially. I may be repeating myself when I say that everywhere I go now o' nights I am impressed and reimpressed with the lovely heads seen. Perhaps it is the diversity of coiffures permitted at the moment that gives a new interest to the scene, for many and devious are the paths permitted the coiff this season. And it is to the credit and the greater adornment of women that they are being courageously individual in this matter of hairdressing.

Just as the dress fashions have regulated silhouette rigors, so the hair fashions are making women more and more conscious of the quality of their hair. I note, too, that they are taking the matter of hair gloss to heart. In fact, in some instances, more than to heart—to a hot oil tank, one might say. And some heads, though well waved and well sleeked down, look too oily, too glossy, for beauty.

I think mostly of blonde hair in this connection. The very greased look frequently seen on blonde heads is not attractive. A restraining hand might be held over the brilliantine bottle.

Brunettes can be more lavish with hair grease. But they're not so apt to overuse since they, as a class, do not suffer dryness of hair as do their paler sisters.

If the hair is dry gloss it. But put just a bit of oil on the palms of the hands or on the brush. Don't slather oil on. A better principle is to grease the scalp nightly with some lubricating oil or balsam. Brush it out through the hair, or massage it well into the scalp, if you won't disturb the wave with the hair brush.

R. Czerwonky Applauded with the Berlin Symphony

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Richard Czerwonky, noted Chicago musician, conducted the Berlin Symphony orchestra in Bach Saal tonight with conspicuous success, drawing warm applause from the crowded house. The program included the first performance of his "Episode," a symphonic tone poem for grand orchestra, which the audience especially appreciated.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

GARDENERS AT SCHOOL.

Truck gardeners growing commercial quantities of vegetables and small fruits in communities in northeastern Illinois are "going to school" this week and next week. The Cook County Gardeners and Farmers' association began a school yesterday morning in East Maine township, which will be adjourned today until the speakers reconvene tomorrow morning at Blue Island.

Another school Feb. 3, 4, and 5 will be conducted for truck growers in a program sponsored by the University of Illinois college of agriculture in cooperation with the county farm bureaus of northeastern Illinois and the Illinois natural history survey.

Speakers on the program at St. Matthew's school in East Maine include August Geweke, president of the sponsoring organization; E. P. Lewis of the state college of agriculture at Urbana, and other experts. Subjects for the northern and southern schools in the three day session include Chicago markets, cabbage, root crops and storage, fertilizer experiments, insect control, growing celery, electrically heated hotbeds, tomato production, phases of the seed industry and taxation.

The second school, which opens Tuesday morning in the Masonic temple at La Grange, has scheduled the following speakers: J. W. Lloyd, University of Illinois department of horticulture; Harvey J. Sconce, chief of the agricultural division of the World's Fair in 1933; O. G. Barrett, Cook county farm adviser, who will talk about Chicago's vegetable growing area; E. P. Lewis of the state university, the effect of severe cutting on asparagus; Emmett Orr, president of the Illinois State Vegetable Growers' association, growing vegetables for the Rockford market.

Richard Boonstra, utility company representative, will discuss the development of the use of electricity on the farm; Lee A. Somers of the state college of agriculture, care of hotbed plants; C. C. Compton, assistant state entomologist, results of insect control in 1930. In addition there will be an inspection of some of the latest designed garden tools, machinery, equipment, and supplies.

Patterns by Clotilde

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This tunic frock is most flattering with its bodice softly draped in cowl effect. Then, too, the puffed sleeves are pretty and becoming. It fits slenderly through the hips, and the pointed treatment back and front give the idea of length. The circular cut of the tunic and under skirt is cleverly handled with low placed fulness. Chiffon, flat crêpe, printed or plain, or crêpe de chine will be suitable materials to use.

The pattern, 2893, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material with ⅛ yard of 39 inch contrasting and 1⅛ yards of 35 inch lining.

Self-Centered Child Can Cause Parents Lots of Sadness

BY DORIS BLAKE.

This business of being a parent has its dark moments, as many a mother and father could tell. Whether the parent is to blame or not does not lighten the grief when the moment comes for him or her to say: "To think my boy," or "my girl would do THAT!"

It is so much easier to err than not in rearing children to thoughtful, kind, adulthood, especially where one child is the object of all maternal and paternal emotion. Perhaps it is the very greed of the parent, hungry for return devotion, that is to blame. Perhaps it is the selfishness of youth itself, or maybe it is just life's way of reminding us that we have to take the bitter with the sweet. Anyway, those crises in parent-child relationships do arise and bitter hard they are to take.

Here is a mother with a boy of 23. He left home at 20. He did not write letters nor so much as send a card at Christmas time. A friend of the mother and father ran into him accidentally in the city he had gone to. She told the boy how heartbroken his parents were and persuaded him to visit them.

He did come home and saw fit to remain. Now, at 23, he met a girl. They are engaged. Well, mother had a birthday early in December. The boy bought a present, a piece of china. Christmas came and the boy wheedled the gift back to present to the girl's mother.

He took the gift he had planned first to give his own father and presented it to the girl's father to set him more solidly there, presumably. He asked the mother for the locket and chain her mother owned to give to the girl.

His mother and father got a "merry Christmas, mom and dad" just as he left for the girl's house to spend the day. The point is that the boy is working, has all of his money for himself and yet couldn't save enough to meet all his Christmas expenses, so mom and dad were left holding the bag, as it were.

Of course, mom and dad have asked too little of the boy. They've spoiled him. They added more to the spoiling when they gave back the gifts to be passed on elsewhere. Nevertheless, twenty-three is an adult age. It's an age when a young man could well review his life and admit indebtedness for health, for schooling, for care, for love unselfishly given. Even for the spoiling, he could, if he would extend an understanding.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Clear Sailing Ahead.

"Dear Miss Blake: I was in love with a girl and at the same time she was going out with another fellow. She found out that this fellow didn't really love her, so is trying to make up with me. Should I go back or not? "MIKE."

With that obstacle removed, you should have easy sailing if you're still of the same mind, Mike.

Cotton Tunic Blouses Are Last Word in Chic

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS. — [Special] Correspondence.] —There will be a bumper crop of cotton fashions this spring. Cotton suits, cotton dresses and cotton blouses are being harvested by fashionable women and shipped south for immediate wear at smart resorts. Even in chilly Paris cottons are beginning to be worn in the form of blouses and details. Fine batiste and organdy blouses in all of the prettiest pastel tints are replacing silken waists in some of the most discriminating wardrobes. They give the winter suit a springtime aspect more successfully than anything in silk could do.

The tunic blouse in cotton stuff is just a shade more chic than the tuck-in blouse in the same material. These cotton blouses are always embellished by some kind of hand made details, if they aren't entirely made by hand. Hand run tucks, embroidered scallops and dots, and hemstitching and drawn work are the preferred kinds of hand done application for such blouses.

The sketch shows a hand made tunic blouse of aquamarine blue batiste which I saw the other day at Cirp's during the luncheon hour. It was worn with a black broadcloth suit, with a plain slightly flaring skirt as shown in the drawing. This blouse bears the unmistakable signs of Vionnet, and has a pointed over tunic extending halfway to the knees with a hemstitched bordering band. A V of hemstitching meets the pointed neckline in front and the shoulder yoke at the sides of the front and across the back is hemstitched. A bow of the batiste is placed on the left shoulder. The sleeves are long and plain, and at the wrists there is a band that winds around one and a half times and fastens under a snapper.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Wants to Borrow Sun Lamp.

"I am the mother of three children and have been ill for the last seven years. I was operated on three times and since my last operation the doctor advises sun ray treatments. I cannot afford to have them and, of course, I can't buy a lamp. Do you think there is some one among your friends who would permit me to use his or her lamp? MRS. E. C."

Being able to take the prescribed treatments would doubtless hasten this woman's recovery. Have you a lamp to lend her now and then?

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

B. S.: THERE IS NO HARM DONE by stopping perspiration under the arms, providing the application is not irritating to the skin. A 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride in distilled water is recomended. It is to be applied every second or third day, until three applications have been made. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for my booklet on excessive perspiration.

Every one of the Others has a Maid

At Edith's first "bridge" in her new home she makes a thrilling discovery . . .

"I do all my own work, yet my hands are as nice looking as theirs"

"DICK and I just moved to this charming suburb, but already we've met such an attractive 'young married' group.

"They're all more prosperous than we are—yet! Every one of the other women has a maid, while I do all my own work.

"So I was a little nervous about my first bridge. But it went off beautifully! They couldn't believe I did everything myself. Especially—they said—because my HANDS looked as if I had SEVERAL maids!

"Truly, my hands do look as lovely as theirs, and it's all due to my precious LUX. I use it not only for fine things, but also for dishes and cleaning. And my hands NEVER have that DISHPAN look!"

CASTORIA
A Safe Remedy for Constipation and Flatulency, and Promotes Assimilation of Food, Regulates the Stomach and Bowels of Children, Giving Healthy and Natural Sleep. Not Narcotic
Dose and Directions
Manufactured by
The Centaur Co. (New York)

WE can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Other times it's constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked promptly. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't you should call a physician.

All through babyhood, Castoria should be a mother's standby; and a wise mother continues it in more liberal doses as a child grows up.

Readily obtained at any drug-store, the genuine easily identified by the Chas. H. Fletcher signature and the name Castoria on the wrapper like this:

RELIEF WORKERS TO CLOSE DRIVE ON FEBRUARY 11

Start Final Campaign to Reach Quota.

The campaign of Gov. Emmerson's commission on unemployment and relief for the $5,000,000 set as the minimum amount needed to carry Chicago's destitute through the winter will be concluded Feb. 1, regardless of whether the goal is reached, Philip R. Clarke, chairman of the fund raising committee, announced last night.

The decision to conclude the campaign with a final two weeks' whirlwind effort was made at a meeting of committee heads at the Union League club. Because of "the indifference" volunteer workers have met during the last month plans to broaden the campaign were considered. The final effort was decided on after members of the committee discussed funds to destitute families told of the rapidly increasing needs.

Result "Up to Chicago."

"If Chicago is of a mind to measure up to the emergency that confronts it with increasing seriousness and alarm," Mr. Clarke said, "it can finish the job within a fortnight or not at all. It is plainly up to Chicago to retain its reputation of openheartedness. Most of the other industrial centers have already passed their own goals."

Total collections now stand at $4,070,450, leaving a deficit of $929,550 to be erased before the minimum quota is reached. To do this Mr. Clarke said daily contributions must be greatly increased over those of the last month.

Shows Need of Funds.

Despite the falling off in donations, the need for relief is constantly increasing, the officials declared. As an illustration of the unusual aspects relief demands have taken this winter Mr. Clarke pointed out Morgan Park. "Institution is abroad in the best neighborhoods," he said. "There isn't a regular charity organization within miles of Morgan Park. There has never been need for one. Yesterday we were providing for 240 Morgan Park families with the bare necessities of life through funds collected by the commission."

PURDUE GIVEN 160 ACRE TRACT FOR AN AIRPORT

La Fayette, Ind., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Purdue university was the recipient today of a gift of 160 acres of land adjacent to the campus for a university airport, the donor being David E. Ross, retired manufacturer, who is president of the Purdue board of trustees. The tract is level and free of trees and has already been approved by the U. S. department of commerce as a landing field and experimental station for aeronautical research.

Mr. Ross has previously given the university two large farms and was associated with George Ade of the Rossford stadium.

Purdue is one of the six universities in the country chosen by the federal government for aeronautical research in testing of airplane motors and work with wind tunnels. Much of this work will be transferred to the new field and students in aeronautical engineering will have practical work there in their courses.

Capt. G. W. Haskins is at the head of the aviation course at Purdue.

WHITE COLLAR WORKERS ASK SALLY FOR JOBS

Urges an Increase in Offers to Help.

A letter sent by Mrs. L. G., wife of a man who has had 14 years' experience in banking and department store jobs, was one of a number from members of the "white collar" class, now jobless, received yesterday by Sally Joy Brown of THE TRIBUNE. Sally referred them to the Illinois Free Employment Service, 116 North Dearborn street, where offers of work she receives are sent. There has been a falling off in the number of jobs offered recently, Sally stated, in the face of rising needs.

"I wonder if you can find a job for my husband," Mrs. L. G. wrote. "He has been out of work for the last ten months. We are staying with my folks, but they can't help us any longer, and we have a 5 months' old baby girl.

"Until his firm went bankrupt he was making a fine salary as head bookkeeper. We had a little money saved, but it is gone. We don't want charity, only a new start, and we'll pull through."

Asks Job as Seamstress.

A woman 28 years old, left alone with a little boy to support, said she would like a job finishing high class dresses or as a seamstress doing any kind of sewing.

Mr. H. I., who describes himself as "35 years old, college graduate, married, and with one son, wrote:

"We are perhaps not as bad off as many we read about as we do have a roof over our head as I am agent for a real estate firm which acts as receiver for the building we reside in, and get our apartment free. But I just must find some employment to be able to eat."

His wife is ill, and he has sent their son to his parents in Wisconsin, he said, as he could not support him. Mr. H. I. has had 10 years' experience in accounting, credits, and collections as well as general office work.

Job Offers Received.

Among the jobs offered through Sally Joy Brown by TRIBUNE readers yesterday was one for a carpenter. H. S., in the 1100 block on North Kedzie avenue, wanted a man to build a garage.

A permanent $25 a week job for a woman stenographer was offered by J. W., in the 5900 block on South State street. The B. Brothers, Inc., a paper company in the loop, offered $7 a day to a sign writer, a temporary job.

The L. M. company in the 8600 block on South Cicero avenue asked for a blacksmith. E. B., in the 4700 block on North Laramie avenue, wanted a man to wash walls. R. H., in the 1300 block on East 48th street, provided a job for a Negro woman as a laundress, to come twice a week at $4.15 a day.

ADVERTISING WILL BUILD UP FORTUNES, SAYS CYRUS CURTIS

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Cyrus H. K. Curtis, president of the Curtis Publishing company, Philadelphia, last night told the committee of 100 social organizations here that advertising will make fortunes.

The policy of some advertisers to save expenses by cutting down on their advertising is "foolish," he said, adding, "Everything that is done is built on advertising and intelligent advertising will make your fortunes."

He said his company spent $1,000,000 last year in advertising and plans to spend $2,000,000 this year.

"In a period of depression," he said, "we must run as fast as we can to stay where we are."

Mr. Curtis spoke at the home of Gar Wood, speed boat enthusiast.

Charles F. Kettering, president and general manager of the General Motors Research corporation, said, "We must keep ideas in advance of mechanical capacities."

Harvey Firestone, tire magnate, said the nation must adjust itself to new conditions and be given greater values.

JAPAN WAR CHIEF REFUSES TO CUT ARMY STRENGTH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 28.—Widespread reforms in Japan's standing army will be started within a few months, but this will not make possible a slash in the budgetary estimates of 1932, Minister of War Issei Ugaki, who recently reassumed his post after an illness of several months, announced.

A storm of disapproval has already been directed at this announcement by the vernacular press as well as by the main opposition parties, who charge that the war minister is pledged to reform the army and thus bring about a reduction of military expenditure.

Gen. Ugaki, on the other hand, denies having promised to make possible a slashing of the budgetary estimates. Cutting expenditures and thus weakening the army, he declared, is not the chief aim of the war ministry. What the department strives at is perfecting the army system through economy and improvement, he explained. The army, he predicted, will be much stronger than it is at present when the reforms are completed.

Norwegian Ship Believed Lost in Storm; 21 Aboard

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Jan. 28.—The Norwegian steamer Ulv, which is eight days overdue here, is believed lost with all hands in a hurricane in the North sea. The ship carried a crew of 17 and 4 passengers.

GOOD FELLOWS NOW TOTAL 1,517; MORE NEEDED

More new Good Fellows mean more dollars in THE TRIBUNE Good Fellow fund. And more money in the Good Fellow fund means the provision of the necessities of life for families who have been hit by unemployment.

Yesterday the roll of Good Fellows reached 1,517 and the total subscribed to the fund since it was started last October stood at $82,803. Although fifteen families have been made self-supporting recently, the loyalty of Good Fellows has made possible the transfer of funds meant for those families to other needy families on the waiting list. In some instances Good Fellows have been unable to make good the entire amount of their original pledge, but they are making every effort to give as much as possible. The following letter expresses the spirit of those Good Fellows:

"Enclosed please find a check for $6 covering our pledge for the week ending Jan. 24," wrote one Good Fellow club. "As stated last time we sent in our check we regret we had to cut down our pledge on account of one member having to leave the company. We know you are still greatly in need of every dollar and we will endeavor to send in this amount every two weeks as long as we can."

Customs Court in Session Here; 400 Cases to Hear

Judge David H. Kincheloe of the United States customs court began hearing the first of some 400 cases involving disputes between the government and importers over duties at the federal building yesterday.

Choose, Mother,

CHOOSE!

There's no sense in being a "Calamity Jane." But it's just as silly to be unprepared for emergencies that may come any time. For example, Acute Indigestion. A serious matter, even though it may not strike frequently. But when it comes you'll either thank your stars you read this and put a bottle of Bell-ans on the shelf. Or else——? Which do you choose?

—AND NOW WHAT?

THERE is relief if not news in the fact that the year 1930 now is dead and gone.

Except for the business lessons it may have taught you, why look backwards?

Set your mind on the real job ahead of you, the new job fat with promise and necessity, 1931.

It won't be the easiest year you ever tackled, but the Profit-and-Loss figures next January will prove that with adequate courage and energy you can make it stand and deliver.

BE SURE of this: somebody is going to sell the 120,000,000 people in America in 1931 the things they eat, use, wear and enjoy.

Somebody is going to tempt into useful circulation a real part of the $28,000,000,000.00 now in the savings banks.

Somebody is going to ride the business-upcurve sure to spring from these past months of manufacturing shortages, accumulating savings, shrinking installment paper.

You can be one of the somebodies, yes—but it'll take good goods, good selling, good advertising to enjoy the privilege!

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST stands ready in 1931 to help the business that is ready to help itself.

It submits its ability to do this because its influence with its matchless and steadily growing public has never been more valid than today.

It offers the legitimate advertiser now when needed a success-paved avenue to the minds and pocketbooks of the foremost families of America—that hub three-million-strong which turns the taste, thinking, buying of the nation.

It can do a great job for you just as it does a great job for itself, by doing the greatest job for its readers of any magazine in the world!

Hall Is Layton's Protégé.

It was a dozen years ago when Layton, already ranked with the best three cushion players in the world, heard of a young man in St. Louis, then only some 17 or 18 years old, who was showing a dubious ability in making three cushion shots.

Layton was then the manager of a St. Louis billiard academy. He sent for the youngster to become his practice partner. For several years they practiced together almost daily. During that time Layton became the world's champion. As he mastered one difficult shot after another, he taught them to the boy who put in so many hours practicing with him.

Layton's youthful practice partner was Allen Hall. When they met in what most billiard experts regarded as the most important match of the 11 day skirmish for the title, the old three cushion master fell before the spectacular shots at the ivory balls his former pupil was making.

While Thurnblad and Hall awaited their first chance at a championship, two games to determine who are the next also rans in the tournament were played yesterday.

Layton Whips Reiselt.

With his championship gone and nothing better than second place to shoot at, Layton last night played his best billiards of the tournament. It took him only 32 innings to defeat Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, 50 to 32.

The loss of his title 24 hours earlier did not "break" the old champion from Missouri. Instead, it seemed to inspire him. Even a run of four by Reiselt as the game opened found Layton glaring across the table at Reiselt rather than slumping back into his chair. Reiselt built up a lead of 4 to 4, but then the old champion got busy. At the end of the tenth inning Layton had pushed on ahead and was enjoying a 20 to 10 lead. In the 28th inning he had Reiselt routed, 47 to 22. The rest of it was easy for him.

Layton to Play for Second.

As a result of his victory Layton will play the loser of tonight's championship match for second money. It seemed rather strange to see Layton and Reiselt fighting for what is left in the tournament. Last year it was Layton and Reiselt who played in the championship game. The score of their match follows:

REISELT—	4	1	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	3
	1	1	3	0	1	1—32.
LAYTON—	2	1	3	0	3	4	1	1	1	1	4	1
	4	4	0	1	0	0	0	4	2	0	2	6	2	4	0
	3	1	0	0	1	1—50.

Denton Sets High Run Mark.

When Tiff Denton of Kansas City met Dave Jacobs of St. Louis he established the high run mark of the tournament when he clipped off eleven perfect shots. His run of eleven in the 26th inning, which wins him a cash prize of several hundred dollars, followed a cluster of eight which he scored in the 19th, giving him 19 billiards in two innings.

Despite these two runs Denton had all he could do to beat Jacobs, 50 to 43 in 49 innings. The victory put Denton into a tie for fifth place with Frank Scoville of Buffalo. The score:

	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	1	3
	1	4	1	0	0	1—44.
DENTON—	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	0	0	1	1

And Arcade Boss Knows Boxers from A to Z.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Howard Carr, proprietor of the Arcade gymnasium, 325 West Madison street, is an enthusiastic supporter of THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tournament. While Carr, more familiarly known to boxers as Kid Howard, earns a livelihood furnishing quarters and equipment for professional gentry of the ring, he's never forgotten the days when he started his career and his progress in the boxing business which led him to the middleweight championship of the world.

HARRY SHALL.

Mr. Carr is making no secret of his desire to win the team trophy in the 1931 Golden Gloves bouts. In this purpose he is seconded by Harry Shall, instructor and trainer of long experience. Shall now has a squad of 30 amateurs who daily train for the Golden Gloves tournament.

Shall Found Carnegie.

Last year Shall discovered and developed Ralph Carnegie at Benton Harbor, Mich. Under Shall's instruction Ralph fought his way to second place in the 147 pound division, earning a place on the Chicago team. More important still, Carnegie defeated his New York opponent in the intercity tournament at the Chicago Stadium.

Nick Fosco and Fred Casserio are well known amateur boxers training at the Arcade. Both have won honors in the Golden Gloves and Central A. A. U. tournaments.

The Lawndale gymnasium won the team trophy last year. While other gymnasiums are anxious to place enough boys in the finals to beat the Lawndale team, they also face serious competition from unattached fighters.

Sectional Entries Multiply.

Entries are steadily coming in for the three Chicago sectionals, and these and the out of town teams are greater obstacles than ever before. Fifteen cities coöperating with THE TRIBUNE report that interest is greater and the number of competitors, in many cases has doubled, insuring a high caliber of contestants in the Coliseum and Stadium bouts.

The first Chicago sectional tournament will be held Feb. 16 and 17 at the Ashland boulevard auditorium. Ashland avenue and Van Buren street. The West side, always a boxing stronghold, has produced some of the finest fighters now in the professional ring. Many of these first achieved fame in amateur ranks.

West Side Section Increased.

The west side section has been increased in size this year, following the course of the south branch of the Chicago river, instead of an arbitrary line on 22d street.

Entries for this section close Feb. 9. The bouts at the Fronton will be staged Feb. 19 and 20 with entries closing Feb. 12. The final Chicago sectional will be held at White City Feb. 23 and 24. Entries close Feb. 16.

No seats will be reserved for these bouts. Admission is 75 cents.

DAVENPORT BOUTS

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Two thousand fans tonight watched the Daily Times-CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Gloves tournament. The second round will be staged tonight. The results were as follows:

Getz Demands Title Fight Aid Chicago Needy

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 28.—George Getz, Chicago millionaire and member of the Illinois state athletic commission, predicted here today that the Max Schmeling-Will Stribling world's heavyweight title fight tentatively scheduled for Soldiers' field, Chicago, in June, would draw a gate of $1,500,000 with a $25 seat price top.

Getz is content to let the New York milk fund management promote the fight, but takes the stand that charity should begin at home and indicated he and his fellow commissioners will expect the promoters, if the fight goes to Chicago, to turn over to the Chicago agency of the milk fund the amount derived for charity from the show. It is expected this phase of the matter in due course will be brought to bear on the New York boxing commission whose suspension of the champion has all but dropped the big fistic plum in Chicago's lap.

Getz Explains Stand.

Explaining why he is unalterably opposed to outside charities cutting in on any profits that may accrue from the fight if held in Chicago, Getz said:

"We haven't any bread lines, but we have our share of unemployed men and undernourished children in Chicago. Most of the money that would be paid to see the Schmeling-Stribling fight there would come out of the pockets of citizens of Chicago and down state Illinois. It would be just as foolhardy for our boxing commission to permit the New York milk fund to take the profits for such a venture as it would for anybody from Chicago to come to New York and expect to run a show for a Chicago benefit."

Getz further explained that there was a bill permitting fifteen round bouts pending in the Illinois legislature, and that he expected it to be passed within a month or so.

Won't Amend Foul Rule.

Asked if the Illinois commission intended to remodel its foul rule after the pattern of the no-foul rule in force in New York, Getz replied:

"O, no. I think that is too radical. We recognize a foul—one must if a foul is committed. Our penalties depend on circumstances. If a foul looks intentional, we are very severe."

Getz also declared he was firmly opposed to high prices in such times as these.

"It would be a great mistake to charge $40 or $50 for ringside seats," he said. "The people can't stand it."

Getz stated that his commission gladly would permit the Illinois subsidiary of the New York Garden to stage the title fight. He pointed out that it is a corporation in good standing, but that under the law it must have at least fifty three year resident members before a permit to stage the fight could be granted to it.

Getz, Schmeling Confer.

Schmeling conferred today with Getz, with his manager, Joe Jacobs, and with his amanuensis, Paul Gallico, who is slated to translate for the German a series of first person articles giving the champion's candid views of the leading challengers, Stribling, Carnera, and Sharkey. Of the trio, Max holds Sharkey the greatest and most dangerous to his reign as title holder.

SCHROEDER AND STACK DIVIDE A PAIR OF RACES

Eddie Wins Mile; Frank Takes 440 Yard Dash.

CLASS A MEN.
Eddie Schroeder, Walton Arrows	50
Frank Stack, Amphion A. C.	50
Al Kucera, Henry A. A.	20

Frank Stack of the Amphion Athletic club and Eddie Schroeder of the Walton Arrows, divided honors last night in the Harmony Athletic Club Derby at Garfield park. Stack won the 440 yard dash by 40 feet and Eddie Schroeder captured the mile by one yard. More than 15,000 fans, the largest evening attendance of the season, watched the races.

In the mile Schroeder followed his usual tactics of tagging Stack, and did so until the final turn. The race began with Elmer Young of the Henry A. A. leading. Young kept the lead for two laps and was succeeded by his teammate, Al Kucera, who stayed in front until the seventh lap, when Stack stepped to the fore and began a killing sprint with Schroeder in pursuit.

Schroeder came up on even terms on the back stretch of the final lap, but Stack withstood the challenge and went to the fore on the last turn into the stretch. Here Schroeder came from behind to win by a yard.

In the 440 yard dash Stack went to the front within half a lap and sprinted into a long lead with Art Conroy of the Barrett A. C. second, and Alfon James of the Opals third. Schroeder moved into second position when the latter two fell, but could never get close to the speedy Chicago ace. Summaries:

Class A 440 yards—Won by Frank Stack, Amphion A. C.; Eddie Schroeder, Walton Arrow A. C., second; Al Kucera, Henry A. A., third. Time, :42 2-5.

Class A one mile—Won by Eddie Schroeder, Walton Arrow A. C.; Frank Stack, Amphion A. C., second; Al Kucera, Henry A. A., third. Time, 3:15.

Bruins Swamp Rochester by 41 to 30 Score

The Chicago Bruins basketball team, led by Kennedy and Wickhorst, last night overwhelmed the Rochester Centrals in an American league game at the Broadway armory by a score of 41 to 30. The Bruins led at the half by 24 to 13.

Rochester opened the scoring. Hearn took a pass a minute after the tipoff and scored from under the basket. Hirsch added another from the center of the floor to give Rochester a 4 to 0 lead. The Bruins tied it up a minute later by baskets contributed by Kennedy and Wickhorst. The game was fairly close for the next few minutes, but Wickhorst went on a scoring rampage, netting three baskets and a field goal and with the aid of Kennedy and Borgeman led at half time, 24 to 13.

Bruins Pull Away.

The second half started slowly. Wickhorst and Kennedy increased the lead a basket each before Rochester scored again and then Wickhorst caged two more from close in. Rochester never threatened thereafter and were never closer than ten points to the Bruins. Lineup:

CONGER DEFEATS PAUL MARTIN IN 1,000 YARD RACE

Newark, N. J., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Ray Conger of the Illinois A. C., raced Dr. Paul Martin, Swiss surgeon, into submission tonight in the 1,000 yard special at the Newark A. C. indoor meet, winning by five yards, with Frank Nordell, New York University freshman, in second place. Martin was third. The time was 2:17.3.

Ira Singer, New York university freshman, romped away with the sprint series at 50, 60, and 70 yards, winning all three races. Bill Bruder of the Newark A. C. finished second in the two longer sprints, with Alfred Maskrey of Pennsylvania third. They reversed places in the 50.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

OUR FOOTBALL IN ENGLAND.

FOR the benefit of Americans living there and in the hope of interesting Britons, a broadcast of the Harvard-Yale football contest was relayed to England. Quin Ryan, clarion-toned and silver-voiced announcer of W-G-N station, whom we have accompanied to many sporting events, received a "cutting" from an English newspaper which he has handed on to us.

Since the British national games of cricket, soccer, and rugby never have made substantial progress in this country with Yankee competitors, although soccer in some localities has a pretty good following and has been taken up by colleges and high schools, it is only fair to reproduce this British impression.

Under the subtitle of "Dull Game" appears: "The wireless relay from America last night of the Harvard-Yale game could hardly have impressed football enthusiasts on this side of the Atlantic. American football is, even when one is watching a match, one of the dullest games on earth and so full of technicalities that men with tape measures accompany the referee on the field. Still, Americans find our national game of cricket equally incomprehensible."

Under the subtitle "Artificial Enthusiasm" appears: "At a big American football match I only was kept awake by the efforts of the cheer leaders, who organize applause with frenzied shouts through huge megaphones. Some idea of the slowness of the game can be gathered from the fact that it takes over two hours to play one hour's football. The rest of the time is occupied by conferences, or 'huddles,' between the players, and by the taking of measurements to discover how far the ball has been carried on the grid, or series of white lines, on which the game is played."

All in favor of substituting cricket for football say "Aye." Those opposed, "No." The "Noes" have it. The motion is lost.

This Wake Is Conducted by Harvey T. Woodruff. Help! Help!

Singing Away.

Singing's my work; I know no other.
I sing for fun, and bread and butter.
Guess I was born with dancing feet,
Dancing away to rhythm's beat.
Old age may take my hand some day,
Lead me along some haunted way.
Sorrow may chill my happy songs.
Beauty . . . to me your heart belongs!
Nature . . . for me your bluebirds sing!
Love . . . for today you bring the spring!
I know the stars and winds are mine.
The lake still hums my tunes in time.
Life is the music I must play
While I am singing, singing away!

ELEVEN BRITISH WOMEN GOLFERS SAIL FOR U. S.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Bent on a holiday and an exploration of American golf courses rather than a conquest, Miss Diana Fishwick, British women's champion, and ten other English girl golfers sailed for the United States today.

The expedition is of a private character, with no international match as its objective, although Miss Fishwick and several of her party will play in several southern tournaments.

The others in the party included the Misses M. White, K. Garnham, B. Dix, J. Firth, C. W. Wolseley, K. Ruston, Mona Dixon, Vera Haycock, Molly Carnaby, and Mrs. Brindle.

CLEVENGER NOT AWARE OF DUAL PAGE CONTRACT

Ousted Grid Coach Continues Fight.

The conduct of intercollegiate and interscholastic sports was under fire again in various sections of the country yesterday. The day's news produced stories concerning recruiting of players, a football coach's demand for his salary, a state association's monopoly of prep sports control, and an attack on a college football coach by a student publication.

Z. G. Clevenger, Indiana university athletic director, said that he had no knowledge of an alumni group's share in the payment of the salary of Pat Page, former football coach at Indiana. Page continued his fight for $16,750, the amount he claims the university owes him under his contract.

United States Military academy officials denied charges of recruiting in the case of Kenneth Goff, Rhode Island State college football star.

The power of the Indiana High School Athletic association was threatened with the introduction of a bill in the state legislature, proposing the transfer of high school athletic control from the association to the state board of education.

An outlaw student paper published at Ohio State university censured Sam Willaman, head football coach there, and suggested his resignation.

The Iowa state legislature today is expected to take action in the case of Dr. Walter Jessup, president of the University of Iowa, and the charges concerning his responsibility for the temporary expulsion of the university from the Western conference.

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Although he was athletic director of Indiana university in 1926, Zora G. Clevenger said here today he did not know that Harlan O. [Pat] Page had a dual contract when he came here as Indiana football coach.

He did not learn of this contract until three years later, Clevenger said, when it became time to renew Page's agreement with the university. Furthermore, Clevenger said, he did not know that unusually enthusiastic alumni were paying the difference between Page's salary as listed on university books and the $12,000 a year he received from 1926 to 1929. This amount was $4,000 a year at least, and possibly as much as $6,000. Clevenger said he didn't know how the money was paid and doesn't know yet who those alumni were.

Hayes Controls Football.

Clevenger, in accordance with the action of the university athletic board terminating Page's contract on April 1, has turned over to E. C. Hayes entire control of football beginning immediately.

Page said he received assurance from the university that he would coach at least until 1932 and he has gathered several documents to substantiate his claim that the university owes him $16,750 for the unexpired term of his agreement.

John W. Cravens, university registrar and secretary to the board of trustees, admitted today that he had recorded the minutes for the trustees when a report of the university athletic committee was submitted to it. Page has made this report the basis of his claim that the university had agreed to employ him until 1933.

"I don't know of any contract with Mr. Page made in 1929 or of his financial dealings with alumni because that did not occur in my department," said Cravens.

Approved by Trustees.

He sent Page a copy of the athletic committee report with the notation that it had been approved by trustees. Page exhibits this as part of his evidence. Cravens did not say whether the original on which this copy was based had disappeared from the university records, as has been hinted at the failure to find it on recent inquiries.

"Why didn't you tell the western conference of Page's side contract with alumni?" Clevenger was asked.

He replied that since he didn't know of it until after it had expired in 1929, that he felt there was no cause to do so. This side contract has been a subject of rumor in Indiana for several years. It is understood that the same arrangement continued in 1930 and this year, the only change being that the salary was scaled up to $13,000 a year.

No Statement on Players.

No statement has been made by anybody in authority here as yet that the same general scheme was used in making a trip to Bloomington more attractive to prospective football players themselves. With Page's quarrel with the university growing more bitter, a complete Western conference investigation of the campus, similar to that of two years ago at the University of Iowa, cannot much longer be forestalled.

DULUTH HORNETS AND SHAMROCKS PLAY AT STADIUM

Burland and Wiseman Please Fans.

The Duluth Hornets are booked for the Stadium again tonight to oppose the Shamrocks. The two teams have met six times. One game was a no-decision affair; Duluth has won three, the Shamrocks two. Three of these games went overtime, including the Shamrock 4 to 3 victory of last week at the Stadium. Every game to a decision between the two has been decided by a margin of one point.

Two of the most pleasing features of the Tuesday night victory over the Fliers, against whom the Chicago sextet scored as many goals in the one game as some American league clubs had been able to score in seven, were the performances of George Burland at defense and Pewee Wiseman at forward.

The Shamrocks came out of the St. Louis contest in excellent condition, with the exception of Sam Timmins, who has a couple of painful fingers. By turning the versatile Dennenay into a right wing to pair with MacKenzie and working the pivot men alternately with this combination, they have three of the fastest front combinations in the league.

Bouncer Taylor has just had the cast removed from his ankle, and reports it to be surprisingly strong. The time of his return to the game, however, is still uncertain.

The Hornets will present much the same lineup as in their last game here. Scott, Gibson and Red Green will be at forward. A name new to Chicago fans in the Duluth lineup is Phillips, a right winger, who is being used alongside Art Merrill and John Mitchell.

Burgoo and Bad News Bob Take Purses

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—E. R. Bradley's thoroughbreds played an important rôle on American turf today, winning the feature race at the Fair Grounds and finishing one, two in the $2,500 Jose Marti handicap at Oriental Park, Havana.

Burgoo, a 3 year old son of North Star III., scored at the New Orleans track when he romped home two and one-half lengths in front of his field in the six furlong feature.

At Havana Bad News Bob accounted for the mile and one-sixteenth feature and Boys Howdy finished second. The Havana winners carried the silks of the Kentucky sportsman, but scored today under the colors of H. C. Hatch of Canada.

Although he finished second in his only other time out this winter, Burgoo was an outsider in the wagering, paying $12.20. The Hatch Pair paid 2 to 1, being second choice to Dr. Irving Jacobs' Sun Mission, which was asked to pack 126 pounds. Sun Mission finished third in front of King David, Cuban representative, and Night Tears from Chile.

Once again outsiders scored with pronounced regularity. J. Denquito's Poinciana, winner of the best offering at Hialeah Park, topped the long list by paying $62.40 for a $2 certificate. Turquoise returned $59.30 for $2 following his triumph in the third moment, victor in the second race at Hialeah Park, paid $42.50. Other long shots to win were Play Ball, $34.60; Englewood, $23.60; Sapphire Sky, $21.40; and Playfellow's Dream, $20.90.

The Pasadena stable's filly, Released, won over a big field of three year olds in slow time in the best race on a card of claiming events at Agua Caliente. Running the six furlongs in 1:13 4-5, Released led C. A. McCroan's Starboat and J. W. Marchbank's Peace Princess to the finish. The winner paid $5.40 for a $2 mutual ticket.

HAWKS RELEASE MILLER, LEADING SCORER IN 1930

Earl Miller, left wing player of the Chicago Blackhawks, who was the Hawk's leading scorer last season until he sustained a broken collar bone, was released from further hockey duty yesterday.

Miller's inability to get in condition since the injury last season was the cause of a medical expert's diagnosis of his case Monday, which was pronounced as aggravated sciatic rheumatism which only complete rest would cure.

He left for his home in Lumsden, Sask., yesterday.

Miller's place will be filled by Elwin [Doc] Romnes, who was recalled from London, Ont.

HAWKS' OWNER

Edward J. Livingstone, former owner of the Chicago Cardinals American Hockey association team, yesterday filed suit for $750,000 in the Superior court against Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team, and seventeen others.

Only the praecipe was filed, but Attorney John Irrmann, who filed the suit, said that Livingstone charges that the defendants maliciously conspired to wreck his hockey team and his higher salaries than he was able to get, as they offered to his star players cash to induce them to jump their contracts with him, Livingstone says.

The suit, which first was brought before Judge George A. Carpenter in the federal court, was dismissed when a juror was withdrawn. At a retrial Livingstone took a nonsuit while the trial was in progress with the plaintiff in rebuttal.

$750,000 ASKED IN SUIT AGAINST HAWKS' OWNER

Edward J. Livingstone, former owner of the Chicago Cardinals American Hockey association team, yesterday filed suit for $750,000 in the Superior court against Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team, and seventeen others.

Only the praecipe was filed, but Attorney John Irrmann, who filed the suit, said that Livingstone charges that the defendants maliciously conspired to wreck his hockey team and his higher salaries than he was able to get, as they offered to his star players cash to induce them to jump their contracts with him, Livingstone says.

The suit, which first was brought before Judge George A. Carpenter in the federal court, was dismissed when a juror was withdrawn. At a retrial Livingstone took a nonsuit while the trial was in progress with the plaintiff in rebuttal.

LEO AND FENGER PREP QUINTETS DIVIDE A PAIR

Leo and Fenger divided a practice double header on the latter's floor yesterday, the Catholic leaguers' heavies winning, 34 to 26, and the Fenger lights taking a 30 to 13 victory. Yorkbrunner led the Leo heavies with 9 points, while De Boer, Anderson, and Walleski shared honors for the winning lights.

Botos and Lockwood led the Ryder Park heavies to a 30 to 27 decision over the Harvard School for Boys, while Mayer featured in the Hyde Park lights' 24-9 victory. Gardner of the losing heavies scored seven baskets.

Lindblom and Central Y Day teams split a pair on the former's court, the Lindblom heavies winning, 34 to 10, while the invading lights won, 23 to 17. Ed Bienor starred for Lindblom heavies; Tathan scored 9 points for the Central lights.

College and Prep Sport Authorities Under Fire

business man and member of the Army Athletic association, did not know the boy was a football player, nor was he interested in recruiting gridiron talent for the Army forces.

This statement by Wrightson, whose name has figured conspicuously in the Providence Bulletin's disclosures of alleged recruiting on behalf of the military academy, followed the publication of several additional statements and letters today, all revolving around the case of the Brockton, Mass., boy who, as late as yesterday, wrote his friend, Cadet Paul Carroll, that "I do hope to get the chance to enter West Point."

Goff will not enter West Point, but the unofficial attempt to obtain an appointment for him through Congressman Stobbs of Worcester, Mass., has developed something of a teapot tempest.

At West Point Major Philip B. Fleming, graduate manager, issued a statement saying the charges of proselyting by Army were decidedly far fetched, and giving the details of exchanges between Carroll and Goff, showing, Major Fleming said, that it was a clear case of boyish enthusiasm and admiration for his school, together with an effort of a civilian to help a deserving boy to get into the military academy.

Supplementing this, Major Sasse said:

"I told Carroll what he could suggest to Goff, just as I would tell the same thing to anybody. Naturally I could take no steps otherwise. As a matter of fact, I never gave the matter another thought. It would be utterly ridiculous for me to attempt to recruit football players."

Ohio State Grid Coach Censured by Student Paper

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Sam Willaman, coach of football at Ohio State, today was censured in an article in the outlaw student publication, The Free Voice, in its second number today. Edited by four university students and alumni, the magazine is printed and sold off the campus in order to escape the school censorship board.

"Willaman," the article said in part, "is censured because he is the willing instrument of an overstuffed pastime that has lowered American mentality even more than indoor golf, because he once was quoted as boasting that winning games and not character building was his program; because he was a busy man building vigorous bodies and naturally did not have time to investigate charges of professionalism; because he slaps backs; because he basks in the fame of men who would have been famous without his help; because he patronizes the same stars as though he fears their friendship might be needed in a crisis; because his method of athlete development includes lavish promises to gullible youngsters, and, finally, because he is willing to take advantage of accidents that resulted in an apparently successful football season and cling to a job that a good many thousands join The Free Voice in wishing he would vacate."

INDIANA PREPS AT WAR

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 28.—[Special.]—Monopoly of Indiana high school sports, developed by the Indiana High School Athletic association over a period of more than two decades, was threatened tonight by introduction in the Indiana legislature of a proposal to transfer control of all athletics to the state board of education.

The move followed the suspension from the association of Jeffersonville High school, for using three allegedly ineligible basketball players. The transfer of control is sponsored by Jeffersonville citizens. The bill providing for the transfer was introduced in the senate this afternoon by State Senator Russell P. Kehoe, Democrat, representing Clark, Jefferson, Ohio, and Switzerland counties.

Assail Association.

A delegation from Jeffersonville visiting the state house today assailed the Indiana High School Athletic association as "without any legal authority or responsibility, making arbitrary rulings from which there is no appeal, either to the courts or to educational authorities.

In the senate session this evening Senator Roy M. Friedley [Rep., Muncie] also introduced a bill abolishing the athletic association, and instead proposing a state board of athletic control, to work under the state department of education and to have complete control of all high school athletics.

Principals Form Membership.

The association is not actually a part of the school system, but is an organization composed of Indiana high schools, with their principals as the designated representatives.

The association repeatedly has forbidden entry of Hoosier teams in the Stagg national basketball tournament at Chicago by ruling that the association's state tournament here each March was the official close of the season.

Amateur Three Cushion Title Match Opens Today

Dr. Andrew J. Harris of Chicago will make another attempt to regain the national amateur three cushion billiard championship in a 150 point challenge match against Robert B. Jack Patterson will be the referee.

Gallagher to Meet Johnson in Stadium Ring

Marty Gallagher yesterday signed a contract to meet Larry Johnson in the fourth ten round windup on the Chicago Stadium's boxing card next Wednesday night.

Selection of Gallagher followed the refusal of Maxie Rosenbloom, the light heavyweight champion, and Lou Scozza, hard punching Buffalo boxer, to meet Johnson. No other light heavyweights were available. Johnson accordingly accepted Gallagher, a 203 pound heavyweight.

A native of Washington, D. C., and a former college football star, Gallagher has been fighting for three years. It has only been in the last six months, however, that he has pushed himself forward with any success. His recent bouts include victories over Gene Stanton, Johnny Grosso, whom he knocked out; Al Friedman, George Hoffman, and Salvadore Ruggirello. He is the biggest man Johnson has ever fought.

Gallagher is expected to provide a test for Johnson, not only in this respect, but also because he has never been knocked out. If Larry acquits himself creditably, his manager, Jack O'Keefe, expects to take him out of the light heavyweight class and enter him against nothing but heavies.

With the signing of Gallagher and Johnson, Matchmaker Nate Lewis has completed the Wednesday card. Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion, will meet Goldie Hess in his first appearance here since he defeated Al Singer for the championship. José Santa, who is one and one-half inches taller than Carnera and weighs as much as the man mountain, has been matched with Knute Hansen, the giant Dane, and George Nate of South Bend will box Kid Francis, who conquered Fidel La Barba.

Hold C.A.A.U. Swim Meet at Lake Shore

The Central A. A. U. men's and women's swimming championships will be decided tonight at the Lake Shore Athletic club. Entries have been received from the majority of the clubs in Chicago and the meet is expected to develop several new records.

The list of entries includes Walter Laufer, Lake Shore A. C.; Emma Shematis, I. W. A. C.; M. Wilcox, Northwestern; Don Horn, Lake Shore A. C., and Betty Quinn, I. W. A. C.

The 100 yard free style swim for women has six entries from the I. W. A. C., including Betty Quinn, Marion Dosé, Marlys Lapin, Emma Shematis, Dagny Van Maarth, and Mary Gardiner.

The men entered in the 500 yard free style C. A. A. U. championship event are C. Chutro, C. Nelson, and Walter Laufer, Lake Shore A. C.; Robert Kerber, Max Cogdill, W. Wilson, and M. Wilcox, Northwestern university, and S. Connolly, University of Chicago.

Entries in the 220 yard C. A. A. U. breast stroke championship swim include Don Peterson and William Elliot from the C. A. A.; Don Horn and Max Briedenthal, Lake Shore A. C., and Frank Lennox, Northwestern university.

Four girls from the I. W. A. C. are competing in the 100 yard back stroke C. A. A. U. championship event. They are Jayne Deagan, Marion Dosé, Marjorie Conavan, and Elizabeth Henry.

The 300 yard individual medley C. A. A. U. championship swim includes C. Nelson and Walter Laufer from the Lake Shore A. C.; D. Hinch, C. A. A.; R. Lipsin and J. Ehrlich from the Jewish Peoples institute; Jerry Miller, Northwestern university, and Gorden Rittenhouse, University of Chicago.

There also will be a fancy diving exhibition given by the I. W. A. C. and a water polo game.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

What Is Gum-Dipping?

Gum-Dipping

is the Firestone trade name for that patented, basic process which makes Firestone Tires fundamentally different from all other tires. It is one of the reasons why Firestone, through many years, has easily been able to make good the statement: "Most miles per dollar." It is not something done to a tire after it is made. It is something very vital done before the tire is made.

To grasp the full significance of Gum-Dipping, it is necessary to know something about how a tire is made and what goes on within a tire on the road. The body of the tire bears the principal strains in service. To it is attached the tread which provides traction and takes the wear of the road.

The usual tire body is built up of layers or plies of cotton cords between which rubber has been forced. Rubber is incompressible. Hence the tire body practically does not expand or contract to meet road shocks. It flexes —that is, it changes form.

The strain of the flexing tends to pull the plies apart and also to pull the cords themselves apart. A tire flexes about seven hundred times in a mile —which gives some idea of the strains and the friction which a tire must endure.

The great enemy to tire life is internal friction. Years ago the fabric was square-woven—and the cotton cords sawed, one across another.

If cotton rubs against cotton, the tire soon heats up and collapses. That is why the square-woven fabric tires were so short-lived. Then came the tires with parallel cords that could not saw each other. The best square-woven fabric tire would go scarcely four thousand miles. A poor cord tire will give at least twice that mileage. Making the cords parallel was a great advance—but it was only part of the battle against internal friction.

It was realized that if the fibers of cotton in a cord could be insulated one from another, then a step-up in tire life could be had comparable to that made by shifting from square-woven fabric to parallel cords. That is what all tire makers have been striving for. That is what Firestone has achieved.

Every cord

used in Firestone Tires has been treated with a rubber solution which penetrates every cord and coats every fiber; and thus not only the cords, but also the very fibers within them are insulated.

Eight pounds of fine, pure rubber are, by the patented Gum-Dipping process, integrated into every one hundred pounds of cotton cords. This means three extra pounds of pure rubber added to an average set of tires —and added where it means most to the strength and the life of the tire. This extra rubber all goes into the cords of the tire —where you never see it.

Why

does Firestone put in this extra value? And what does it mean to you? It means just this. The performance—the extra value—has been shown for years on the road and in the laboratory. It has been proved that Gum-Dipping:

—increases the flexing life of a cotton cord by 58%.

—increases tire life by from 25% to over 40%, according to the severity of the service—the more severe the service, the higher the percentage.

Firestone

Gum-Dipped Tires are not just tires. They are thirty years of organized experience. They are sold only through Firestone Service Dealers and Service Stores and only as Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires —bearing the Firestone name and bearing the Firestone emblem that appears on this page.

Wherever you live—

city or country—a fresh and complete stock of Firestone products is near-by.

F. EDSON WHITE ESTATE VALUED AT ONE MILLION

His Will Names Widow and Two Daughters.

F. Edson White, president of Armour & Co., who fell to his death from his seventh floor apartment at 70 East Scott street, on Jan. 15, left an estate valued at slightly more than $1,000,000 it was revealed yesterday when his will was filed for probate with Mitchell C. Robin, clerk of the Probate court. The bulk of the estate is left in trust to Mr. White's widow and two daughters.

Shortly after the will was filed, Oscar S. Caplan, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner, appointed Mrs. Lillian P. White, the widow, and the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company as co-executors of the estate.

Personal Property Set at Million.

The will executed in August, 1928, disposes of personal property valued at about $1,000,000 and real estate worth $500. It was filed by Attorney C. J. Faulkner Jr., general counsel for Armour & Co. A codicil to the will dated Sept. 29, 1930, named the bank as co-executor of the estate.

Although attorneys did not reveal the securities which comprise the personal property it was said that a bulk of it was stock in Armour & Co. with which Mr. White was connected for 35 years.

The will leaves $2,000 each to Anna Bjorseth, Joseph Beansderfer, and Selma Bostrum, household employés in the White home for more than five years.

A $10,000 trust fund is created for a grandson, Edson White Spencer, and two trust funds of $5,000 are set up for two nephews, Willard Armour White and Ogden Courtney White.

Remainder Left In Trust.

The remainder of the estate is left in trust for Mrs. White and the two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude W. Spencer, 1430 Lake Shore drive, and Mrs. Hester W. Kempe of Lake Forest, who will share equal parts of the income. The two daughters will receive the principal of their shares at the end of five years. Upon the death of Mrs. White her share will be divided by the daughters.

Besides the widow and daughters Mr. White was survived by his mother, Mrs. Frank White, and his twin brother, Willard C. White. His son, F. Edson White Jr., was accidentally killed in September of 1923 by the discharge of a shotgun which he was using to drive off an infuriated bull.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Strange Goings On

COURT REVERSES S. R. M'CORMICK GUARDIAN CASE

Plea of Wife Upheld on Appeal.

The Appellate court yesterday reversed and remanded for new trial the decisions of two lower courts which denied the petition of Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick asking that she be appointed the sole conservator of the person of her husband, Stanley R. McCormick, a brother of Cyrus McCormick and Harold F. McCormick. The lower courts had ruled that they could not acquire jurisdiction because Mr. McCormick is living in California. The Appellate court held that the Illinois courts have jurisdiction to appoint a conservator of the person of Mr. McCormick.

In 1928 Probate Judge Henry Horner appointed the wife, Harold F. McCormick and the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company joint conservators of the $35,000,000 estate. But Judge Horner refused to set aside an order of a California court naming a board of conservators of the person of Stanley R. McCormick.

Horner Decision Appealed.

Judge Horner had ruled that although Stanley R. McCormick had been in California for twenty years his domicile was in Illinois and that the court had jurisdiction in appointing the conservators of the estate. But the court did not have jurisdiction, he said, to appoint McCormick's personal conservators.

This decision was appealed to the Circuit court by Mrs. McCormick through her attorney, Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war under President Wilson, and in June of 1929 Judge Michael Feinberg sustained the ruling of Judge Horner. The case was appealed to the Appellate court a year ago.

Appoint Board of Conservators.

Stanley McCormick was declared incompetent in 1906, two years after his marriage, and a California court appointed Mrs. McCormick, Cyrus Bentley, and Dr. Henry B. Favill as conservators of his person. Dr. Favill died in 1916, and Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, a sister, of Chicago, was named to fill his place. Harold F. McCormick was appointed to the board in 1927 when Mr. Bentley resigned.

Attorney Baker, in his appeal to the higher court, argued that McCormick's legal residence is in Illinois and that the California courts can only appoint a temporary guardian of the person. The Appellate court decision holds that Judge Horner has jurisdiction to appoint a conservator of the person despite the lack of personal service.

Relatives' Plans Not Known.

It was not made known yesterday whether Mr. McCormick's brothers and sister will appeal the decision. Differences of opinion between the wife and the brothers and sister over the method of treatment of Stanley R. McCormick's illness is said to have led to the litigation.

The decision stated that "the appointment of a conservator for the person in Cook county does not show disrespect for the California court, because their action was under a rule of convenience and should serve to aid rather than to defeat justice."

In a recent accounting of the estate filed in Probate court receipts collected for the estate during 1929 were listed at $2,802,314. Mrs. McCormick's share of the annual income is $420,000.

DR. F. D. MOORE DIES; VICTIM OF HEART DISEASE

Dr. Frank D. Moore, 60 years old, vice president of the Garfield Park hospital, died yesterday of heart disease at his home, 3006 West Washington boulevard. He was graduated from the University of Illinois school of medicine in 1899. He was a fellow in the American College of Surgeons, a member of the American Medical association, and also vice president of the staff and attending surgeon of the Frances E. YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

FATHER, SIX CHILDREN DIE AS HOME BURNS; MOTHER SAVES BABY

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Clyde Smith, 53, and six children, ranging in ages from 4 to 17 years, were burned to death when fire destroyed their home at Powys, 7 miles north of this city, early today.

The mother escaped, badly burned, with a 2 year old girl. A son, 9, also made his way to safety.

The fire was discovered by a railroad engineer when his train passed the house. He blew the engine whistle in an effort to arouse the family, and then continued to Trout Run, a short distance north, and reported it. Just as help reached the burning house Mrs. Smith, with the infant in her arms, stumbled from the front door. The son, Howard, aged 9, was with her.

The father and the other children apparently were trapped in their upstairs bedrooms.

More than 600,000 See Adler Planetarium Marvels

More than 600,000 persons have visited the Adler Planetarium and Astronomical museum since the date of its opening on May 12, 1930, according to a report issued by the south park commissioners yesterday. The schedules announced by the commissioners for February and March are: On Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., with lectures at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m.; on Tuesday and Friday, open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., with lectures, and 11 a. m. and 3 and 8 p. m.; on Sunday, open from 2 to 5 p. m. with lectures at 3 and 4 p. m. There is no admission on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

Pilot Talks on Radio to Station 700 Miles Away

A freak in radio transmission and reception was reported yesterday by A. C. Kalberer, pilot for the National Air Transport, who was flying mail and passengers between Chicago and Kansas City. While flying over Sailor, Ia., the pilot said he turned on his two way voice radio set and picked up the department of commerce airway radio station at the Cleveland, O., airport, 700 miles away. The pilot said he carried on an extended conversation with the operator at Cleveland. According to Wesley L. Smith, chief engineer for N. A. T., the normal range of the plane's voice radio is 200 miles.

GEN. BERTHELOT, AID TO JOFFRE AT MARNE, DEAD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Maj. Gen. Henri Mathias Berthelot, who was aide to Marshal Joffre up to and including the battle of the Marne, and blamed by some critics for the allied retreat in August, 1914, died today like his late chief, following an amputation of a leg. He was 71 years old. He visited the United States on a military mission in November, 1917.

Gen. Berthelot was decorated with the Grand Cross of the Order of Ferdinand I. of Rumania on his deathbed in recognition of his services in reorganizing the Rumanian army following the capitulation of Bucharest to the Austro-Germans. He trained ignorant Rumanian peasant soldiers into capable modern fighting forces, enabling them to win a victory at the battle of Marasesci. The Rumanians thereupon presented him with a large farm at Dobruja, which they had won from the Bulgarians, and also made the general an honorary citizen of Rumania.

GOV. ROOSEVELT'S SON ARRIVES ON BUSINESS TRIP

Elliot Roosevelt, son of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, who preferred to go into business rather than to spend four years of study at Princeton, arrived in Chicago yesterday aboard the Twentieth Century on his first business trip. The greeting he received as he stepped from the train bore out the reputation of "windy city." A coal cinder temporarily blinded him, but it did not prevent his smiling for news photographers.

Accompanying Roosevelt was Frank J. Reynolds, president of Albert Frank & Co., advertising. After passing entrance examinations at Princeton and being graduated from the Croton school, he surprised friends by announcing his intent to enter business. He denounced college as being useless, but a fine vacation if one could afford the time.

Sister Mary Doyle Dies at St. Bernard's Hospital

Sister Mary Emma Doyle, 50 years old, for 17 years registered pharmacist at St. Bernard's hospital, died yesterday after an illness of eight months. She was a sister of Mrs. Charles E. Merriam, wife of the University of Chicago professor. Solemn high mass will be sung for Sister Doyle at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the hospital chapel and burial will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

FLOOD FIELD TO ROUT ROBBERS; POLICE KILL TWO

LUXOR, Egypt, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Two robbers who ambushed an automobile operated by an employé of the Metropolitan museum of New York at Deir Bahari were killed and another was seriously wounded when police flooded a sugar cane plantation in which they had hidden and drove them from cover.

The attack on the automobile took place on Monday as the car passed along a road frequently traveled by tourists, carrying the expedition's pay roll from the National bank at Luxor. The bandits opened fire from the cover of the sugar cane, wounding the driver, but the car did not stop.

Three hundred provincial police were mobilized quickly. They surrounded the plantation and opened fire on the fugitives whom they could not see. The robbers returned the fire and held the police at bay. Last night the police flooded the entire plantation by opening irrigation valves. The robbers, fearing that they would be drowned, broke cover. The police pursued several other members of the band who fled after two of them were slain and a third wounded.

Grand Jury Fails to Report on Benham Case; Adjourns

Belvidere, Ill., Jan. 28.—(AP)—The Boone county grand jury adjourned today until Feb. 9 without reporting on the case of A. W. Benham, whose payments of phenomenal interest on money entrusted to him for investment precipitated an inquiry. The investigation of his activities will be resumed when the jury meets again.

Sore Throat Stopped In Three Minutes!

Amazing New "10-Second Germicide" Does It!

Any oncoming sore throat may be stopped in three minutes with McKesson's Extol. Three garglings of one minute each does it! As a germicide, Extol acts faster than any mouth wash or gargle heretofore known. Also more penetrating, which is equally important. It penetrates the folds and crevices in the mouth and throat. It penetrates the mucous membrane and reaches the germs that lie hidden underneath the outer layer of mucosa. In other words, Extol "gets" the germs that other antiseptics miss. That's why it clears up sore throat and head colds so quickly and thoroughly. That's why, also, if used daily, it will protect against infections and let you go through the Winter unscathed. Extol is utterly harmless, delightful in flavor, refreshing in effect. More economical, too, than other mouth washes. It not only costs less but may be used in more liberal dilution. Real protection for children as well as adults. Don't let your child miss a day in school on account of colds or sore throat. All McKesson Service Druggists and other independent drug stores sell Extol. Get a bottle today for your family's health security. Note the name, EXTOL—a McKesson & Robbins product.

FALL OF PRICES HITS EARNINGS OF WARD & CO.

Net Sales Hold Up Well in 1930.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although sales of the big mail order and chain store concerns held up fairly well last year, the continuous and drastic decline in commodity prices caused large inventory losses, therefore profits were much reduced in comparison with recent years, but the companies escaped the severe losses that attended the last previous depression in 1920.

These deductions may be made from the annual report of Montgomery Ward & Co., issued last night, and they probably will be further supported by the yearly statement of Sears, Roebuck & Co., which will be made public tomorrow. As evidencing the belief that a distinct improvement has already taken place, Montgomery Ward earned $3,417,202 in the last quarter of 1930 and thus overcame losses in the preceding three quarters.

In spite of the decline in commodity prices, net sales of Montgomery Ward last year totaled $249,097,223, which was exceeded only in 1929 with $267,-[illegible]. Mail order sales declined considerably because of depressed conditions in agriculture, but retail sales in the company's chain stores increased substantially.

Earnings Less Favorable.

Earnings, however, make a less favorable showing. Net profits for 1930 were $23,211, which was equivalent to $2.86a share on the 205,000 class A shares outstanding. However, the regular yearly dividend of $7 per share was paid, totaling $1,427,818, and in addition dividends totaling $10,229,734 were paid on the common stock before they were discontinued late in the year.

As the result of these dividend payments, totaling $11,657,552, and payment of $304,305 in additional federal taxes applicable to former years, the company surplus was reduced by $11,538,0[illegible] and stood at $35,254,423 at the end of the year. Net profits for 1929 were $13,434,935, equivalent after class A dividends to $2.59 a share on 4,620,788 common shares.

Contrasts with 1920.

President George B. Everitt calls attention to the fact that a profit was turned last year after adjusting inventories, setting up reserves and charging off $1,790,000 of retail leasehold and mail order improvements. This contrasts with a loss of $7,855,-[illegible] in the depression year of 1920. The shrinkage in sales also was much less severe than in 1921. Inventories last year were reduced from $67,145,-[illegible] to 1,420,000.

"Retail sales were satisfactory, when the decline in commodity prices is taken into account," he continued, "and by improvement in agricultural conditions will quickly reflect itself in increased mail order volume. While 1930 was generally an unsatisfactory year for every one, it is a short period in the life of any corporation. America will recover from this depression just as it has from all previous ones."

Woolworth Earns $34,736,250.

But the business and earnings of the F. W. Woolworth company, chain store concern, showed remarkably little change. Net income for 1930 was $34,736,250, equivalent to $3.56 a share compared with $35,664,252, or $3.66a share, in 1929. Surplus increased from $61,304,130 to $72,009,972. The company had 1,881 stores in operation at the end of last year, compared with 1,825 at the end of 1929.

Recent improvement in the steel industry was slowed down in the last week, according to the midweek review.

The iron and steel industry has shown a further slight gain in activity, the Iron Age said, "although improvement has been spotty and has not been shared in by all products. Some producers report moderately better orders from the automobile industry but railroad equipment buying is at a standstill, rail releases are sluggish, structural steel requirements remain largely prospective and miscellaneous demand continues at close range with no indications of a movement to replenish inventories. Steel ingot production for the country at large is now estimated at 47 per cent, compared with 46 per cent a week ago."

Two Tobacco Companies Declare Extra Dividends

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Extra dividends by two tobacco companies gave Wall street a fill for its pipe today, despite diminished payments from other sources.

Announcements of extra dividend disbursements, which will aggregate nearly $8,000,000, were made by the American and the Liggett and Myers Tobacco companies, while a railroad announced that action on its preferred dividends would be deferred, a steamship and a railway equipment company omitted payments, and a small steel company reduced its disbursement.

The American Tobacco company announced extra dividends of $1 a share on the common and class B shares, in addition to the regular quarterly payments of $1.25, and Liggett and Myers ordered extras of like amount on its common and class B shares, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of $1.

Boosts Profits in 1930.

The tobacco industry, particularly cigaret manufacturing, has managed to increase its profits for 1930, despite widespread industrial depression. American Tobacco disclosed that preliminary figures indicate 1930 net of not less than $42,500,000, which compares with $30,182,700 in 1929. Liggett and Myers reported 1930 profit of $24,002,315, or $1,985,187 more than 1929 earnings.

Directors of the Wabash Railway company have deferred action on the quarterly dividend of $1.25 on the preferred "A" stock and the dividend on the preferred "B" stock for 1930. In 1926, 1927, 1928, and 1929 payments of $5 each were made on the "B" preferred.

William H. Williams, chairman of the board, said that in view of prevailing conditions and of the results of last year's and current operations "the Wabash has reserved its position as to dividend action without concluding this matter, should the present hope of improvement be realized." He said the management felt it prudent and conservative to defer dividend action.

Directors of the Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies Steamship lines have taken no action on the common dividend, ordinarily due at this time. Three payments of $1 each quarterly have been made on this issue during the last nine months, although the stock was not placed on a regular dividend basis.

Declare Back Dividends.

Directors of Worthington Pump and Machinery company have declared back dividends of $1.75 on the class "A" preferred and $1.50 on the class "B" preferred stocks, clearing up final accumulations on these issues. The regular dividends on those issues also were declared. W. Averill Harriman, of Brown Bros., Harriman & Co., was elected a director.

Jones & Laughlin Steel company directors have declared a quarterly dividend of $1 on the common stock, placing the issue on a $4 annual basis, against $5 previously paid. Directors of Lima Locomotive works have declared a special dividend of $2, payable Feb. 17 to stock of record Feb. 7. A statement said the declaration was not to be construed as a resumption of a dividend basis.

Colorado Fuel and Iron company directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the common stock. The company said payment would be made out of surplus.

Directors of the International Silver company voted to omit the dividend on common stock due at this time. President C. R. Gardiner, in a statement, said the financial status of the corporation would permit a dividend, but due to a net loss in business during the year 1930 and uncertainty as to the future the directors believed it best to omit the usual payment.

DROP OF $169,837,364 IN INCOME TAXES FOR LAST YEAR IS SHOWN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—(AP)—A decrease of $169,837,364 in income taxes collected during the calendar year 1930 was shown today in statistics issued by the internal revenue bureau.

The total was $2,332,968,393, compared with $2,502,805,757 in 1929.

Corporation taxes decreased approximately $22,000,000 to $1,242,595,-782 in 1930 from $1,264,673,434 in 1929. Individual income taxes amounted to $1,090,372,611 in 1930 and $1,238,132,-324 in 1929.

New York state, which led in income tax payments, reported a total of $791,277,321 in 1930 as compared with $852,422,267 the previous year. Pennsylvania was second with $215,329,754 as compared with $214,275,811 in 1929. Illinois was third with $214,639,909 as compared with $236,956,918.

The collection by states in 1930 were:

National Broadcasting Co. 1930 Gross Is $22,000,000

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Gross revenues of the National Broadcasting company totaled $22,000,000 in 1930, M. H. Aylesworth, president, advised the advisory council in his annual report today. The sum represented an increase of $7,000,000 over 1929, when Mr. Aylesworth reported $15,000,000 as the figures for that year.

SHENANDOAH CORP. REPORTS ASSET VALUES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 28.—The annual report of the Shenandoah corporation and its subsidiary, the Blue Ridge corporation, for 1930, issued today, shows that the net asset value of Shenandoah preference stock, after giving effect to retirement during the year, was $80.06 a share, as compared with $115.60 at the end of 1929.

The net asset value of Blue Ridge preference stock on Dec. 31, after giving effect to retirement of part of this issue, was $92.93 a share, as compared with $111.36 at the end of 1929. The net assets of the Shenandoah corporation at the end of the year totaled $52,220,696, and those of Blue Ridge totaled $83,838,911. The decline in the combined assets of the two companies for the year amounted to 28.5 per cent.

The consolidated statement of the Shenandoah corporation's net cash income for the year, including its proportion in the undistributed net cash income of Blue Ridge, in which it owns a substantial majority of the outstanding common stock, after provision for dividends on Blue Ridge preference stock and minority interest applicable to its common stock, totaled $2,440,441. This does not include stock dividends valued at $3,067,028, at Dec. 31 market prices, received by the two companies and applied to a reduction of the book value of their investments, nor does it include net losses realized on sale of securities, which were charged to capital surplus.

Second Mortgage Bonds for Board of Trade Bldg.

Notice has been sent out to Board of Trade members that the directors have decided that payments to the new building fund will cease after the payments for January [1931] have been made. The announcement says this action was taken, based upon the belief that the money already paid into this fund will complete the financing of the new building, and the directors believe it will not be necessary to reinstate collections. The second mortgage bonds which will be exchanged for the new building fund certificates are now in process of preparation, and a date for the exchange of the certificates for the bonds will be made known as soon as possible.

BANKS SELL U. S. ISSUES IN ANTICIPATING VETS' BONUS; PRICES TUMBLE

New York, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Prices of United States government securities dropped sharply on the stock exchange today as banks, apprehensive over the possibility of a $3,400,000,000 bond issue to finance redemption of veterans' insurance certificates, now being considered by congress, turned to the selling side of the market.

Both Liberty bonds and long term treasury issues suffered in the decline, with the day's losses ranging from ¼ of a point to ½. Treasury issues dropped the farthest. Treasury 3¾s of 1943-47 reacted 17-32ds and treasury 4¼s declined ½ a point. The decline in Liberties was the sharpest of the week, averaging 10-32ds of a point.

The weakness of the government list and the reaction in the share market had an unsettling effect on corporate domestic investments.

Second grade rails suffered the most, with losses of a point or more scattered throughout the list, but even the prime rail bonds were depressed. The reaction in most utility issues was limited to small fractions and was partially offset by gains in some of the seasoned obligations. Convertibles reacted with stocks. Foreign loans were irregularly higher.

Spending of Public Money for Relief Not a Sure Cure

BY SCRUTATOR.

The theory that distress due to depressed business conditions can be alleviated on a large scale through expenditure of public tax money remains unproved; this in spite of the fact that the tendency to relieve unemployment in this manner is practically world-wide.

For example, the following quotation from the department of commerce:

"One hundred and ten nations and political subdivisions of the world will spend at least three billion dollars on roads and road construction during 1931. Worldwide investigations disclose that in the majority of the countries road building has been stimulated as a measure of unemployment relief. As a consequence, world highway budgets were higher in 1930 than in 1929 and are expected, in 1931, to be larger than ever before."

Basis for Dispute.

It is probable that the world needs all these roads. The quarrel is not over the justification of them as public utilities. It is with the concept that it is a proper function of government to make employment, and with the correlative ideas—does such a program go far enough in relieving distress and is it not possible that in gathering taxes for its own work the government is retarding private employment to a degree that makes for a net loss in employing of labor?

This program is nothing new in the history of the world. The department of commerce avers that recent findings in India and other parts of Asia have demonstrated that ancient roads were built by sovereigns seeking to relieve a lack of work for their subjects, and on such solid bases that many are in use after the lapse of much time.

The mere fact that the pyramids of Egypt could be built at all argues for the existence of surplus labor there. Without that how could many years of work running into the millions be spared for the rearing of such gigantic monuments? Even if the workers were slaves under the lash they had to be maintained with food at least, and the food had to be taken from those working at their private business.

In general the public works theory has been that there should be a reserve fund to be released when business conditions are at a low ebb. A man in 1930, looking backward, would have had to admit that no year between 1922 and 1929 showed justification for extraordinary spending by governments. Yet the discovery of the painless gasoline tax encouraged the building of roads and they were put in at a rate toward the end of the period that was just about as rapid as in 1930.

Obviously it would have been foolish to wait for a depression to start building roads. Perhaps it can be fairly assumed that those put in were about in fair relationship to the need for them and the ability to pay for them. This relationship is disturbed when the expenditure is made to make work. Income tax rates are to be raised and property taxes held at a high level to pay for the improvements.

Taxes Must Pay Bills.

That might be worth while if unemployment actually is relieved on a large scale. The inroads made have been at best small. Ronald Davison, an English authority, estimates that never between 1920 and 1929, despite large efforts in that direction, did state aided work in his country employ more than 130,000 persons directly, while the unemployed numbered from one to two million. We may doubt whether American experiences in the past year has made much more of a percentage showing.

Taxes must be high to pay the bills. Employment will be satisfactory only when private business gets well and starts employing. Taxation could, it is conceivable, delay that recovery sufficiently to make any more unemployment relief work by government unwise.

MORROW MAY HEAD BOARD OF WARD BAKING CO.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Election of George K. Morrow, chairman of the board of the Gold Dust corporation, to the same post in the Ward Baking corporation was expected as a result of the ousting early today of the present management, including 10 of the 12 directors, of the latter concern.

The action was the climax of a fight in progress nearly a year. It came at the end of two days of counting proxies to determine whether a special stockholders' meeting, which opened Monday, was legally called and whether a quorum was present.

Ralph S. Kent, the president, and W. C. Evans, chairman of the board, were removed by the vote, which followed a report by tellers that 485,340 of the approximately 864,000 outstanding shares of voting stock were represented at the meeting.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 28.—An overdose of unfavorable news sent the stock market reeling to substantially lower levels today. The poor fourth quarter earnings statement of the United States Steel corporation, an increase in crude oil production, lower freight car loadings, a decrease in electric power output, less than seasonal expansion in the steel industry, and the elimination of some important dividends, including the ones on Wabash Railway preferred A and B stock—these were the chief elements.

Also the threat at Washington of a $3,400,000,000 government expense bill on the score of soldier bonus payments, which had the immediate effect of unsettling the bond market in addition to its implied warning of higher taxes, did not help market sentiment to any noticeable extent.

Close Off 1 to 4 Points.

Prices slanted downward from the start of trading and the close found values marked down from 1 to 4 points virtually throughout the list.

Tobacco stocks were a pleasing exception to the general reactionary tendency, the group developing special strength following the action of the Liggett & Myers board in voting an extra dividend of $1 a share in addition to the regular quarterly payment of a similar amount and a report that the directors of the American Tobacco company were prepared to take similar action at their meeting late in the afternoon.

Tobacco is among the few industries which have invariably been found to be depression proof, it might be said.

Go to your banker or investment dealer. Ask him about this investment. He is your best adviser.

Your investment in Standard American Trust Shares is an interest in a "package" of 25 high-grade common stocks

YOU may never have purchased a share of stock before. Yet here is a plan which makes investment in high-grade common stocks a simple matter.

Under the Standard American Trust Shares plan, 25 of the finest stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange are placed in trust. These stocks represent many industries. The companies are leaders. Combined, their resources total 20 billion dollars.

Any investor may purchase an interest in this trust. Think how much better such an investment is than attempting to purchase stocks by yourself.

First, you can invest in small amounts—from $100 up. Second, even the $100 investment is safeguarded by being spread over so many stocks. Diversification, as experienced investors know, is the secret of profitable investment.

All details of buying and caring for the stocks, of handling rights, etc., are given expert care under the Standard American plan. Income is disbursed twice yearly, May 1 and November 1.

Standard American Trust Shares are readily marketable at all times. The price is based on market quotations for the underlying stocks that day. In addition, the holder of 500 trust shares may obtain the underlying stocks on presentation of his certificate to the Trustee.

This plan appeals to the large as well as to the small investor. Several investors have recently purchased in excess of $100,000 each of Standard American Trust Shares.

The distribution of these shares is sponsored by Lawrence Stern and Company and The National Republic Company, investment affiliate of The National Bank of the Republic of Chicago. The trustee is The Chicago Trust Company.

PRICES OF CORN RECEDE TO NEW LOW OF SEASON

May Hits 64⅛c, Lowest Since November, 1922.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Scattered liquidation came in corn futures yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, with all deliveries selling at new lows for the season, May touching 64⅛c, the lowest since November, 1922, when it was down to 61¼c. It showed 2⅞c under the high on Tuesday and 3⅜c under the best figure made during the August bulge.

A decidedly weakened technical position incident to the short covering of the previous day was apparent when the corn market started to decline. Liquidation by small holders was persistent and, while there was buying against bids, this was offset by stop loss selling. The close was within a fraction of the bottom, with net losses of 2⅛@2⅝c, March being 62⅛@62⅝c; May, 64⅛@64¼c; July, 65@65⅛c, and September, 64⅝@64¾c.

An outstanding feature of the trade in corn was that there was no concentrated selling throughout the day. The grain seemed to come in from all quarters and found support lacking. Operators who have been predicting a price of around 60c per bu felt confident of their position during the day. There was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the sharp break in prices, but for some time corn is regarded as having been selling well above a parity with other feeding grains, and also with Argentina when the futures are quoted around 82c per bu, with a record new crop in prospect.

Minneapolis Corn to Chicago.

While country offerings of cash corn were reported as small, there was $1,000 bu booked to arrive from other terminal markets, including 50,000 bu said to have been secured at Minneapolis. Reports from Iowa indicated that the movement from that state would not be heavy in the immediate future, but might increase later in the season. Torrential rains in Argentina in the last four weeks, with the precipitation about 360 per cent as compared with normal, is reported as delaying the maturity of the new crop. Buenos Aires finished ¼c higher to ¼c lower, with February and March quoted at 28⅝c.

Weakness in corn was the main factor in carrying July wheat off 1½c from the previous finish. While the government weekly weather crop report indicated that the dry weather over the winter wheat belt had become more serious, the support was only fair and the finish showed a net loss of 1¼c at 65⅛@65¼c. Old crop months were ¼c lower, with March, 79¼@79⅝c, and May, 81⅝c.

Talk of a liberal export demand for Manitoba grain had little effect, although the Winnipeg market was only ⅛@¼c lower for the day. Buenos Aires lost ⅝@⅝c, while Liverpool was off ⅝@⅞c. During the day the March delivery in the latter market sold down to 59⅝c, the lowest at which any future has been this season.

Rye at New Low Level.

Oats weakened in sympathy with corn on selling by cash and commission houses. It closed with net losses of ⅝@¾c. March was 31⅝@31⅞c; May, 32⅛c, and July, 31½c at the last. Minneapolis reported some oats sold for shipment to industries on Tuesday.

Rye sold at a new low on the crop as the result of spreading operations, with the May dropping to 38⅜c. It closed only ⅛c above that figure, while March was 37¾c, and July, 39⅝c. Net losses for the day were 1¼@1¾c.

BREAK IN LARD, BELLIES

Fair liquidating and hedging pressure on lard and bellies for future delivery was induced largely by the weakness in hogs and grains. Buying support was moderate and lard futures closed 5@10c lower on the nearby and 2½@7½c off in distant futures. Bellies were 15@22½c lower on the nearby and 7½c off on the July as compared with Tuesday. Cash bellies were easier. Hog supplies were ample and they are weighing more than at any time this season, which suggests an increased production of lard. Liverpool lard was 3@6d lower, except on March, which advanced 3d. Export clearances of lard were 296,250 lbs and of bacon 16,000 lbs. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The wheat markets are in a rut. Fluctuations for nearly a month have been within less than a 5c range on leading exchanges. Traders are constantly on the watch for evidence of the farm board selling wheat, but they get no direct evidence as regards old crop deliveries, while those who are selling the July have found that their wheat apparently go into the hands of operators who hold it a few days and unload on bulges of a few cents. Corn stocks are light, the crop the smallest since 1901 and prices are down to the lowest since 1922, when cash corn in Chicago sold at 46c in January.

Referring to the exports of wheat and flour from the United States 1930 to Jan. 17, 1931, which aggregated 87,564,000 bu, and importations of 12,000,000 bu, or net exports 75,000,000 bu, as compared with a net of 92,000,000 bu in 1929, the Uhlmann Grain company says, "Assuming that everything would be the same as last year we would increase our stock of wheat this year 90,000,000 bu, which, of course, will be largely offset by the extra amount of feeding, the quantity of which is everybody's guess, but increased by the lesser exports from now on."

BUSINESS PERSONALS

Seven new members were elected to the Chicago Stock exchange by the governing committee yesterday. The new members are: George Benz, St. Paul; L. J. Stephen Brody, Buffalo; Howard M. Ernst, and Henry G. Isaacs, both of New York, and Edward M. Burke, Jake Marks, and Frank J. Saibert of Chicago.

Kenneth Maynard has become associated with Furlaud, Reuter & Co., Inc., of New York, and will make his headquarters in Chicago.

Harry W. Solomon has been elected president of the Transcontinental Hotels, Inc., a combine formed to operate a string of hotel properties throughout the United States. The corporation will direct in Chicago the Belmont, the Sovereign, and the Southmoor hotels.

L. B. Mead, formerly assistant industrial manager of the northwestern district of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, with headquarters in Chicago, has been made industrial manager of the district.

George W. Vaught was elected assistant treasurer of Montgomery Ward & Co. at yesterday's meeting of directors.

The Bond Traders' club of Chicago will hold its annual banquet today at the Hamilton club. Emil P. Schmidt of the Bankers' company of New York has been nominated for president; W. T. Kitchen of Hickey, Doyle & Co., vice president; Gerald F. Barron of Albert E. Peirce & Co., treasurer, and Louis Stirling of Winthrop, Mitchell & Co., secretary.

L. Lewis Cohens, president Equipment Specialties company, has been chosen a member of the board of directors of the Merchandise Bank and Trust company.

COTTON UP EARLY; OFF LATE

Lower prices followed an early advance in the cotton market, with the close around the bottom with net losses of 86@13 points in Chicago futures and 76@12 points in other markets. Spots were 10 points lower. New York being 10.40c; New Orleans, 10.05c; Galveston, 10.10c, and Houston, 10.05c. Liverpool closed 1@2 points lower with spot sales 3,000 bales. October contracts were apparently the strongest on the list, having good support. A recession in prices toward the last was due to profit taking, giving mills and other interests an opportunity to pick up considerable cotton. A Japanese cable received by the New York Cotton exchange was bearish, indicating curtailment in manufacturing in April. More activity was reported in the print cloth market. Cables from England indicate a movement on the part of the government to readjust labor trouble. Prices follow:

MERCANTILE EXCHANGE

January refrigerator egg futures broke for the third successive day to a new low level on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, the day with a net gain of 5c. Butter was firm and ½@¾c higher. Potatoes were unsettled, gaining early, dropping off and recovered to close unchanged. There was no encouraging news in regard to stimulate the advance, but the fact that the delivery ends Friday brought in short covering and the resultant closing bulge. Butter news was slightly better and belief that continued dry weather would curtail production also encouraged some buying. Potato news was slightly bearish if anything. Sales: Butter, 63 cars; eggs, 38 cars; potatoes, 22 cars. Receipts: Butter, 4,680 tubs; eggs, 6,311 cases; potatoes, 112 cars. Deliveries: Butter, 1 car; eggs, 1 car. Prices follow:

KNOWS OF NO AUBURN POOL, CORD ASSERTS

Regulator Company Will Acquire Time-O-Stat.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The recent whisperings about pool operations in Auburn stock brought a statement from President E. L. Cord yesterday in which he said that as far as he knew there was no group operating in the company's stock.

"There has been no supporting group in this stock to my knowledge since last July," Mr. Cord said. "The activity in the acquision of the stock, to my mind, is the result of what our company has been doing in the way of production."

The increase in production and the attention attracted by the new lines has stimulated interest in the company's stock, Mr. Cord believes. These circumstances probably attracted the attention of many and brokers probably got caught short of stock just as people got interested, he said.

Active in New York.

Reports that the New York Stock exchange had started an inquiry into an alleged corner in Auburn stock was denied in New York. There has been little activity in the stock on the Chicago exchange in recent weeks, although it has spurted ahead on the big board. An odd lot sale was made here yesterday at 132 which was 34¾ above the previous Chicago sale several weeks ago. The small amount of the stock outstanding in the hands of brokers makes the issue a spectacular performer. Recently the price was as low as 61. Only 184,492 shares of the stock are outstanding.

Reports that the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company will acquire the Time-O-Stat Controls company were confirmed last night. Shares of the latter company were among the few which made headway in the declining Chicago market yesterday. The issue moved up to 24¾ on the strength of the merger reports.

Minneapolis-Honeywell will acquire the business and assets of the company in exchange for approximately 15,000 shares of its preferred stock and 18,467 shares of its common stock. The deal is subject to the approval of Time-O-Stat stockholders. Under the plan of acquisition one share of $30 par value will be exchanged for each share of Time-O-Stat class A stock and one-third of a share of common will be given for each share of Time-O-Stat common.

Will Meet Feb. 17.

Stockholders of Minneapolis-Honeywell will meet Feb. 17 to authorize the issuance of stock necessary to complete the deal.

There was a liberal supply of moderate losses represented by the Chicago market's closing price list. Conspicuous among the losers was Insull Utility which finished over 2 points under its previous closing quotation.

Announcement will be made soon of a new product to be put on the market next fall by the Bendix Aviation corporation, according to President Vincent Bendix. The company has closed a contract for furnishing carburetors for Oldsmobile cars, he said.

FIDELITY-PHILADELPHIA TRUST COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA, TRUSTEE

These Bonds, upon completion of this financiing, will qualify as legal investments for savings banks in the State of New York.

Mr. John E. Zimmerman, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Company, has summarized as follows his letter to us describing these Bonds:

BUSINESS AND TERRITORY

Philadelphia Electric Company, incorporated in Pennsylvania October 31, 1929, was formed by merger and consolidation of The Philadelphia Electric Company, Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas and Electric Company and several smaller companies. The Company does the entire central station electric light and power business in Philadelphia, the third largest city in the United States, and the central station electric and gas business in subsantially all of southeastern Pennsylvania adjacent to Philadelphia. The total population served is estimated at over 2,600,000. The territory served embraces an area of about 1,307 square miles.

PROPERTIES

The electric properties of Philadelphia Electric Company include electric generating stations with an aggregate rated capacity of 661,300 kw., gas plants with a rated daily generating capacity of 32,450,000 cubic feet, over 1765 miles of gas mains and over 34,500 circuit miles of electric transmission lines.. The Company's subsidiaries include Philadelphia Electric Power Company with a 252,000 kw. hydro-electric generating station at Conowingo, Maryland, Susquehanna Utilities Company, Philadelphia Hydro-Electric Company and Wayne Steam Heating Company. The properties of the Company and its subsidiaries are operated as a single interconnected system. The Company's electric properties are interconnected with the electric systems of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, Pennsylvania Power and Light Company and Delaware Electric Power Company.

SECURITY

These Bonds are to be issued under the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas and Electric Company First and Refunding Mortgage by Philadelphia Electric Company, which will asume that Mortgage. Upon completion of the present financing there will be outstanding under the Mortgage a total of $59,411,500 Bonds, comprising these $40,000,000 Bonds and $19,411,500 Philadelphia Suburban-Counties Gas and Electric Company First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, 4½% Series due 1957.

These Bonds, upon completion of this financing, will be secured by a First Mortgage on physical property of Philadelphia Electric Company formerly owned by Philadelphia Suburban-Counties Gas and Electric Company, subject on certain parts thereof to underlying divisional liens aggregating $1,755,000, and valued, as estimated by Day & Zimmermann, Inc., as of December 31, 1929, at substantially in excess of the principal amount of Bonds to be presently outstanding under this Mortgage.

Said Mortgage will also be a lien on the balance of Philadelphia Electric Company's physical properties, subject, upon completion of this financing, to $69,645,700 Underlying Bonds (exclusive of Sinking Fund Bonds and Bonds pledged as collateral for such Underlying Bonds).

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of these Bonds will be used in part for the redemption at the next respective redemption dates of $29,959,000 principal amount of Underlying Bonds, and to reimburse the Company in part for property acquisitions and additions and improvements.

SUPERVISION

The Company operates under the supervision of the United Gas Improvement Company, which has had more than 48 years' experience in supervising the operation and management of public utility properties.

SCIENCE CHURCH BUYS SITE FOR A NEW EDIFICE

Purchases Parcel at 4123 North Kedvale.

BY AL CHASE.

Purchase of a site for a new church edifice by Nineteenth Church of Christ, Scientist, was disclosed yesterday at the county recorder's office. The 100x173 parcel at 4123 North Kedvale avenue, which is 150 feet north of Belle Plaine avenue, was bought from Gustave Reinoehl for an undisclosed consideration, subject to an incumbrance of $5,000.

No architect has yet been engaged, but the church contemplates erecting an edifice seating in the neighborhood of 800 either during the latter part of this year or the early months of 1932. It probably will follow the general architectural lines of the other Christian Science churches in Chicago.

Organized in 1930.

Nineteenth church was organized in October, 1930, and holds services in Myrtle Masonic hall, at Irving Park boulevard and Tripp avenue. Chicago now has 21 Christian Science churches.

All but Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, and Twenty-first have church edifices.

J. Calvin Brown, introduced as "an economist," was the speaker at a luncheon of the Chicago Real Estate board. Mr. Brown discussed the real estate mortgage situation and offered as a remedy an open trust.

More Explanations.

Although THE TRIBUNE in its recent story about a new department store announced for Chicago and Racine avenues never even hinted in any way that Goldblatt Bros. had anything to do with it, we are informed by Maurice Goldblatt, president and chairman of the board of directors of Goldblatt Bros., that persons have assumed that to be the case. Although we fail to see why THE TRIBUNE is at all to blame for the public's assumption, we are glad to print this comment by Mr. Goldblatt: "Goldblatt Bros., Inc., is in no way connected with or has no financial interest in this new department store project."

As already stated in yesterday's TRIBUNE, but which we repeat at Mr. Goldblatt's request, K. Handlesman is manager of the Goldblatt store at Chicago and Ashland avenues and is not a vice president. Nathan Goldblatt is vice president of Goldblatt Bros.

WOOL.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to 8,182 bales. The small supply met with keen competition and practically all were sold at firmer prices. Home dealers were the chief buyers.

Top yesterday, $9.50; average, $8.65.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 5,000 cattle, 44,000 hogs and 13,000 sheep.

The general average price of hogs on yesterday's session sank to a new low of $7.45, which goes back to July, 1924, for a lower mark. Extreme top light weight hogs at $8.10 are still 10c above the low spot seven weeks ago.

Fresh receipts yesterday were only moderate for Wednesday at 28,000, but were augmented by Tuesday's holdover of 8,500. The narrow outlet for fresh pork at all points made smaller houses cautious buyers at the full decline. Unevenness ranged from steady to 25c lower, light weights selling to the poorest advantage in the absence of eastern support.

Armour, Swift, and Wilson handled a combined total of nearly 15,000, leaving 6,000 at the close. Five western markets expect 86,000 today, against 92,100 last Thursday.

Hog Futures Slow.

Little change was noted in the market for hog futures yesterday. Trading was extremely slow, with bids and offers in line with Tuesday. March and April light weights were bid $8.75 and offered at $9.25, while March mediums were offered at $8.65 and bid $8.25.

Heavy grades for March were offered at $7.80. On the "to arrive" market light weights for today and Friday carried bids of $8.00, but the lowest offer was $8.10.

In spite of the fact that cattle receipts are running far below normal for this time of the year, available supplies exceeded trade requirements yesterday and all of the gain scored on starvation receipts earlier in the week was lost. However, there was a better tone near the close when only 5,000 were posted for today.

Only occasional loads of steers were good enough to bring more than $10.50 yesterday, although one shipment of yearlings topped the list at $13.25, only 25c under the highest point since Jan. 8. Butcher stock ruled weak to 25c lower. Calves slumped 50c to $1.000. Stockers and feeders were scarce and steady.

Lambs Bring $9.50.

Tuesday's slight losses in top lambs were fully recovered yesterday when supplies fell short at all points. The top reached $9.50 again, equaling the high mark of the season, while packers bought choice handy weights around $9.35@9.40. Aged sheep and yearlings were firm.

Feeding and shearing lambs ruled stronger, some 62 lb shearing stock selling at $8.25, with best handy weights quoted at $8.50. Sheep receipts at the 20 leading markets dropped to 85,000 yesterday, showing a decrease of 18,000 head, or almost 25 per cent compared with the previous Wednesday's receipts.

PRODUCE MARKETS

There was no material change in the price of fresh eggs and butter. Quotations on hens declined 1c with springs 1c higher. Receipts by freight 7 cars. Potatoes easier with a moderate demand. Receipts, 112 cars with 258 cars on team track.
